The School Battalion During the War
(An illustration from the S.P.S. War Memorial Book)
Dear Alumni:

Always I like to write to you on some School especial day,—and what day can be more bound up with happy memories than Cricket Holiday! This is Cricket Holiday. For some time boys have been scanning the skies with solicitude; and as, after a period of rain, everything looked propitious this morning, I felt justified at Chapel in reading Dr. DeKoven’s prayer concerning the boys playing in the streets of Jerusalem. It is noticeable that this prayer seems to be a great favorite in the School.

Various parties of Sixth Formers and others got permission to take all-day excursions. No better day could be imagined,—brilliant and yet warm. When the new boys assembled on the Rectory lawn after morning foot-ball to go on our new-boy picnic, and I found that there were ninety-seven all standing in a row, I doubted if Mr. Rexford and Mr. Richards and I could ever cook enough to satisfy them. It is no light job adequately to feed a hundred on a crisp autumnal picnic!

There are certain things new boys should see. We first walked through the woods and stopped for a moment at the School cemetery where I pointed out Dr. Coit’s cross and told them about the other honored stones. From there we passed the pest house which, of course, I always describe as the “Infirmary Annex”, adding that I hoped they would never be in it unless to attend an alumni reunion. We stopped again in that beautiful pine wood which Dr. Ferguson cared so much for, and which we love to call the Ferguson Woods. And so on up to the top of Jerry where many climbed the look-out to get a distant prospect of the School.

It was a delight to tell some boys how George Sheldon had given the summit of the hill, how Charles Dickey had given the look-out, and how Mr. Flint had surveyed the land.

By twelve-forty-five we had dropped to the little headland on the Shattuck side of Long Pond where our annual picnic is held. A group of ladies and the Vice Rector met us there. Mr. Foster dispensed the supplies, and guarded them too! Soon bacon was sizzling in the pans and all the boys in three groups were feeding the fires and awaiting that delectable dish—bacon and potatoes and eggs. Earnest young Halcyons looked loyally across at their club house, but brought themselves to eat a square meal on the Shattuck side. After the ladies had spread innumerable slices of bread plentifully with jam, and marshmallows had been toasted, and the paper plates all burned up, and the fires put out, and one or two boys had nearly fallen into the pond, and all had rested lethargically for a bit in the mellow sunshine, together we walked back another way, stopping to gather a few chestnuts from the fast-decaying trees.

A happy day. A simple and kindly day. By eight o'clock, according to our attendance system, every one should be accounted for, and not long after that every one of the big family will be ready to go to bed. In a way, Cricket Holiday marks the fact that the new year is really begun. That we are all beginning it hopefully and wholesomely together seems to be the case. Many of you, perhaps confined to cities, would like to hear the rustle of Autumn leaves beneath your feet, and see the glistening ponds, and even attend a picnic on the shores of that lake of many a rowing contest and memory. But the next best thing will be to know that the good old life here goes freshly on, and that youth as ever hopeth all things.

Faithfully your friend,

Samuel S. Drury.

THE CONFERENCE AT ST. PAUL’S

Nearly Four Hundred Boys Gather at St. Paul’s. Bishop Brent and Other Leaders Speak. Success Exceeds Expectations.

The Conference on the Ministry which was held at the School last June was a noteworthy event, and one in which all the alumni will take particular interest.

It is the first organized effort on the part of church schools to lay before the boys of the country the Church’s need for men, and the service which men in the ministry can render to their country, to their fellowmen and to their God.

By the courtesy of “The Churchman,” we publish below extracts from the article by its editor, The Rev. Dr. William Austin Smith:

By the time that the 380 boys who had come to Concord from nineteen different states of the Union had finished the first stanza of the hymn, “Come, Thou Almighty King,” at the opening service of the conference Monday night, in the beautiful Chapel of St. Peter and St. Paul, those who had planned the conference, prayed over it and worked at times with anxious fears, were certain that the venture of faith would not fail. . . . From the hour of registration till the special train pulled out of Concord Saturday at 6.30 A. M., carrying the members home, there was not a moment when the conference dragged or the leaders wavered as to what ought to be done next or whether it would be expedient to carry out what had been placed upon the schedule.

It takes more than “vision” to make such a conference go. There are twenty-four hours in every day to be filled in. To feed, amuse, teach, inspire and to keep out of mischief nearly four hundred boys for four days and five nights is a task that requires organization. The organization had begun to function weeks before the conference met. I venture to say that none of us had ever attended a gathering of that size where the machinery made less noise. . . . A St. Paul’s boy, now in college, paid the entire expenses. It was a handsome sum.
Where They Came From

The first boy arrived at the school Friday before the conference opened. He had come 270 miles. It cost him fifteen cents traveling expenses. He had expected to get free rides along the road, but he got more rides than he had expected, so that the journey for which he had provided a week brought him to the conference three days before it opened. Two boys walked from Ayer, Massachusetts. Dr. W. G. Pendleton, of the Virginia Episcopal School, Lynchburg, brought seventeen boys, gathered from Maryland, Washington, Virginia, West Virginia, Alabama and North Carolina. Virginia and Massachusetts were strong at the conference. Massachusetts sent seventy-eight and Virginia twelve, but twelve Virginians can't be hid under a bushel... Ninety boys came from the State of New York. Pennsylvania sent 45, Connecticut 34, Rhode Island 31, New Jersey 26, Maine 15, Maryland 12, New Hampshire 11, Delaware 7, Vermont 6, Ohio 4, North Carolina 4, West Virginia 3, Alabama 1, Michigan 1, Missouri 1, Washington, D. C., 1; a total of 382. And nearly a hundred and fifty boys were refused admission... Among the 382 boys present, as one saw them file into chapel or into the dining hall, one could find few whom one would wish to discourage going into the ministry. They were fine, upstanding American boys, with good physique and intelligent faces. I shall come to their athletic prowess later.

The Program

The machinery of the conference might have worked with perfection, Dr. Drury and his committee might have secured the boys they wanted and have liberally provided for their physical comfort and their happiness and yet the conference might have failed. There was one object in getting those 382 boys to come to Concord. That object was to present to a picked body of American Church boys the ministry as a vocation which they ought to consider. The committee might have failed in a number of ways. The program was the test of their preparedness and their wisdom. How ought the ministry to be presented to these boys? That "how" involved deeper consideration than what should be said.... The group leaders were more important than the speakers. For the thirty group leaders had charge of from ten to twelve boys each. They taught them for an hour every day. They had long or short personal interviews with them. They studied them, got their confidence, they procured knowledge of their home environment, their background, the obstacles in the way of their entering the ministry and the encouragements for their doing so. The group leaders were the backbone of the conference. They were picked men. Most of them were young. Some of them had, as yet, little pastoral experience. Some of them were still in the theological school. Only a few of them wore "clericals." None of them wore his clerical face. They were the best ever. I stayed in the dormitory with these men. If I had known that type when I was considering the ministry as a vocation I should have had a happier time making my decision.... At 9.30 every evening these group leaders met in the common-room to discuss problems, talk over the lesson for the next day and to take counsel together.... But Dr. Drury, who kept in the background and let his leaders have free rein, was, I think, satisfied with the outcome. There was good fellowship, humor, zeal and common sense and unaffected sincerity. . . . Here is the list of group leaders:

The Speakers

Dr. Drury said the first word of welcome. Dr. Miel made the introductory address Tuesday morning on "The Minister and Personality." In the afternoon Bishop Wise, of Kansas, began his series of four addresses. Tuesday evening Father Sill spoke on "The Priesthood." Bishop Brent, who stayed throughout the conference, made three addresses. Bishop Johnson, of Missouri, closed the conference with an address on "Ministering and the Compensations of Ministering." Dr. W. C. Sturgis talked to the boys on the "Call to the Far East." None of the speakers attempted to make an emotional appeal. No one was asked to "sign up." . . . . It was a fine thing to have had such men as Bishop Johnson, Bishop Wise and Bishop Brent to mingle with these boys and speak to them. The speakers made each his own contribution. The total message had balance and proportion. . . . It was a great moment when the beautiful chapel was filled to overflowing at the Corporate Communion. Dr. Drury was the celebrant. Corporate Communions are not always impressive. Need I say how much that Communion meant to all of us? . . . .

The Lighter Side

One boy—he was in his bathing suit—told me, and I didn’t ask for testimony, that he had at the conference the happiest four days of his life. No wonder! There was placed at the disposal of these boys, some of them coming from rather stern surroundings, all the equipment which provides for the playtime of the boys at St. Paul’s School. There was tennis and golf, canoeing and swimming, baseball and hikes. There were twelve baseball teams, playing an elimination tournament. The day I left they were preparing for the final game between the All-Stars and the Parsons. L. F. Whetstone, a master at St. Paul’s and baseball and football coach, organized the athletics. The Rev. W. T. Hopper, of Hartford, was in charge of hospitality, assisted by Roger Eastman, an undergraduate in Trinity. Mr. J. V. Merrick, of St. Paul’s, acted as registrar and he deserves a vote of thanks. Twenty-one St. Paul’s boys attended the Conference, acted as guides, and helped to make things run smoothly.

Mrs. Drury, assisted by some of the wives of the members of the faculty, were in charge of the social hour—that meant tea, cookies and conversation. There were no lonely moments and no spiritual tension. It was all beautifully normal and wholesome.
The Results

Leaders of the conference avoided asking the question: "Are you going to enter the ministry?" I was only a reporter, so I could put the question. Boy after boy told me that the conference had clinched the decision. These boys have many years ahead of them before the decision will really be clinched. But the St. Paul's Conference, whether ten or three hundred boys who came to Concord finally enter the ministry, has done the thing which it set out to do. It gathered together a group of representative boys from our parishes, to present to them the call of the ministry. Dr. Drury felt that the time had come when such a conference should be held. He and his assistants carried the plan through. I can not conceive how the purpose could have been finer and the methods employed more adequately fitted to achieve success. The conference has accomplished what it set out to do. Whether its results will be lasting now rests with the bishops and the rectors of our parishes, with the fathers and mothers of the boys, and finally with the will of God.

122 sons of alumni;
10 grandsons of alumni;
87 brothers of alumni.

REPORT OF THE ALUMNI FUND COMMITTEE 1921-1922

The Alumni Fund (to be subscribed annually) had its inception in the autumn of 1920 at the close of the Endowment Fund campaign.

The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association appointed J. M. Goetchius '90, F. B. Adams 96, R. Schley '99, T. W. Streeter '00, and J. H. Coit '81, a Committee to conduct the project.

The Committee organized as follows:

J. M. Goetchius, Chairman
R. Schley, Treasurer
J. H. Coit, Executive Secretary.

Early in 1921 fifty alumni were selected as Form Agents to invite subscriptions from the members of their respective Forms to the 1921-22 Alumni Fund.

Thirty Form Agents met the Rector, the Treasurer of the Corporation, the Alumni Fund Committee and some of the Trustees at dinner at the Metropolitan Club, New York, in April, 1921, with a view of learning from them of the School's needs and its financial condition.

The Alumni Association, by vote of the Executive Committee on October 28, 1920, abolished annual dues and modified the by-laws so that every alumnus of the School became a member of the Association without dues or initiation fee.

It was at the same meeting voted that all expenses of the Association should be met out of the Alumni Fund and that the balance should be presented to the School from time to time as occasion warranted and for such purpose as might be determined.

It was the intention of the Alumni Fund Committee that subscriptions should be solicited beginning in April of each year and that the fiscal year should end in December, but it was determined later that it would be wiser to close the fiscal year with the School year, that is, each year at Anniversary. Therefore, this first report embraces the collection period from May 1, 1921, to June 1, 1922, and the disbursement period from February 1, 1921, to October 1, 1922.

Contributions to the Alumni Fund from its beginning on May 1, 1921, to June 1, 1922, amounted to $38,651. Contributions were made by 1,030 Alumni of whom 144 contributed both in 1921 and 1922.

Subscriptions range from $1.00 to $1,000.00. It is the privilege of each alumnus to decide each year what he will subscribe, and it is hoped that an increasing number of alumni will feel, year by year, that it is a pleasure and a privilege to support the enterprise and back the Alumni Association in its efforts for the School.

The Committee feels that the subscription of such a large sum in the initial year is conclusive evidence of the loyal spirit of the St. Paul's alumnus and that it is a striking tribute to the confidence the alumni have in the administration of the School.

The thanks of the Alumni Fund Committee and the Alumni Association are hereby formally exp tended to the Form Agents for their splendid co-operation and success.

The Form of 1914, of which Joseph R. Busk is the Form Agent, had the largest percentage of subscribers—87 per cent.

The Form of 1885, of which Charles Wheeler is the Form Agent, took second place with 70 per cent., and was followed by the Form of 1884, of which Henry S. Wardner is the Form Agent, with 68 per cent.

The names of the subscribers, the total amount contributed by each Form, and the percentage of each Form subscribing, are printed on pages 10 to 23 of this issue.

From the total of $38,651 subscribed and collected, the expenses of the Association have been paid for twenty-one months. These expenses include:

1. Printing and distribution of the Alumni Horae free of charge to all alumni, non-alumni subscribers to the Endowment Fund, and all parents of boys at the School.

2. Collection of subscriptions for the Endowment Fund. (Total $1,608,000.)

4. Preparation and publication of the St. Paul's War Memorial Book, to be issued shortly.

5. Necessary printing and postage on all Association undertakings.

6. Salary and expenses of the Secretary's Office at the School.

7. Salary and expenses of the Executive Secretary's Office

Frederick B. Adams, '96
(Member of the Alumni Fund Committee)

at 15 Broad Street, New York.

These expenses were reported on in detail at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association at Anniversary, 1922.

After deducting these expenses, the net amount of the undistributed portion of the Fund, as of June 1, 1922, amounts to $16,780.34, the disposition of which has been deferred until after the Trustees Meeting of October 21st, 1922, when the School Treasurer's report was submitted setting forth the financial condition of the School as of August 31st, 1922, the close of its fiscal year.

At a meeting of the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association, held at New York, October 26th, 1922, upon recommendation by the Alumni Fund Committee the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, in view of the obvious fact that a gift to reduce the deficit in the operating accounts of the School will be automatically pro-rated among the School departments which have not been entirely self-sustaining, thereby fulfilling the intent of the subscribers to the Alumni Fund, be it
RESOLVED, by the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association of St. Paul's School in executive session, that the Treasurer of the Alumni Association be instructed to hand to the President for transmission a check to the order of the School in the amount of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) as a gift from the 1921-22 Alumni Fund of the Association to be applied to reduce the existing deficit of the School;
AND BE IT FURTHER
RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be forwarded by the President to the President of the Board of Trustees, Secretary of the Board of Trustees, Treasurer of the Board of Trustees, and to the Rector; and that it be included in the report of the 1921-22 Alumni Fund Committee which is to be published in the next issue of the ALUMNI HORAE.

It is planned to begin the next collection period early in 1923 and to end it at Anniversary of that year.

Signed:
John M. Goetchius, Chairman
Frederick B. Adams
Joseph H. Coit
Reeve Schley
Thomas W. Streeter.

William H. Foster
Beirne Lay

Committee on Nominations
Abbot Treadwell, Chairman
Martin J. Keogh, Jr.
Stuart D. Preston
Eben Stevens
Alexander Whiteside

Under miscellaneous business, the President reported on his recent visit to the School. The question of a banquet or a smoker, to be held in New York City, was discussed. The opinion of the members present was in favor of a smoker, and the matter was referred to the Executive Committee with power.
THE ST. PAUL'S SCHOOL WAR MEMORIAL BOOK

It is four years now since Armistice Day, and the War Memorial Book has not yet been published. And there has been no lack of effort to collect the necessary material. Numerous circulars requesting the service records of alumni have been sent out, but the service records have not all been received. Nearly one hundred have been received, carefully made out and sent to the office unsigned.

All alumni are urged to support and help this volume to a speedy publication by forwarding to the Executive Secretary their service records.

The plan of the book is as follows:

Introduction—The Rector;
The Hour of Dedication—Owen Wister;
Biographical sketches of the Alumni who lost their lives;
Service records of all alumni who served in the Army or Navy of the United States or its Allies;
Records of all alumni who served their country as civilians;
The illustrations will consist of the School Battalion and photographs of the alumni who gave their lives for their country.

PERSONAL MENTION

(It is a noteworthy fact that many of the Form Agents are men occupying important positions, who have cheerfully given their time and effort to serve St. Paul's and the Association.)

'58-'65—Francis H. Appleton (Form Agent), Major General (Retired) Mass. N. G., was a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1891-1892 and the Senate in 1902-1903; a member of the Massachusetts Board of Agriculture from 1891-1907; is President of the Perkins Institution and Massachusetts School for the Blind; a Trustee of the Peabody Museum, Salem, Mass. and is President of the Veteran's Association 1st Corps Cadets, Boston.

'66-'70—Edward T. Nichols (Form Agent) is Vice-President and Assistant Secretary of the Great Northern Railway; Fiscal Agent of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway Company; Director of the C. & S. Railway Company; President and Director of the Northern Securities Company, and a Director of the Chase National Bank, New York.

'71-'73—Richard D. A. Parrott (Form Agent), the father of rowing at St. Paul's and whose visit to the School a year ago many alumni will recall with pleasure, is not engaged in any active business.

'74—H. Fitz- John Porter (Form Agent) is Chairman of a Joint Committee of Engineering Societies on a National Engineering Museum in Washington in connection with the Smithsonian Institution.

'75—Frederick P. Garrettson (Form Agent) is a Director of the Newport Trust Company, Newport, R. I., one of the Local Managers of the Industrial Trust Company of Providence, R. I. and a member of the Newport City Council.

'76—William Fellowes Morgan (Form Agent) is Chairman of the Board of the Merchants' Refrig-erating Company; President of the Brooklyn Bridge Freezing and Storage Company and Director in a number of companies.

'77—William Strother Jones (Form Agent) is a member of the firm of Jones, Montgomery and Company, Board member; and Trustee of the Guaranty Fund of Stock Exchange; Chairman of the Polo Committee, Rumson Club; President of the Monmouth County Hunt Club and Warden of Trinity Church, Red Bank, N. J.

'78—R. Grier Monroe (Form Agent) is a member of the law firm of Macfarlane and Monroe, New York; Director of the Legal Aid Society; Member of the Executive Committee of the Legal Aid Society; Chairman of the Seamen's Branch Committee of the Legal Aid Society; A Vice-President of the Charity Organization Society and Director of the Queens County Water Company.

'79—F. Kingsbury Curtis (Form Agent) is a member of the law firm of Curtis, Mallet-Plevost and Colt, New York, and a trustee, director and officer of various corporations including railroad, steel, manufacturing and real estate.

'80—Lawson Purdy (Form Agent) is Secretary and Director of the Charity Organization, Inc.; President of the National Committee on City Planning; Trustee of the National Union League and Chairman of the Executive Committee of New York City Commission on Charities and Correction.

'80—William D. Chandler, who has been elected Postmaster at Concord, assumed the office on October 1. Mr. Chandler is a son of the late Senator William E. Chandler and was a business partner of Senator George H. Moses in the ownership of the Concord Monitor.

'81—Robert H. Clark (Form Agent) is engaged in the real estate and banking business in Cleveland, and is a member of the Chapter of Trinity Cathedral in that city.

'82—Charles H. Ludington (Form Agent) is Vice-President and Treasurer of the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia.

'83—Richard M. Hurd (Form Agent) is President of the Lawyers Mortgage Company and Vice-President of the Mortgage Bond Company of New York.
