CALENDAR

September 25th, 1930: Session of 1930-1931 begins.
NINETEEN-TEN RETURNS FOR ITS TWENTIETH

TWENTY years after! In years a long time, but refreshingly near at hand, so far as memories are concerned.

The special train with parents and Alumni left New York on Tuesday evening, June third, and reached Concord early on the morning of the fourth. Main Street just the same, and the old Eagle unchanged! On reaching the School, the Alumni scattered—the younger men finding quarters in the Gymnasium and the older graduates to the old Infirmary (now the “Twenty House”), the Pest House, and other familiar spots.

To many Alumni the morning was all too short to give them an opportunity of seeing the new buildings and to note the many changes throughout the grounds. Except to those who had been at Concord in recent years, this was their first glimpse of Ford, Simpson, Manville and Brewster, the new buildings housing boys of the Third and Fourth Forms and occupying the area between the Sluice, the old Upper and the old power house; the enlarged Chapel; the War Memorial; and the new power house, unobtrusively placed near the Sluice, adjacent to the Lower Grounds. The outstanding structural change is the demolition of the “School,” torn down during the summer of 1929, but the many new paths and foot bridges, and particularly the diversion of the Hopkinton and Dunbarton roads just east of the Alumni House (which results in closing off all through traffic from the School grounds) were changes of material interest.

At twelve-thirty the Alumni gathered for the Alumni Association meeting in the Community House, presided over by J. Frederic Byers, ’00, in the absence of the President, Bernon S. Prentice, ’01, who was abroad. The meeting was opened with prayer by the Reverend Prescott Evarts, ’76, who on the following day was to preach the Anniversary sermon. The various committee chairmen presented the reports of their committees, including George S. Brewster, ’86, for the Alumni Fund Committee for the current year. Appropriate resolutions on the deaths of James Carter Knox, ’65, and Levi Heywood Greenwood, ’92, were adopted by the meeting by a rising vote. The officers of the Association and members of the Standing Committee, proposed by the nominating committee, were unanimously elected, and Trowbridge Callaway, ’01, took office as the new President. After a delightful buffet luncheon, those present quickly found their way to Long Pond.

It was a beautiful day for racing, with a slight following breeze, and few will forget the impressiveness of the start of the afternoon’s racing, when seventeen eights lined up for a short warming up dash. Shattucks drew first blood when the eighth crew won a close race from the eighth and ninth Halcyons (there being no ninth crew boated by the Shattucks). Victories were fairly divided in a series of close races till the second Shattuck crew won by several lengths from the erstwhile first Halcyons, rowing as the second crew as a result of almost an eleventh hour switch. The comparatively easy victory in the second crew race brought hopes of a crowning victory to the Shattuck side, but the judgment of the Halcyon mentors was proved faultless when the one-time second Halcyons led a fighting Shattuck crew by a small margin at the end of a beautifully rowed race. After the races, D. A. Davis was elected Shattuck captain for 1931 and S. S. Drury, Jr., was so honored by the Halcyons. The traditional beauty of the flag and oar raising brought back memories of other years to the Alumni of both Clubs, after which the various alumni forms scattered to dinners and an evening of reminiscence. The Sixth Form dance was held as usual at the New Upper.

The reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Drury at the Rectory was the first formal event of Thursday, followed by the Anniversary Chapel service at eleven thirty, with the choir giving an excellent rendition of our beloved, "O, Pray for the Peace." The sermon was by the Rev. Prescott Evarts, D.D., '76, whose text was "How much better is man than a sheep." He made a comparison, showing the singleness, carelessness, and selfishness of the sheep, and the companionableness, sense, and group-contribution of man; the headlong thoughtlessness of the one as compared to the deliberate thought of the other. It was a dignified and appropriate address.

The Rector presided at the Alumni luncheon served in the New Upper Dining Hall and Quadrangle, and following the announcement of the gifts of the past year, the fine portrait of William Willard Flint, for so long a master, presented by John P. Wilson, '96, was unveiled by Mr. Flint's grandson. We were honored by having as one of the speakers of the day the former Ambassador to the Court of St. James, Alanson Bigelow Houghton, '82, who gave a splendid address on the power of public opinion and its influence in maintaining world peace. Dr. Houghton was followed by Dr. Lewis Perry, well-loved Principal of Phillips-Exeter, who spoke in a most felicitous way, to the pleasure of all who heard him. Reeve Schley,
'99, closed the formal speaking with a most interesting talk in his capacity as President of the Board of Trustees of the School.

After the Alumni parade to the Lower Grounds, we saw the Delphians win a comparatively easy victory in the track meet. The Alumni Dash was won by Jeremiah Sullivan Black, '22, after a spirited sprint, from an array of formidable competitors.
At the close of the meet, Arthur Russell Jones, '05, after a witty and entertaining speech, called the list of the various prize-winners. It was fortunate that Malcolm Kenneth Gordon, '87, the donor of the Gordon medal for the best all-around athlete, was among those alumni present. Mr. Gordon had the pleasure of awarding the medal for this year to Paul de Barsy de Give of the Sixth Form.

After two days of beautiful weather and enjoyable reunion, we left Concord Thursday evening in the special cars for New York.

RACE DAY

RACE DAY of 1930 has come and gone, as all good race days must. It was a good day, we were happy to say, both in weather and in interesting contests, and we were singularly fortunate in being able to put all the events through without a hitch, so that the actual time needed was, we are sure, shorter than ever before.

* * *

Decked in blue and red the big barges appeared about 2:00, and anchored in the midst of the usual merry and eager throng of guests and parents and the School. At 2:15 greetings were exchanged by the captains and officials, the cheers were given, and the Shattuck wagon pulled away, around the Big Square, the course made necessary by the construction of the new Hopkinton Road.

Progress was slow because of the extreme heat, a maximum of 90 degrees being registered. There was lots of dust, too; but the songs were unflagging.

The Pond was reached at 2:45. The water was capital, showing just a light ripple from the variable breeze, out of the west mostly; sometimes helping, as in the early races; sometimes hindering, as in the First Crew race.

Although the heat was great it was largely relieved by the gentle air over the Pond, and there was little discomfort for spectators.

Flotilla

There was little delay at the houses, so that the Flotilla promptly took the water at 3:05, with mighty splashing and shrill exhortations from the tiny coxswains, to the infinite delight of the spectators on shore, who always revel in this unique show of fourteen eights abreast (this year there were but thirteen, since there was no Shattuck ninth crew). Why no accidents occur in this performance has ever been a profound mystery; but they do not.

THE S. P. S. TRACK MEET

Anniversary Day

THE final and decisive day of the meet fulfilled all expectations both in weather and performance. By half-past three, the grandstand and the surrounding area were filled with visitors and Alumni, affording, in color at least, a decided contrast with the usual scene observed on the Lower Grounds.

The relay race won by the Isthmians was a fitting climax to a successful afternoon, although, of course the Alumni Dash carried off by Mr. Black almost eclipsed all that had gone before. The meet was won by the Delphians with a total of seventy-four and a half points to the fifty and a half points of the Isthmians and the thirty-nine of the Old Hundreds.

At the cup giving ceremonies which followed the meet, Mr. Arthur Jones made a short address and the awards were given out by Miss Marion Calhoun, both of whom added a great deal to the impressiveness of the occasion. After the prizes and other cups had been given out. The medal for the best hockey player in the School was awarded to Milton Lee Pruyll. To Paul deGive was bestowed the Gordon Allround Athlete Medal, which was presented by Mr. Malcolm Gordon (1882-1889), the donor.

On motion, duly seconded, it was voted to dispense with the calling of the roll and the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting.

The Secretary, Abbot Treadwell, ’81, then read his financial report for the year:

On motion, duly seconded, this report was approved and ordered filed.

The following resolutions on the deaths of James Carter Knox, '65 and Levi Heywood Greenwood, '92, were then submitted, and were approved by the meeting:

Resolved, that by the death of James Carter Knox, '65, Mus. Doc., on January 5th, 1930, in the 81st year of his age, St. Paul's School has lost the earthly presence of one who helped immeasurably to make the School what it is; and we have lost one who in our School days and for many years after moulded and inspired us: and be it further

Resolved, that conscious of our inability to put into adequate words our feelings toward Mr. Knox, we must here be content with a mere statement of what he was and of what he did:

We think of Mr. Knox first of all as the choirmaster and organist of the School.

His formation of the Choir in 1868 was for St. Paul's the beginning of an era, for the country the strongest influence for good in church music it had known for years.

He gave his choristers a voice training which was never faddish or extreme, but produced a natural round, ringing sweetness of tone, capable of power and brilliance when needed, surpassed by no choir on this side of the ocean.

He allowed no cheap, popular, undignified music ever to be sung, with the result that not only the choir boys but all the boys of the School were used to a standard of the highest kind, and rejected, as boys and men, anything in the least below that standard.

Moreover, he sympathized with the boys' natural love of singing, and, without in the least deviating from his ideals, gave them singable music, led and inspired them, so that the singing in our chapel was an universal chorus, absolutely thrilling.

If as a composer he had not a high training, and, as an organist, self-taught largely, was not a finished artist, he had, nevertheless, two precious gifts which more than made up for any deficiencies.

As a composer, he had a remarkable gift of melody, which flowed spontaneously in all he wrote. Hence his tunes and anthems were at once loved, and became part of the life of all St. Paul's men, and are well liked elsewhere.

If as an organist he had no great training, he had the rare gift of using his organ to inspire his congregation, so that he could turn a dull day into a bright, a sombre mood into a joyous.
In short, as choirmaster and organist Mr. Knox may well be said to have given to the School almost as great a religious impulse as Dr. Coit.

In the Country, too, his influence was tremendously strong, because St. Paul’s boys, used to his high standards in the School, applied them, as men, to the music of their home parishes, thereby in turn raising the standards of church music everywhere.

Nor must we, in this connection, forget his own glorious, crystal-clear tenor, one of the loveliest we recall.

Next we think of him as the cultivated man of the world, who, by this very fact, exerted an incalculable influence on the boys, teaching them that reading and scholarship are not incompatible with social life. Well versed in the classics, if not a profound scholar, his natural delicacy of taste was developed by them to supreme intolerance of anything tawdry or meretricious.

He was especially well read in English literature; loved its noble works; and, in consequence, wrote both prose and verse, in which his facility was notable, with peculiar purity of style. His talk, too, was marked by rare felicity, by large fund of anecdote, and unusual accuracy of quotation.

His flow of spirits was spontaneous; his sense of fun untameable and irresistible.

Finally, we need not dwell on his moral force of character. There never came into contact with him a boy who was not uplifted by his lofty ideals, his unflinching rightness, his profound religious convictions, his absolute faith. Even as in literature and art he despised the mean and common, so was he spiritually utterly remote from the material and unworthy.

Remarkable insight into character, also, enabled him to judge boys with particular skill, so that he was able to strengthen and to stimulate with exceptional success. His understanding of the boys’ heart, inspired by a very loving tenderness, made his sympathetic treatment of hosts of boys of immense help. Many a St. Paul’s man owes to him his success in life.

Mr. Knox, the last of the elders who made St. Paul’s, has gone to his rest. He leaves to his successors an example of breeding, of high ideals, of devotion to the School, which it behooves them well to follow. His was a life of large accomplishment of lasting vitality. He leaves a memory of shining beauty. Although we are poorer for his departure, we are richer for his life.

RESOLVED, that the members of the Alumni Association of St. Paul’s School unite in an expression of common sorrow in the death of Levi Heywood Greenwood. He loved the School and was one of our most loyal and devoted alumni. From a boy he ever showed his constant and increasing interest in St. Paul’s, giving most generously of his time, his thought and his means to her welfare and development. He was for some years a member of the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association and at the time of his death was a Vice-President. For eleven years he was a Trustee of the School, during ten of which he served as the Treasurer; an exacting office which he filled with ability and success. He was a man of excellent judgment, firm convictions, helpful, genial, modest, with a rare and whimsical humor, beloved by all who knew him.

In recording our own loss and our high appreciation of his service to the School, we desire to express to his family our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a record of this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting and a copy of the same be sent to Mr. Greenwood's family.

J. Frederic Byers, '00, spoke with much feeling of the recent death of Stephen Whitney, '05, of New Haven, for some years a member of the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association, and a very devoted alumnus of the School.

It was voted that the Vice-President be authorized to appoint a committee to prepare a proper resolution.

Trowbridge Callaway, '01, Treasurer, stated that at the Organization Meeting of the Standing Committee, in November 1929, William Hale Harkness, '18, had been elected Assistant Treasurer, and the books and accounts of the Treasurer's office had subsequently been turned over to him. He further stated that Mr. Harkness had prepared the report which he was submitting, with his full approval as Treasurer.

George S. Brewster, '86, Chairman of the Alumni Fund Committee for 1930, then made the following report of the work of his committee to June 3rd:
REPORT ON ALUMNI FUND FOR 1930

The amount collected to June 3rd is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Amount already collected</th>
<th>$24,850. from 1151 contributors</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Amount promised</td>

</tbody>

$25,000. from 1153 contributors

The 25th Anniversary Form, 1905, has collected $2,225. from 22 contributors toward its Anniversary Gift to the School.

Of the 1153 contributors for this year 812 are repeaters from 1929, 211 are contributors from previous years, some of whom have not contributed to the Fund since 1921, and 130 are new contributors, 51 from the last VI Form and 79 from the other Forms.

The 20th Anniversary Form, 1910, of which John H. Stewart is Agent, has made a remarkably good showing and at the present time heads the percentage list with 69.33%, having secured 52 contributions from 75 possible contributors.

The newest Alumni Form, 1929, is to be congratulated on having such an efficient Agent in H. Lyman Stebbins, who has collected 51 contributions from a possible 80, with 63.75%, giving them second place on the list.

Some of the Forms have fallen very much behind as regards the number of contributors for this year and we have lost 364 of the 1184 contributors who were included in the 1929 list of contributors, not counting the 17 who have died during the year. We hope that the Form records will have improved greatly in this respect before the 1930 campaign is closed and the final report printed in the December number of the Alumni Horae.

A regrettable fact, but one over which the Form Agents have no control, is the decrease in the average amount contributed this year. More men gave than in 1929 but the total sum given was less. This is no doubt due in part to the fact that the collection of the Knox Organ Fund coincided with our campaign, and, perhaps, to the depression in business conditions.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) GEORGE S. BREWSTER, Chairman,
Alumni Fund Committee, 1930.

June 4th, 1930.

On motion, duly seconded, the reports of the Treasurer and Alumni Fund Committee were approved and ordered placed on file.

The next order of business was the report of the President. Incorporated with this report is the report of W. Fellowes Morgan, '76, the Chairman of the Standing Committee. This report was read by Vice-President Byers.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Pursuant to the By-Laws of the Alumni Association, the President, through the kindness of Mr. J. Frederic Byers, begs leave to submit his report.
We have had an active year, starting with the Organization Meeting of the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association, which was held in New York on November 14th, 1929, twenty-nine members being present. Richard M. Hurd, '83, presided in the absence of the Chairman, W. Fellowes Morgan, '76. May I pause here to announce, with sorrow, the passing of two members of the Standing Committee during the past year. O. Z. Whitehead, '88, on September 7th, 1929, and Stephen Whitney, '05, who died just the other day.

I am incorporating in my report that of the Chairman of the Standing Committee. The Constitution of the Alumni Association was amended, at the Organization Meeting held on November 14th, to provide for the office of Assistant Treasurer, and the By-Laws were amended, at the same meeting, to define the duties of the Assistant Treasurer. William Hale Harkness, '18, was elected to fill the newly created office. The work on the History of St. Paul's School, which is now in process of compilation, was discussed and plans were made for the continuance of the work. The regular committees were appointed and it was voted to turn over to the general School fund a check for $11,368, which together with the $3,652 expended for the Willard Scudder portrait, made a total gift to the School from the 1929 Alumni Fund of $15,000.

The usual three numbers of the Alumni Horae have been printed during the past year, in April, July and December.

The Philadelphia Alumni held a meeting in October last at which Dr. Charles D. Hart, '88, was elected President of the Philadelphia branch and Edward B. Smith, Jr., '17, was elected Secretary. The annual hockey game between the S. P. S. Team and the Princeton Freshmen Team was played in Philadelphia on Saturday, December 21st, the S. P. S. Team scoring two goals to Princeton's one. Dr. Hart very ably handled the arrangements for this game, which was played at the Arena.

The Chicago Alumni had a very interesting meeting, attended by Dr. Drury as guest of honor, on January 20th, at which time Walter S. Brewster, '91, was elected President of the Chicago Branch and Samuel Insull, Jr., '18, was elected Secretary.

The New York S. P. S. Service for alumni and friends, which has become a custom, was held in St. James' Church on April 6th. Dr. Drury preached and the service was in the nature of a musical memorial to James Carter Knox, '65.

Respectfully submitted,

BERNON S. PRENTICE, President.

June 4th, 1930.

Trowbridge Callaway, '01, made a few remarks, at this point, on the urgent necessity of securing material for the contemplated History of St. Paul's School, especially from some of the older Alumni whose reminiscences are so valuable to this work. He pointed out that the loss of material through the deaths of some of our Alumni, who had been associated with the School since its beginning, had caused an irreparable loss to the History, and regardless of the time it is to be printed and published an earnest effort should be made at this time to collect all possible data.

The Chairman of the Committee on Nominations, then submitted a list of names

The Secretary then read the list of members deceased since the last annual meeting—sixty names in all. During the reading the whole assembly stood at attention.

The presiding officer, Vice-President Byers, then requested the new President, Trowbridge Callaway, to take the chair.

Mr. Callaway made a few remarks thanking the Association for the honor conferred upon him by his election and emphasizing the need of close cooperation of all the members of the Association, and their interest in the Alumni Fund to carry on this work successfully. He mentioned the great value of the work done by Mr. George S. Brewster as Chairman of the Alumni Fund Committee and the work of the Form Agents in their cooperation to accomplish the object of the Alumni Fund, and that only by such cooperation can the best results, in the different branches of the Association’s work, be accomplished.

It was then voted that the President send a message of greeting and affection to Joseph H. Coit, '81, at Newport, R. I.
There being no further business brought before the meeting, it was voted to adjourn.

Respectfully submitted,

ABBOT TREADWELL, Secretary.

Obituary

LEVI HEYWOOD GREENWOOD
1888-1892

The death of Levi Greenwood came as a great shock to his many friends. Though he had been ill for some months, they had no idea that the end was so near.

Levi Heywood Greenwood was born in Gardner, Mass., December 22nd, 1872. He entered St. Paul’s School in 1888, graduating in 1892. He then spent two years at Harvard University, leaving to make a journey around the world. Up to within a few months of his death, he had been for many years President of the Heywood-Wakefield Company. Because of continued ill health last December he tendered his resignation as President and was elected chairman of the Board of Directors. He had many outside interests, having been for a number of years a Trustee and Treasurer of the corporation of St. Paul’s School, a Director of the First National Bank of Boston and of the First National Bank of Gardner, also a Director of several large Public Service Corporations. He was a member of the Harvard Clubs of Boston and New York, the Union, the Algonquin and St. Botolph Clubs of Boston, and the Union League Club of Chicago.

From 1903-1913 Levi Greenwood was a member of the Massachusetts Senate, being elected during the last two years the President of that body. During the war he was for one year Assistant Executive Manager of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, and during the remainder of the war, Ordnance District Chief of the Boston District, organized by the Ordnance Department to supervise the manufacturing of Ordnance Supplies. This district included all of New England with the exception of Connecticut and Western Massachusetts, and handled contracts aggregating $175,000,000, which necessitated an organization of about 1,500 people.

Some years ago Levi Greenwood built and presented to the City of Gardner a public park and swimming pool in memory of his parents. He was a Trustee of that institution as well as of the Heywood Memorial Hospital. He was also President of the Heywood Memorial Library Association and Senior Warden of St. Paul’s Church. In addition to his home in Gardner, he had residences in Boston and Plymouth, Mass. His family, consisting of his wife and four children, all survive him. His two sons also attended St. Paul’s School.

Levi Greenwood was a prominent boy in his time at the School, and was one of the head editors of the “Horae.” After graduating he soon became one of the School’s most loyal and devoted Alumni, giving most generously of his time, his thought and his means. Besides being a Trustee, he was for a number of years a member of the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association. His interest in, and love for, St. Paul’s never failed.

All this will show his high sense of duty and service. He was most generous and hospitable, with rare tact, a keen sense of humor and a large fund of human sympathy—a most lovable and companionable man.
