The Infirmary viewed from back of the Study.
DEAR FRIENDS:

The sound of shotguns is the special mark, as you Old Boys will remember, of Thanksgiving morning at St. Paul's. In olden days boys and visitors would saunter before service to Mr. Dole's house where the shoot was genially and expertly presided over by Mr. Dole. A pleasant gathering, to watch the finals of the clay pigeon contest, perchance munching a belated apple from the Dole orchard. One recalls not so much the outcome of the contest, or the smell of the powder, or the tang of autumn merging into winter, as the sound of the guns and the presence of Mr. Dole himself, —that ever kindly neighbor, master, and friend who devoted his life to the sportsmanship of the School, exalting that physical well-being within which our mental and spiritual states live and move. (The English department, it's pretty certain, wouldn't pass or parse that sentence!)

Mr. Dole died 17 years ago. We go on, and we suppose we go forward. Mr. Rexford now ably manages the shoot, from a new and improved trap at the Lower Grounds. It is beautifully organized. This year sixty boys are contesting, firing 5,000 rounds of ammunition. All of which data of an ammunitionary sort the special sound of Thanksgiving elicits.

The unknown causes for Thanksgiving, the blessings unnoted, the safety and welfare on which every school today rests, all this omnibus of gratitude has now in Chapel been expressed. There are specific objects for Thanksgiving, too. We have, as for example, but one boy away from School. An enrollment of 449, and all but one actually here. What could make us happier than the return today of Joe DuBarry, that fine boy and friend who has suffered so many setbacks and now is thoroughly well. I have just sent a special message by wire to the one boy who left last week because of a knee injury, telling him how we miss him.

In an Annual Report sent you earlier this month you will find both review and prospect of School life in the large. A younger associate will in this number, under "The School in Action," give you the facts of our several activities. He will, I hope, mention two things in particular: the Play, so charmingly presented, bringing so much genuine pleasure into our life. Such a piece, "The Admirable Crichton," restrained and refined, wins immediate response from youth as yet unspoiled by vulgarity. The function of a school, one might say, is just this exalting of the best in all departments of life, before lower standards attempt their easy conquests.
The other item is an important and personal one: the return of Mr. Scudder to his rooms in The Middle. Even a fortnight’s detention in the Infirmary makes its diminishing difference in Mr. Scudder’s building and throughout the School. An immensely influencing person is Mr. Scudder; and when ill, no one more uncomplaining, more chivalrous than he.

The significant sound of November 28th now gives way to two others, wholly different, equally endeared: they come with the ice, and the closing of the term; the ring of skates on the Pond, and the crisp voices of carollers beneath our windows welcoming the Christmastide. When this reaches you some of us will have met at the hockey game in New York, on December 19th. What a pity it was about that date! The Garden couldn’t be had for Friday, December 20th, our long-planned day of break up. Saturday wouldn’t do, and so we are reluctantly forced to stop School a whole day ahead of schedule. And would you believe it? There hasn’t been one word of complaint, so far, from masters or from boys!

Faithfully yours,

Thanksgiving Day, 1935. S. S. DRURY.

THE SCHOOL IN ACTION

By An Alumnus Master

As I write, there is a light coat of snow on the ground, which allows the use of the past tense in referring to the Fall Term, although there really remain sixteen more days, as any Lower Schooler could tell you without the hesitation necessary for computation. The Fall Term, then, was successful from every point of view. We started the football a very few days after the boys got here, and as always, that was the great cementer of the individual boys, both old and new, into a group who were conscious that they were more than individuals — that they were all a part of an organized society called St. Paul’s. Football does this, because all are playing one game, and third formers and sixth can easily find themselves on the same team and thus realize that the gap between forms is not as great as it seemed to them when they first saw their supervisors and probably thought they were masters. There was the usual number of boys playing, and Rugby was continued in the Lower, and won by the Isthmians, amidst much enthusiasm.

One of the extraordinary things about a school is that, to those who work in it, there is something very new and different in each year. First, this year, we all were conscious of the absence of some of our colleagues of last year and were delighted to greet the five new masters. These are: Mr. Francis Vernon Lloyd, Jr., who teaches English, and who is a graduate of Leland Stanford University and who studied at New College, Oxford last year; Mr. Thomas W. Nazro, Harvard 1934, who teaches History and German; Mr. George R. Smith, S.P.S., ’30 and Princeton 1935, of the Science Department; Mr. Paul F. Stanton, M.A., Tufts, who teaches Music, and Mr.
Randall Williams, III, S.P.S., ’30 and a graduate of Williams College who spent last year at Exeter College, Oxford. He teaches English. All these new men were welcomed, and they have already contributed much to the life of the school.

The new thing “in the air” this year is a concentration on better scholastic work. As the Rector pointed out in his Annual Report, we have been more successful at St. Paul’s in achieving a high standard of discipline and spirit of cooperation and interest on the part of the boys in the welfare and tone of the place than in producing high scholars. That the latter can be accomplished without sacrificing any of the former is the profound belief of many here, and that is the chief effort of the year so far. We have a new Committee on Studies, which is to function in regard to scholarship much in the same way that the Committee on Discipline has functioned in its sphere for the past few years. Already this committee has put new life into the Blue List, for jacking up loafers, and it is hoped that it can devise means for stimulating new interest on the part of able scholars. As another effort to keep work of a consistent high level, it has been decided that the daily marks of boys shall be counted in with their examination marks, to determine questions of promotion.

It has been mentioned above that there is a new member of the Music Department. Classes are now being given in the First and Second Forms, and it is planned to continue the course for those boys who are particularly able or interested in this subject. In this connection, there has recently been formed a Glee Club, which has met with much enthusiasm on the part of the boys. The Fine Arts, also, I believe, are to have an able exponent on the place this winter, who will carry on the work of Mr. Gautier in the past two years, giving drawing and painting lessons to those who are interested.

Finally, as far as new things of the year are concerned, there have been a few new physical improvements made over the summer. The most conspicuous of these is a new approach to the Upper School, which has removed the road from the front of the building and extended the brick wall up the hill in front of the Upper. Also the recent great improvement of the Library, under the direction of a full-time librarian, Miss Hopkins, has been continued and supplemented by the furnishing of one room on the main floor to be a general reading room. It is now very attractive and not at all reminiscent of the bleak library that all alumni used to know. This general change in the library is much more than a physical improvement, for with the added attractiveness of the building and its wares, the reading of the school has markedly increased and improved in quality. Lastly, the Alumni House has been entirely redecorated and largely refurnished and is now more modern and attractive.

But not all that is good in any year is new, and those sides of school life that we are all familiar with are being carried on well. The whole Council system, in all its branches, is functioning soundly. Very few outside the school realize how much hard and constructive work is put in by the boys of all ages in carrying on the morale of the place. We become used to it here, but when we pause to think, it is really an extraordinary change from the days when boys were the unwilling victims of an institution in which they took little interest. To-day they are, for the most part, as eager to see the school run well, with good feeling and sympathy between all its parts, as are any of the masters. They do their part of the job, moreover, with distinction and quite naturally.

There have been particularly interesting lectures this term, under the direction of Mr. Pier. We have had the opportunity to hear Mr. Harrison M. Lakin speak twice on current world problems; Dr. Beebe has spoken on his deep sea explorations, and we had a delightful visit from the well known Abbé Dimnet, who addressed the boys, the Cercle Français and the Masters’ Meeting. On Thanksgiving Day the Dramatic Club presented a beautifully acted play: Barrie’s The Admirable Crichton.

The football, of which we have already spoken, was a great success this fall. The Old Hundreds, with many veterans back and under the able coaching of Mr. Nazro, won the series rather easily, but not so easily as to lessen the interest in the series. The dates and scores of the games follows:

To recapitulate, the Old Hundreds eliminated the Isthmians and Delphians rather easily, but the latter two clubs had a hard tussle for second place, which held the interest of the school, although two of the games were played in pouring rain.

The S.P.S. Team, chosen by all the first team coaches, attended the Harvard-Yale game on November 23rd. The school team, with statistics, was as follows:

In addition to football we have had the usual Cross Country Runs, which have brought out an unusual number of competitors. The Delphians won the first run and the Isthmians the second. The third remains to be run tomorrow. A school team was picked to run against Concord High School and was soundly beaten.

The School squash team has had two matches, both of which it has won, defeating Brooks School 3—2 at Brooks, and the Union Boat Club 4—1, here. At present there is in progress a popular handicap squash tournament.

The last word in athletics must be hockey. There is no useable ice as yet, (December 2nd), but there is promise of it in the next few days, and meanwhile an enormous S.P.S. squad is practicing shooting and having blackboard instruction, behind and in the Lower School respectively. With luck, they should have a good team to play Princeton on the nineteenth, there being several veterans here this year.

I have written a lot, but I haven’t begun to recount all that has gone on this term. It is an active place, and the activities must naturally be varied to keep the tastes of five hundred people satisfied. All work together to make a happy life here and a constructive one.

ALUMNI DINNER IN NEW YORK

At the meeting of the Standing Committee held on Thursday, November 7th, it was decided to have a dinner some time during the Spring. A committee was appointed to arrange it and the time and place will be announced later. The last dinner was held in 1926.
THROUGH the kindness of Mr. Robert O. Bacon, '91, we are reproducing a photograph of one of the historic old buildings, "No. 3," built in 1867, as well as a group of the boys who lived in the dormitory on the second floor in 1889. We thought the gentleman on Mr. Brinley's right, wearing the inevitable iron hat of the period, was Mr. James P. Conover, but we find we are mistaken. Mr. A. J. Peters, '91, in the fourth row, was later to become the Mayor of Boston. We particularly like the hat on the young man sitting on the extreme right. The sculpturing of the trousers shows traces of an emergence from the round or Civil War manner.

In Mr. Arthur Pier's "St. Paul's School" is the following description: "Adjoining the gymnasium was a long wooden building containing a bowling alley. It still is in use and is known as the Skate House, having served in turn as school dining-room and as 'Number 3 Schoolroom' with a dormitory overhead. At present, besides offering the boys a place in which to put on their skates and to have them sharpened, it holds class rooms and music rooms on the second floor." (The gymnasium referred to was the original old wooden building, later replaced by the present brick structure.)

In 1878 when the old "School," which occupied the site of the present Lower School, was burned, Mr. Pier tells us in his admirable history, the ground floor of No. 3 was turned into a dining-room for the emergency, and the upper floor into a dormitory. In Mr. Bacon's time the lower floor was a study for the younger boys, presided over by Mr. Brinley. Readers of Mr. Pier’s history will recall his anecdote in connection with the fire of 1878, which occurred on July 21st while Dr. Joseph Coit, the vice-rector, was vacationing in Canada. He returned in the fall to Concord without knowing what had happened, as he had been “beyond reach of mail or telegraph.” On his way out to the School he asked the driver if there had been “any bad fires in Concord during the summer.” “Not since the School burned down,” the driver answered. Dr. Coit finished the journey in silence and trepidation, but found reconstruction well under way under the able direction of the Rector, and the School ready to receive the boys on opening day.

Later the lower floor of “No. 3” became the skate house, and weird sounds issued from its upper windows, as those who underwent violin lessons poured forth their souls in not always tuneful efforts.

The protean life of “No. 3” is characteristic not only of the pioneer days of the School, full of emergencies and vigorous growth, but of the present as well, and, let us hope of the splendid future.

STUART D. PRESTON, ’02.

BOYS OF OLD “No. 3”

THE death of William Strother Jones on December 17th last removes from St. Paul's one of her most devoted sons and from The Alumni Association one of its most enthusiastic supporters, who had served for many years as an officer of notable ability.

Born in Winchester, Va., in 1858, he came to St. Paul's as a boy of sixteen, and by his hearty interest in all school matters as well as by his delight in all sports soon won a place of great influence. He entered business upon leaving the school, becoming a broker and a member of the New York Stock Exchange, keeping his membership for over fifty years and serving as a member of the Board of Governors for many of them.

He lived for years at Red Bank, N. J., for true to his early training he loved the open air and all kinds of sport. His especial delight was riding, so that it was natural that he should be a founder of the Rumson Polo Club in 1902, playing on the club team for many years. He also helped to organize the Monmouth County Hunt Association, riding to hounds until very recently. Furthermore, he was interested in sailing, for years keeping a knockabout on Shrewsbury River near his home.

Public-spirited by instinct, he was president of the New York Osteopathic Clinic; had been warden of Trinity Church, Red Bank for thirty years; he was first vice-president of the Red Bank Y. M. C. A.

Four of his sons were at St. Paul's: W. S. Jones, Jr., '04; C. M. Jones, '13; H. B. Jones, '17; and A. R. Jones, '05, who died in 1935. Three of his grandsons are now at the school: H. B. Jones, Jr., of the IVth Form; W. S. Jones, 3d of the IIId Form; A. R. Jones, Jr., of the IIId Form.

Mr. Jones was a member of the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association from its formation; he was third vice-president of the Association in 1902-1903; second vice-president in 1904-1905; president, 1910-1912. From 1921 to 1935 with the exception of one year he was Form Agent of the Form of 1877, contributing generously himself to the Alumni Fund.

One cannot but be struck, as one reads this bare outline of a full and beneficent life, with the fact that the essence of Strother Jones's life was service to others. His gift of friendship, his comradeship in all matters, whether of benevolence in worthy enterprises, of sportsmanship, of religious connexion, of daily business, come back to the same source: selflessness. This, too, without effort or even, one believes, consciousness. Blessed with a spring of endless gaiety of heart, loving the merry side of life, generous to a fault, he was ever a tonic in his intercourse with all. Buoyancy of temperament in highest degree was his; courage indomitable he had; nobility of soul, scorn of the mean thing, principle deep and immovable: he possessed all these in measure abundant. Capable of anger, his anger was always against the unworthy word or deed, never against a man.

As one thinks of him, one feels that in him were incarnate the qualities which made the gentleman of the old school. Indeed, as we recall the picture of Strother Jones dispensing the boundless hospitality of his home, riding to hounds, taking his part in church service, at gatherings of St. Paul's men, we may indeed be happy that we knew and were inspired by this friend, the Southern squire of olden days, living in our own time.

At the funeral Dr. Drury used a prayer which he has been good enough to let us share with all who loved William Strother Jones.

"O God and Father, the source of all good things, we thank Thee for our friends, for the noble companionships and tender influences they bring to this our earthly pilgrimage. We bless Thee for those men and women, yes, the children also, who have consoled and cheered us on our way. Today we commemorate the life and example of Thy servant Strother, who, having finished his course in faith, now rests from his labors.

"We silent yet admiring friends, kneeling together here, recall his sympathy, his unobtrusive piety, his gaiety, the generous word and deed which marked his every day. For his long life of devoted service, for his deep belief in Thy Being, for his clinging to his Saviour, we bless Thee. For his patience in sorrow and adversity, for his unfailing chivalry, for his undefeated joy in whatsoever things are brave, clean, manly, and of good report, we bless Thee. We believe that Thou, our loving and merciful Father, dost restore him to his loved ones in Paradise, that Thou dost grant him the fruition of Thy nearer presence, and that he is in peace."

ST. PAUL'S PICTORIAL

The S.P.S. Pictorial is to make its appearance again this year, published by a group of boys at the School who are interested in photography. It will form an interesting record, through its pictures, of daily life at the School.

The same general plan is to be followed this year, provided support from the School and Alumni is as general as last year.

The project cannot be carried through without the generous support of the Alumni, and it is hoped that many will subscribe. The subscription price is one dollar for three issues. Checks should be made payable to St. Paul's School Pictorial and sent to John Morris, St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.

LETTER FROM AN S.P.S. MOTHER

Editor, ALUMNI HORAE:

An effort having been made this year to urge visitors to St. Paul's to use the Alumni House, which has been newly decorated and furnished, it occurred to me that the editors of ALUMNI HORAE might be interested in hearing from a recent visitor to the school.

I spent the week-end of November 16th there with a friend who also has a boy in the school. When we were planning our trip she was quite strongly in favor of staying somewhere else than the Alumni House. She and her husband had stayed there last Spring and she said it was dreadfully dismal and gloomy. In fact she was eloquent on the subject. I myself had not been at St. Paul's for nearly fifteen years, but my family had always stayed at the Alumni House as far as I know and I like the idea of being in the School grounds and in close physical proximity to all the school activities, so I persuaded my friend to take a room there. Well, after this long preamble I must waste no further time but tell you at once that we had a most delightful visit; that we both thought the Alumni House very attractive and comfortable, the food and service quite satisfactory, and the general atmosphere agreeable. We were assured that suggestions and criticisms would be welcome but we could find none to offer. Mrs. Unger, who is now in charge, was solicitous for the comfort and satisfaction of the guests. The two living rooms are now prettily furnished with comfortable chairs and sofas and one can sit in front of the open fires with the boys and one's friends as cosily as one would at home. I do not hesitate to recommend the Alumni House to those who have never stayed there nor to suggest to former dissatisfied patrons that they give it another trial.

Very sincerely yours,

Catherine R. Cresswell.

PRINCETON FRESHMEN WIN HOCKEY GAME

Relentlessly hammering away at the opposition’s defense virtually throughout the encounter, Princeton University’s freshman hockey team downed St. Paul’s School of Concord, 4 to 1, before 2,000 spectators in Madison Square Garden yesterday for the fourth straight victory registered by a Tiger yearling combination over the New Hampshire schoolboys in as many seasons.

Only the brilliant work of Vinton Freedley, Jr., first-string St. Paul’s goalie, prevented the Orange and Black cubs from recording a much higher total in the twenty-second ice battle between teams of the two institutions.

Freedley made almost three dozen saves, many of them quite difficult, while Bill Johnson, who guarded the net for the victors, had a comparatively easy assignment.

Although never trailing during the contest, the Princeton squad received keen resistance from the St. Paul’s forces in the opening period, and they finished that session with the count deadlocked at 1-all. But twenty-five seconds after the beginning of the second, Robert Miller tallied on a spectacular solo dash, and that gave the winners an advantage which they never relinquished.

However, St. Paul’s fought stubbornly thereafter, and not until the final period were the Tiger first-year men able to score again. Freedley was perhaps at his best in that stanza despite the fact that two goals were made against him, for the St. Paul’s boy warded off more than a dozen fierce shots, several coming within quick succession as first one Princeton forward and then another sent hard thrusts to­toward the enemy’s cage.

In winning by the largest total registered by a Princeton team against St. Paul’s since 1922, the victors stretched to three games the Tiger lead in the series. The record now shows twelve Princeton triumphs, nine for St. Paul’s and one tie. Incidentally, the first seven contests were between the school-boys and the Princeton varsity. The collegians won five of those, as compared to two successes for St. Paul’s.

The net proceeds went to the two charities conducted by St. Paul’s, namely, the school’s Summer camp for poor boys and the Coit House Orphanage. The Rev. Samuel S. Drury, rector of St. Paul’s, threw out the disk to start the game. After the contest, the Hobey Baker hockey stick, emblematic of victory, was presented to the Princeton players by A. Thornton Baker, brother of the famous “Hobey” Baker who was a hockey star at both St. Paul’s and Princeton.

ORDERS FOR SCHOOL HISTORY

The valuable and extremely interesting History of the School, “St. Paul’s School — 1855-1934,” written by Arthur Stanwood Pier, ’87-’91, and published by Charles Scribner’s Sons, has had a most gratifying sale. Everyone who has read the book speaks in the warmest praise of its comprehensiveness, the absorbing interest of its story, and its splendid literary quality. We feel sure that there are still many Alumni and friends of St. Paul’s who will be glad to have the volume on their bookshelves.

The price of the book, including delivery charges, is $3.50 per copy, and orders with shipping instructions should be sent to the Alumni Association of St. Paul’s School, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Checks should be made payable to Charles Scribner’s Sons. Shipment will be made immediately upon receipt of orders.
JOHN WILLCOX, 1850-1935

During four decades from the early seventies, one of the most familiar faces at St. Paul's and in Concord was that of John H. S. Willcox, that genial, dependable and loyal friend of Rectors, Masters and boys. To the boys, John seemed a part of the place as much as the Lower Grounds.

Twice daily, during forty years, his big red wagon drawn by those famous “buckskins” (they seemed the same for forty years) rolled back and forth to town, and many a new boy had his first glimpse of the School from that wagon. In fact, for many years that was the only means of transportation, and Concord seemed miles away owing to the rough and muddy road.

J. H. S. Willcox was born in Maine, August 7th, 1850. He came to Concord with a small express wagon in 1872. His obliging manner and happy disposition soon got him odd jobs of trucking for the School, and after his marriage to the daughter of Leavitt B. Ingalls, who had operated the grist mill which stood on the site of Harrogate, he was soon identified with the School. Before he built the large house on the road to town, he lived in the one now occupied by John Mercer, but then owned by Mr. Ingalls.

His four children are Frances E., now Mrs. Irving T. Chesley, Edith, John W. L. of Pittsburgh, and Emma, now living in New York. Mrs. Willcox died several years ago. He died in May, 1935 and was buried at the School.

With the advent of the motor truck, and the expansion of the School's business, together with increasing age, John was retired from active duty in 1912.

There have been many devoted and loyal men who have given their best to the School, but perhaps none of them has occupied so unique a position of responsibility and trust as John Willcox. Generations of boys will recall how accurately he filled their orders from a dime's worth of “M.M.'s” to a railroad ticket home. Hundreds of such transactions every month and never a penny misappropriated.
The writer recalls how, each morning before starting to town, John submitted his list to Dr. Coit, and how the Rector would entrust to John important missions, such as deposits for the bank, emergency orders for food, and verbal messages for some friend on the road — all done with the assurance that every detail would be attended to.

John had a remarkable memory for details. Seldom, if ever, did he fail to fill exactly the many orders yelled at him by boys as they ran to Chapel. Book in hand, he would stand in front of the study each morning and cover page after page with hieroglyphics that only he could decipher.

And with all his busy life of detail, he was the personification of happiness. He knew many boys intimately and old boys often wrote to him. His loyalty to the School was never questioned. Mr. Hargate once said to the writer that John Willcox, during all his service, never once allowed to pass into the School any “contraband.” No boy ever dared suggest such a thing to him.

Motor trucks and buses now have their day, but the picturesque red wagon with John, whip in hand, leaning over the dashboard will ever remain a happy memory to those who knew and appreciated this unique and honest and lovable man.

MALCOLM K. GORDON, ’87.

CONSTRUCTION WORK AT THE SCHOOL THROUGH SUMMER

In the Lower School Study a new era in educational development seems to have dawned. The largest of the old classrooms has been divided into two attractive studies, equipped with large oval table and handsome armchairs, each adorned with the School shield. The change is to provide for the modern conference system of instruction.

The Library has been greatly improved by the redecorating of the once dismal chamber behind the main room. It is now a delightful reading room, furnished with red leather easy chairs, a large rug, tasteful lamps, and new bookcases. Furthermore, the walls have been painted a light color and the windows have been altered, greatly improving the illumination. These improvements were made possible by the generous 25th Anniversary Gift of the Form of 1910, amounting to nearly $500.00.

Noticeable in the School landscape is the road which now leads to the New Upper, and the absence of the old driveway, which has since been covered over and planted with new grass.

ANNUAL DINNER AND MEETING OF STANDING COMMITTEE

The Annual Dinner and Meeting of the Standing Committee was held at the Racquet and Tennis Club, New York, on November 7th.

The President of the Alumni Association, Mr. Byers, called the meeting to order at the close of the dinner. The President read an affectionate letter of greeting from the Rector and messages of regret at their inability to attend from Willard Scudder, '87, and Frederick B. Adams, '96. Richard M. Hurd, '83, was elected Chairman for the ensuing year, and Clarence E. West, '97, Secretary.

The first order of business was the election of a new member to fill the vacancy caused by the election of Henry McC. Bangs, '02, as the fourth vice-president. Mr. Jay nominated John I. Downey, '93, of New York, who was unanimously elected. The Treasurer, Mr. Harkness, then read his annual report, having flown all the way from the West Coast that day to attend the meeting. The report, which follows, was accepted and ordered placed on file.

BALANCE ON HAND, November 1, 1935                  | $13,310.55   |
Included in the Balance on Hand June 1, 1935, and in Total Receipts June 1—November 1, 1935, is the 1910 Anniversary Fund in the total amount to date of $469.30, of which $468.30 has been sent to the School as indicated above, leaving $1.00 thereof still held by the Treasurer in trust.

The above figures exclude the gift of $500 from Marshall H. Clyde, '84, made with the request that his Form receive credit for it, which was sent to the Treasurer of the School and will be added by the Trustees to the annual gift of the Alumni Association to the School.

Mr. John H. Stewart, '10, Chairman of the Alumni Fund, then read his report, as follows:

"In my valedictory as Chairman of the Alumni Fund Committee, I am glad to report that so far the 1935 Fund has received $11,650.81 from 1147 Alumni as regular contributions. The Sixth Form of 1910, as its 25th Reunion gift, has given an additional amount of $469.30 from 52 of its members — thus giving a grand total of $12,120.11 from 1199 old St. Paul's boys as compared with $11,981.54 from 1128 at the same day in 1934. In March of this year Mr. Marshall H. Clyde of the Sixth Form of 1884 sent directly to the School, the generous gift of $500, with the suggestion that it be credited to his Form, which has been done. This gift gives the 1935 Fund a total of $12,620.11.

"My term as Chairman of your Committee comes to a close with the 1935 Fund on December 31st. While as a matter of course any work undertaken on behalf of St. Paul's School is in itself a pleasure, I wish to record with deep sincerity the fact that the job itself has been done only through the remarkable cooperation, loyalty and hard work of every Agent and the able assistance of all of those in any way connected with the work of the Fund. I feel that the Fund is most fortunate in obtaining for its new Chairman the man whom our President has selected to serve. I can ask nothing better for him than a continuation of the same generous support in time and effort which has been so freely given to me."

His report was accepted and ordered placed on file and a vote of congratulation and thanks was passed, in recognition of his splendid work during a trying two-year period.

Mr. Stewart then moved the following resolution which was duly seconded and unanimously adopted:

"RESOLVED, by the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association of St. Paul's School, in executive session, that the Treasurer of the Alumni Association be, and he hereby is, instructed to hand to the President, for transmittal, a check to the order of the School for Seven Thousand Dollars ($7,000) as a gift from the 1935 Alumni Fund of the Association, to which is to be added and considered as part of this gift the contribution of Five Hundred Dollars ($500) of Marshall H. Clyde, '84, which already has been received by the Treasurer of the School for this purpose, making a total gift of Seven Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500);

"AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be forwarded by the President to the Rector of the School
President of the Board of Trustees
Clerk of the Board of Trustees, and to the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees."

The President announced that it was impossible to get Madison Square Garden for the afternoon of December 20th for the hockey game with the Princeton Freshmen, and called on Mr. Schley, President of the Corporation, to see if it might be possible to arrange for the school to be dismissed a day early so that the game could be played on the 19th. Mr. Schley promised to see what could be done.

The President then appointed Mr. Bangs as Chairman of the Church Service Committee to arrange the usual service in the spring. The editor of the ALUMNI HORAE, Mr. Connett, made his annual report, calling on the alumni to support the magazine by sending in articles and photographs and suggestions for improvement. A motion was passed to continue the publication of the HORAE for the ensuing year, not more than three issues to be put out. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Connett for his successful work as editor.

Mr. Jay, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, then offered the names of the following to serve on the Executive Committee for the ensuing year, and, there being no further nominations, upon motion duly made and seconded, they were unanimously elected:

J. Frederic Byers, ’00, Chairman
Henry McC. Bangs, ’02
George S. Brewster, ’86
Eugene V. Connett, 3rd, ’08
William Hale Harkness, ’18
Samuel W. Morris, ’90

At this point the President resumed the chair and announced the appointment of the 1936 Alumni Fund Committee, as follows:

Leonard Sullivan, ’04, Chairman
George S. Brewster, ’86
Winthrop G. Brown, ’25
Samuel T. Callaway, ’00
Robert H. Cox, ’01

Harry Parson Cross, ’92
William Hale Harkness, ’18
Randal Morgan, ’30
John H. Stewart, ’10

The President then appointed Edward D. Toland, ’04, as chairman of the Anniversary Committee for 1936, with power to select the other members of his committee, and of William Scudder, '85, as chairman of the Committee on Honorary Members, with power to select the other members of his committee. He also reappointed the ALUMNI HORAE Committee to serve for the ensuing year, as follows: Eugene V. Connett, 3d, '08, Editor; Robert Cresswell, '15, Arthur S. Pier, '90, Stuart D. Preston, '02; and Henry A. Bull, '22.

He then called on the new chairman of the Alumni Fund Committee, Mr. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan spoke in a forcible and interesting way of his desire to keep up the splendid record of Mr. Stewart and his predecessors, and called on the alumni for support and advice.

The next order of business was miscellaneous and Mr. Martin J. Keogh, '03, was recognized by the President. Mr. Keogh said he thought that in recognition of Dr. Drury's twenty-fifth anniversary as Rector, the alumni should tender him a dinner in New York in the spring of 1936. Mr. Henry A. Laughlin, '10, thought there should be a number of simultaneous dinners of alumni in Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, and other alumni centers. After some discussion, the President appointed Mr. Keogh and Mr. Bangs a committee with power to arrange a dinner in New York. There was considerable debate as to whether ladies should be invited but it was voted to confine the dinner to alumni.

The President then called on various alumni for remarks. Among those who spoke were Mr. W. Strother Jones, '77, who was celebrating his 78th birthday, Mr. Reeve Schley, '99, President of the Corporation, Mr. Edward D. Toland, '04, secretary and clerk of the Alumni Association and a master at the School, who spoke of the new plan for boys not intending to enter college, and Mr. John B. Edmonds, '19, also a master, who spoke of various school affairs. One of the most pleasant and interesting features of these dinners has been the opportunity of hearing about the current life and problems of the School from Mr. Schley and from the masters who come down each year to join us.

Besides those mentioned in the foregoing paragraph, the following attended the dinner:

- J. Frederic Byers, '00, President
- Henry McC. Bangs, '02, Vice-President
- William Hale Harkness, '18, Treasurer
- Clarence E. West, '97, Executive Secretary
- George S. Brewster, '86

To the Alumni:

Will you write us, giving announcements of engagements, marriages, births of children and items for the Alumni Notes column, and also anecdotes and stories of your days in School? Send us old photographs, which we will be careful to return. These are all of interest to other alumni. The Alumni Office should always be advised of the death of an alumnus. Any suggestions as to the editorial policy will be welcome. Committee on Publication.

Editorial Note

The Editor offers his apologies for the fact that our December, 1935, issue is appearing in January, 1936. This delay was due to illness on his part, and the great amount of detail in connection with the hockey game which burdened the Alumni Office in December to such an extent that it was unable to take over the entire work of getting the issue out before Christmas.

In order to keep Volume XV intact, we are dating this issue December, 1935.

Alumni Notes

'75—George Lyttleton Upshur, who, on February 9, 1936, will celebrate his eightieth birthday, is preparing for publication an autobiography entitled As I Recall Them: Memories of Crowded Years. It is to appear early in 1936 under the publication imprint of The Press of the Pioneers, Inc. Mr. Upshur is the oldest living descendant of Martha Washington, and the son of the late Rear Admiral John H. Upshur, U. S. N. One of the most interesting chapters of his book relates his experiences as a schoolboy at St. Paul's and throughout the book are many references to and anecdotes about alumni of that and more recent times. The book is to be dedicated to another St. Paul's alumnus, J. Pierpoint Morgan, '84, whose friend he has been for many years. He has known well practically all of the outstanding men of the Nation during his eighty years and recounts his experiences in an absorbing, vivid and at times breathtaking narrative.

'76—William Fellowes Morgan has been elected vice-president of the Council of Moderation which has been recently created for the purpose of discouraging over-indulgence in drinking. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan are now visiting in South Africa.

'77—The late Rodman Paul Snelling willed $5,000 to St. Paul's School.

'82—Charles Lamson Griffin and Mrs. Griffin have returned from their annual visit to England. They were especially interested in the great public schools, Winchester, Harrow and Eton.

'91—Dr. Eugene H. Pool, President of the New York Academy of Medicine, inaugurated this fall a series of lectures on medicine for the lay public. The lectures have been a spectacular success with overflow attendances.

'92—Franklin Chase Hoyt has been appointed by President Roosevelt as Director of the Federal Alcohol Administration.

'92—Arthur Train has a serial novel in the Cosmopolitan: “Manhattan Murder,” which began in the December issue.

'96—John P. Wilson was appointed a trustee of Williams College at the fall meeting of its Board. Mr. Wilson is the senior member of Wilson & McIlvaine, Chicago law firm, and a director of many corporations there. He is President of the Children’s Memorial Hospital of Chicago and a trustee of the University of Chicago and of the Field Museum of Natural History.

'97—Peter Vredenburgh with Mrs. Vredenburgh is managing The Anchorage Inn at Cocoa, Florida.

'99—Courtlandt Nicoll has been elected president of the Museum of the City of New York. He is a member of the law firm of Shiland, Hedges and Pelham and has served two terms on the Board of Aldermen of New York City and two terms in the New York State Senate.

'99—Reeve Schley has been elected chairman of the New Jersey Relief Council.

'01—James Grafton Rogers, former dean of the University of Colorado Law School and former Assistant Secretary of State, went to Yale this fall to be Master of Timothy Dwight College. This new unit of the “college” system was presented to Yale by Edward S. Harkness, '93.

'01—Trowbridge Callaway has been elected president of the Better Business Bureau of New York City. He is head of the investment firm of Callaway, Fish & Co., and a former president of the Investment Bankers Association of America.

'08—John G. Winant was one of the principal speakers at the opening campaign dinner of the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies in New York.

'11—Mason Turner of the American Consular service has been transferred from Valletta, Malta to Santa Cruz de Tenerife, Canary Islands.

'11—Thomas Pierson, administrative commissioner of the International Chamber of Commerce, Paris, has been elected to the executive committee of the American Club.

'14—John Lavalle is currently exhibiting at the Vose Galleries, Boston, about twenty portraits that he has recently executed. Among the subjects are Francis B. Crowninshield, '87, and Hiram T. Folsom, '11.

'20—Dr. Christopher Campbell Shaw has succeeded to the practice of the late Dr. John H. Blodgett in Bellows Falls, Vermont.

'21—Eric Hatch gives us another of his humorous stories in “My Man Godfrey” which is on the Little, Brown & Co. (Boston) book-list this fall.
'26—A. Barclay Ulman, Granville O. B. Ulman and Peter Baldwin, '25, have formed the stock exchange partnership of Ulman Bros. & Baldwin with offices at 597 Madison Ave., New York.

'28—Beekman Pool won the miniature gold racquet at the finish of the blue ribbon squash racquets event at the Rockaway Hunting Club early in December. He is the first player to win the gold racquet tournament three times.

The Alumni Horae acknowledges with thanks the receipt of old St. Paul’s photographs from:

Gouverneur Kemble, ’81
John Sherman Hoyt, ’86
Malcolm Kenneth Gordon, ’87

DECEASED

'77—Rodman Paul Snelling was born in Jamaica Plain, Mass., April 26, 1861. After his graduation from Harvard in 1881, he entered on a very successful business career devoted mainly to the manufacture of cotton machinery. He was one of the founders of the Saco-Pettee Machinery Works which later expanded into the Saco-Lowell Shops. He was also a director in many corporations. His devotion to his Church and to his school was expressed in generous bequests, St. Paul’s receiving $5,000. He was a brother of Samuel Snelling, ’75.

'79—Alfred Francis Stevens was born in Hoboken, N. J., in 1860. He entered Columbia University but left after a year to go West on railroad construction work. Five years later he returned, took up the study of law, and became a partner in the firm of Woodruff and Stevens, Newark. He was a member of the well-known Stevens family of New Jersey, many of whose sons have attended St. Paul’s. He died in Newark, N. J., on May 18, 1935.

'80—Langdon Elwyn Mitchell, poet and playwright, was born in Philadelphia, February 17, 1862, the son of Silas Weir Mitchell, the eminent physician and author. After leaving St. Paul’s, he studied in Dresden and Paris and later at Harvard and Columbia Law Schools and was admitted to the bar in 1886. He won distinction in the field of literature, however. His outstanding dramatic successes were “The New York Idea” and “Becky Sharp.” In the latter, Mrs. Fiske and George Arliss appeared and it was chosen years later as the first full-length photoplay in color. Mr. Mitchell was elected to membership in the National Institute of Arts and Letters. His death occurred in Philadelphia on October 21, 1935.

'82—Herbert Timmins was erroneously reported deceased in the April ALUMNI HORAE. Mr. Timmins is an uncle of Mrs. Drury at the School and is now living in London, England.

'86—Arthur Bainbridge Hoff, Commander, U.S.N., retired, died at his home in Morristown, N. J., on October 21, 1935 in his sixty-sixth year. He was a direct descendant of Commodore William Bainbridge who captained the Constitution and in 1925 he was a leader in the campaign to raise $250,000 to recondition the historic ship. He graduated from Annapolis in 1889 and entered on a distinguished naval career. During the war he was chief cable censor in New York and later commanded the Oregon, a training ship. He was active in many patriotic societies. He was the father of Nicholas R. Hoff, '24, and Arthur Bainbridge Hoff, Jr., '21.

'86—Charles Davis Brackenridge, entered the Second Form, an overgrown boy of six feet and very mature. Because of his size Dr. Coit, who had known his family, placed him with the older boys in old “Number 3,” and thus even in the Second Form Charlie was looked upon as an older boy and a leader. Few boys at St. Paul’s ever wielded more influence for good, and few ever received higher honors from their hands. As president of the Athletic Association for two years, leader in the Missionary Society and the Guild, captain of the Halcyon and of various football and baseball teams, Brackenridge was a true leader, and the School for years felt his influence. He did not go to college but entered business, and for almost thirty years was with the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron Company. In 1906 he married Miss Marcia Newman, who died several years ago. He was born in 1868, the youngest son of Garvin and Anne Hurry Brackenridge. After retiring from business he traveled extensively until his health began to fail. For the last few years he made his home with his sister, Mrs. William A. Meikleham, in Short Hills, N. J., where on April 15, 1935 he died suddenly as the result of a fall.

'86—Radclyffe Furness died January 12, 1936 at his home in Jenkintown, Pa., after an illness of six months. After five years at St. Paul’s, he entered Princeton University from which he was graduated in 1891. Immediately after his graduation he entered upon his business career with the Midvale Steel Co. and remained with this company until his last illness. He was a metallurgist and was the superintendent of the open hearth and forge department of the company at Nicetown, Philadelphia. He was 67 years old at the time of his death.

'88—James Hawley Curtis, attorney and former Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Sullivan County, N. Y., died suddenly at the age of sixty at his home in Callicoon, N. Y., on October 1, 1935. He was a friend of President Roosevelt and was for many years active in Democratic politics. His ancestors were among the early settlers of the Delaware Valley.

'88—Thomas Leonard Livermore was born in Cambridge, Mass. in 1865 and graduated from Harvard in 1894. After his graduation, he was employed in Mexico and Colorado for many years, where he was associated with the mining companies of his father, the late Col. Thomas L. Livermore. He died December 5, 1935 in Sarasota, Florida, where he had made his home for the past twenty years.

'89—Henry Brevoort Eddy, newspaperman and artist, died on July 29, 1935, in Rye, N. Y. Following his graduation from Harvard in 1894, where he was editor of the "Harvard Lampoon," he continued his writing on the staff of the New York Sun and later the New York American. For many years he was a staff writer for "The American Weekly Magazine" and in addition illustrated several books. He was a member of the old Brevort family which is closely associated with the early history of New York. He was in his sixty-fourth year at the time of his death.

'92—Clarence Day, the distinguished author of "Life with Father" of which more than 114,000 copies have been sold since August 1st, died December 28, 1935 in New York City, at the age of sixty-one. After his graduation from Yale in 1896, his father, Clarence Day, a broker, presented him with a seat on the Stock Exchange. He quickly discovered that he did not like Wall Street and left to join the navy. While in service, he was stricken with arthritis and the next twelve years he spent on crutches or in wheel chairs. In spite of his disability, he became one of the eminent literary figures of the day. After various magazine connections, he found his true vein with the publication in 1920 of the volume, "This Simian World." There followed: "The Crow's Nest," "Thoughts without Words," and "God and My Father." He was a brother of George Parmly Day, '93, and Julian Day, '96.

'92—Thatcher Wheeler Hoyt, veteran iron and steel broker, died at his home in Chicago on October 10, 1935, at the age of sixty years. Member of a pioneer Chicago family, he was actively interested in Boy Scout work and the Episcopal Church. He had recently returned from California and was planning to go to Vermont to arrange for the restoration of a family colonial homestead when he was stricken. He was the husband of Phyllis Fergus, the well known musician and composer.

'95—Thomas A. Edison, Jr., the son and namesake of the great inventor, spent the greater part of his life in mechanical and electrical research work and at the time of his death was the head of the research engineering department of The Edison Co. While attending St. Paul's School, he spent his leisure time in experimenting along the lines of his future work and on leaving there opened his own laboratory at Burlington, N. J. He specialized in the improvement of internal combustion engines and received a number of patents for devices furthering their development. He died suddenly in Springfield, Mass. on August 25, 1935, at the age of fifty-nine.

'96—Frederick P. Wilbur was born in Syracuse, New York, on October 29, 1879. He graduated from Williams College in 1902 and from Johns Hopkins Medical School four years later. Since 1908 he had practised medicine in Franklin, N. J., where he passed away on September 8, 1935. He was a member of the medical staff of the Franklin Hospital, the Alexander Linn Hospital of Sussex, N. J., and the Newton (N. J.) Hospital. He was a brother of Hervey Backus Wilbur, '93.

'98—Gouverneur Cadwalader, retired engineer and sportsman, died at his home near Fort Washington, Pa., on October 14, 1935 in his fifty-sixth year. After graduating from the University of Pennsylvania, he became associated with the engineering department of the Pennsylvania Railroad; he later joined the Cresson-Morris Co., engineers, and was their secretary-treasurer when the country entered the War. He entered the service and was attached to the Watertown (Mass.) Arsenal as a major in the Ordnance Corps. He was noted for his interest in both horses and dogs and took an active part in the club life of his city. He was a brother of Dr. William B. Cadwalader, '94; Richard M. Cadwalader, '95; Lambert Cadwalader, '01; and Charles M. B. Cadwalader, '05.

'99—Clinton Averill McLane, a son of the late John McLane, Governor of New Hampshire in 1906 and 1907, died in Concord, N. H., on September 12, 1935. He was a graduate of Harvard and in recent years had been executive secretary of the New Hampshire Public Health Commission. Mr. McLane served with the New Hampshire National Guard Signal Corps on the Mexican border and was a captain in the Signal Corps of the 26th Division, A.E.F. He was one of many representatives of the McLane family who have attended St. Paul's School.

'03—Harold Winslow Simpkins was born in St. Louis, Mo. on August 16, 1885. After graduating from Harvard, he was associated with the Hydraulic Pressed Brick Co. in St. Louis from 1907 to 1914. From 1914 to 1917 he managed their plant at DuBois, Pa. In 1917 he went with the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works of which he became treasurer and sales manager in 1925. He died in St. Louis on July 11, 1935.

'09—Harry Grayson Martin, former Philadelphia radio promoter and one-time member of the U. S. Olympic bobsled team, died in Germantown, Pa. on August 30, 1935. After leaving St. Paul's School, he studied abroad and at the outbreak of the War enlisted in the British Army and rose to the rank of major. He was captured and confined in a German prison camp for some time just before the Armistice. He was associated recently with Veitch, Shaw & Remsen, Inc., New York insurance brokers.

'11—Henry C. Coe, Jr., who won the Croix de Guerre in the World War for courageous conduct while serving with an American ambulance, died January 2, 1936 in New York, N. Y., at the age of forty-four. After attending St. Paul's School, and a brief experience of ranch life in the West, he entered the employ of the Standard Oil Co. in Boston. In 1915 he went to Alaska, then to California. After the Armistice he spent three years in France in American Graves Registration Service. He was a brother of Fordyce Barker Coe, '10.

'13—Emerson MacMillin, 3d, grandson of Emerson MacMillin, capitalist and art collector, died on December 27, 1935 in New York City, after a long illness at the age of forty-one. After leaving St. Paul's, he attended Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University. In the World War period, he served as a private secretary to the late Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page in Rome and as a liaison officer in the United States Navy Aviation Corps.

'18—William Owen Ellis Fielding-Jones, who was born in Scotland in 1900, had a brief but interesting and colorful career. On leaving St. Paul's in 1917, he joined the Royal Air Force and after his training, flew at the French front and also in Egypt. After the Armistice, he returned to America for a few months, then went to New South Wales, Australia, and bought a sheep station there. His love of adventure led to exploration in New Guinea in 1923 for which he was made a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society. In 1926 he went as war correspondent for the Sydney newspapers to Morocco and from there to England to cover the general strike in London. He then returned to sheep raising in Australia where he died in Sydney on June 30, 1935. In accordance with his wish, his close friend, Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, scattered his ashes over Sydney from the monoplane, the "Southern Cross."

'19—Theodore Seibt Hanington died at his home in Denver, Colo., on December 8, 1935 after a year's illness. He was born in Denver in 1901 and, after attending St. Paul's, graduated at Harvard in 1923. From childhood he was deeply interested in tennis and in 1928 won the Denver singles championship. He was secretary of the University Club of Denver and his business connection was with the Colorado National Bank.

'32—Arthur Wellman Butler, Jr., died accidentally due to injuries while hunting near his home at Bedford, New York on August 27, 1935. He would have been a Senior at Princeton this Fall. He had been on the varsity hockey squad for two years, belonged to Whig-Clio, the debating society, and was a member of the Terrace Club.
