Dear Alumni:

For the first time in twenty-two years the School opened this fall without Mr. Archer Harman, Sr., who resigned in mid-summer. Every boy who has been in the School since 1928 will remember him as a housemaster or a Latin teacher or a coach or a friendly counsellor, and many men have taken their troubles to him and have departed with lighter hearts. He is sorely missed.

His position as Vice Rector has been filled by Mr. Francis V. Lloyd, Jr., who will continue with his duties as Director of Studies as well. Mr. Lloyd is thoroughly familiar with all the fields of activity in the School, having been a housemaster in three different houses, including five years as Head of the Lower School, an English teacher, and a coach. His skill in finding the right college for Sixth Formers is proverbial, and his advice to them about courses is that of an expert.

Mr. Harman's duties as Director of Admissions have been taken over by Mr. Thomas W. Nazro, who has been the Head of the Upper School for a number of years and head coach of the Old Hundred Football Team. It is, of course, impossible for him to continue to hold these positions now, since a considerable amount of his time will be taken up in travelling around the country, talking about the School and showing the moving picture of it. We are confident that in this way our list of applicants will grow, not only in numbers but in breadth of geographical distribution.

We welcome the return of Mr. H. Dymoke Casson, whom many of you will remember when he was here in the years 1931 to 1936. Mr. Casson has been teaching in St. Stephen's School, Alexandria, Virginia, for the past four years, and before that he served in the Navy. We are delighted to have him back with Mrs. Casson. They are living in the apartment in Hargate.

The two new buildings are progressing steadily. The Payson Memorial Laboratory (which will be called Payson) has reached a point where it is possible, by walking around inside it, to get an idea of what it will mean to our Science Department when they move in. It will inevitably result in better work in all branches of Science. The steel girders of the new Memorial Auditorium are all in place. It was a thrill for young and old alike to watch the crane swing them aloft. One of them, the support for the balcony, weighed eleven and a half tons, and had to have a crane at each end to lift it. Unfortunately the boys were in class when this maneuver took place, but they have watched others with fascinated interest. The authorities tell us that both these buildings will be finished by the end of the spring term.

In spite of the fact that 365 boys are playing football this term, we have a vigorous and, up to date, a successful Soccer Team. I call it successful, because it has tied the two games it has played: one against Brooks with a score of 1 to 1 and the other against Kimball Union with a score of 2 to 2. We were particularly delighted to do so well against Kimball Union, because their team rates high and... had had a distinguished season. We have Governor Dummer and Mt. Hermon still to play, and our hopes are high that we may survive these games as well.

Next week the Fall Dance will take place. This is a comparatively recent innovation, but serves pleasantly to enliven the Fall Term. It is less formal than our Mid-Winter party, and the girls visit the School for a shorter time, but the interest is just as keen as when they are here longer—keener perhaps, for sometimes conversation begins to lag along toward the end of the second day!

It is too early to prophesy what kind of a Sixth Form we shall have this year, Academically they are a little below the marks set by the last two Sixth Forms, but hard work may remedy that. The Council has more widely divergent qualities among its members than has sometimes been the case, a fact which results in lively meetings and fruitful differences of opinion. They are planning tentatively to have another joint meeting this year with representatives of the Council of the Concord High School, and though the functions of the two organizations are necessarily widely at variance, such meetings help to cement friendly relations between the two schools.

From the point of view of weather, we have never had a lovelier fall. I wish that more of you could have been here to see the foliage.

Sincerely yours,

HENRY C. KITTREDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Harman, Sr., are particularly missed after twenty-two years at the School. Archer Harman, Jr., has become Head of the New Upper, succeeding Mr. Nazro, while Mr. Stuckey has taken over Mr. Nazro’s coaching assignment of the first Old Hundred football team.

Old Hundreds among the alumni, who in the past were accustomed to an occasional Old Hundred victory, will be interested in the news of a decided turn of the tide. At the end of the first round of games, the Old Hundred Club had laid up a score of eleven victories and one tie, with the Delphians in the lead for second place. The Isthmian team, however, is never so dangerous as when it is apparently out of the running. Witness two years ago, when, after losing the first two games, it came back to win the next four. This year is no exception. The second round of games has started with a 14-13 victory by a much improved Isthmian team over an over-confident Old Hundred eleven. So the first team series bids to be more closely fought than at first seemed likely. This first game lost by the Old Hundred Club is, incidentally, the thirteenth it has played.

A new emphasis in the life of the School is the increased importance being given to Group masters. A school as large as St. Paul's must always be concerned about the degree of individual attention which a boy receives and about the facilitating of personal contacts between parents and the School. The Group master, who in all cases is also a boy's housemaster, has been established as the logical and most direct contact for parents who wish information about their boy. There will be increased correspondence between the Group master and parents. All academic and disciplinary decisions will be made in consultation with a boy's Group master. The public posting of fortnight grades has been discontinued, these grades now being given out personally by each master living in a dormitory to the boys in his group. Currently, the Group masters are checking each boy's schedule to spot instances of overloading on any particular day with a view to easing the burden of classes to be prepared.

A development in the academic life of the School, in line with what is being done in other schools, is the testing program carried out at the beginning of each year. An example of this is the diagnostic reading test given to the first four Forms. As a result of this test, about sixty boys attend special, small classes to speed up their reading by the aid of films. Intensive work is done with the very few who have severe difficulties. The upper four Forms take the American Council Aptitude Test, designed to estimate the ability of a boy. The Registrar has correlated the results of this latter test with College Board scores of recent years to be able to predict what a boy is likely to do in his Board Exams. Such predictions have proved accurate enough to be helpful to the Director of Studies in advising Sixth Formers about getting into college.

Another feature, again with the Sixth Form in mind, is a series of talks on various vocations to be given every two weeks. John McIlwaine, '41, spoke to the Sixth Form, October 21st, on the subject of Personnel. The next talk, scheduled for November 4th, will be given by Mr. Newell Brown of Concord, N. H., on Politics and Public Life.

The Work Program has now so fitted into the life of the School that more and more supervision is being done by boys and less by masters. The Pelican reports a saving last year of $4,000 on the grounds alone, directly attributable to the boys. Leaf-raking, landscaping and painting have been the chief activities so far this fall.

Actors and scene painters of the Dramatic Club are already hard at work on the difficult project of producing "Julius Caesar," in the original, for the Thanksgiving play. This is the first Shakespearean play to be put on, I believe, since 1941 when the Orson Welles' version of "Julius Caesar" was produced.

While the new Science building and the Auditorium in construction offer the biggest change in the physical appearance of the School, other lesser but noticeable improvements include a new ceiling for the study hall and the transformation of the master's apartment in the east wing of the New Upper, formerly limited to the ground floor, into a duplex apartment.

The Council is continuing the excellent practice, initiated a few years ago, of posting periodic bulletins to keep the School informed of matters of general interest which it has discussed or taken action on in previous meetings.

There is a feeling of freshness and vigor in the School which comes from the exhilarating autumn air of New Hampshire, the excitement and activity of the football season, and the start of a new year with its promise and hopes.

COMMITTEE FOR ENROLLMENT: A NEW UNDERTAKING

As individuals, all of us are aware of the changes which within the past generation have profoundly affected the economic and social fabric of this country. As alumni, we must also recognize the effect of these changes upon the life and well being of an independent secondary school such as St. Paul's.

No longer can the School look forward with certainty or confidence to waiting lists made up of sons of alumni entered at birth, and sons of parents anxious and able to afford a private, secondary school education. Nor can it count any longer upon the annual influx from Boston, New York and Philadelphia which for so many years has made up the main body of St. Paul's students. The number of families able to underwrite an education at St. Paul's for their sons today is steadily diminishing. And, relatively, this diminishing number is no longer concentrated in convenient proximity to Concord.

If enrollment is to be maintained at an adequate level, the nation as a whole must be canvassed for eligible candidates. Broad geographic representation has always been an objective for the School; it now becomes also an economic necessity.

These facts serve as preface to the appointment this year by the Board of Trustees of Gardner D. Stout, '22, as trustee chairman of an alumni committee for enrollment, to be formed for the purpose of examining the essential problem and recommending to the Board appropriate and realistic steps toward its solution. In addition to Mr. Stout as chairman, those who were named to the committee are Archibald S. Alexander, '24, Esty Stowell, '30, J. Frederic Byers, '32, and E. Newton Cutler, Jr., '33. More recently John S. Pillsbury, Jr., '31, elected this year a trustee, was also appointed to the committee.

The committee had before it to begin with, and most fortunately, the invaluable experience of Messrs. Harman, Lloyd and Nazro, who, without formal organization for the purpose, had made during the fall and winter of 1949-1950 several trips to a number of cities throughout the country, visiting alumni and spreading the gospel according to St. Paul to groups of interested, prospective parents gathered together by local alumni hosts. The reports of these trips were illuminating in many ways, and the actual accomplishments highly encouraging. (Parenthetically, it may be noted that field work of this kind is neither new nor unusual; it has been undertaken for some time by a number of other established preparatory schools.)

Very early in its discussion, the committee agreed without difficulty that, of all the promotional methods it might recommend, none appeared, for the present at least, so productive or so appropriate to the purpose of the School as travel by competent representatives of St. Paul's to areas from which the School may hope to attract candidates for admission. To make such a program effective, however, it was quickly evident that groundwork was necessary in several important directions:

... the appointment of a member of the School to be responsible for the program, with authoritative faculty status, time to devote to the job, and assistance competent to handle many administrative details.

... the improvement of existing communications between the School and its alumni, particularly those located beyond the Eastern Seaboard, so that they may be informed of the tremendous vitality which characterizes the School today, and has kept it so completely abreast of the times.

... the organization of alumni into local or sectional groups, specifically to act as hosts for School representatives on occasion of their visits, and generally to serve throughout the year as missionaries for the School within their communities.

In a period of less than six months, the concurrence of the Rector, the Trustees and the Alumni Association in this program have made possible a substantial amount of progress:

... the appointment of Thomas M. Nazro as Director of Admissions to succeed Mr. Harman, who has done such splendid work over the years. Among other duties, Mr. Nazro will have full responsibility for the program of travelling representation for the School. He will have completed one field trip by the time this issue of the Horae is printed. He will be assisted at the School by a competent, full-time paid secretary already engaged for the purpose.

... the publication in October of the first issue of the S.P.S. News.
This new school publication will be edited by Samuel T. Bodine, '35 and circulated twice each term to alumni, parents, and—with promotional intent—to prospective S.P.S. parents. Its editorial policy is distinct from that of the Alumni Horae, in that its purpose is to convey news of current interest about the School. The Horae has been described as functioning to interpret alumni to themselves; in this sense, the News is intended to interpret the School to the alumni. It is also intended to answer some of the queries of prospective St. Paul's School parents, in which questioning category alumni may themselves be frequently included.

... the formation of a committee of the Alumni Association, consisting of Arthur W. Bingham, '18, and Laurance B. Rand, '27, to explore the ways and means by which local or sectional alumni groups may be most effectively organized.

These are beginnings only ... first steps in an undertaking which will ultimately require much further development. And to be successful, this program must rely upon the continuing interest and cooperation of all alumni. The committee feels, however, that the steps so far taken are thoroughly hopeful, and thoroughly deserving of alumni support. The basis for that support is the opportunity to contribute to the vitality of St. Paul's.
As St. Paul’s opens for another year, eight new masters have become members of the faculty. The Sacred Studies Department will be bolstered by the addition of two teachers while three men have come to teach English. Completing the group are a Mathematics teacher, a Spanish and French teacher and an Art instructor.

Mr. Abbe

Mr. William P. Abbe, who will reside in Manville, has come to SPS as the new Art instructor. He received his B.S. in Art Education in 1949 at Teachers College, Columbia University. Mr. Abbe, a graduate of Avon School, also studied for two years with the Art Students League of New York. In addition he took a two year course in Scenic Design with the Yale Department of Drama. During the last war Mr. Abbe served for four and a half years as an Army engineer and spent one and a half years in Europe. Last year he was the Art instructor at the Newton (Mass.) Junior High School. His summer home is in Oak Bluffs on Martha’s Vineyard Island.

Mr. Eddy

Mr. Robert R. Eddy attended Chester High School, Chesterland, O., before he went to Yale University. He graduated in 1950 with a B.S. degree. Mr. Eddy spent three summers as a counselor at Camp Mowglie in East Hebron, N. H. Although a senior at college, he taught Mathematics at New Haven Junior College last year. Mr. Eddy will also teach Mathematics here and will live in Dorm I of the Lower School.

Mr. Phillips

Mr. Calvin H. Phillips will teach Spanish and French at St. Paul’s and will live in the Lower School. He is a graduate of Wyoming High School, Wyoming, Pa. (1941) and then graduated from Phillips Andover Academy in 1942. He attended Princeton University for one year before entering the Army. Mr. Phillips was a member of the Field Artillery until transferred to European Civil Affairs. In this branch of the Army he worked in Europe interpreting French. During the war he was sent to the University of Indiana from September 1943 to February 1944. After VJ Day Mr. Phillips returned to Princeton and graduated with an A.B. degree in June 1948. He then started working for his M.A. degree which he received last year at the Harvard Graduate School. For the past two summers Mr. Phillips has been a private tutor for some boys who attend the Millbrook School. He resides in Wyoming, Pa.

Mr. Gasson

Mr. H. Dymoke Gasson returns to St. Paul's after fourteen years' absence. He taught here from 1931 to 1936. During the War, he served as a Lieutenant Commander in the U. S. Navy for three years. From 1946 until 1950, Mr. Gasson was a master at St. Stephen's School, Alexandria, Virginia. He and his wife now live in the apartment above Hargate. He will join the Sacred Studies Department.

Mr. Blake

Rev. Clinton H. Blake, Jr., comes to School after being the associate Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Buffalo, N. Y. He is residing in Scudder with his wife and six-year-old son and will occupy the whole building. Mr. Blake, who teaches Sacred Studies, is a graduate of Deerfield Academy and Amherst College. He received his B.M. at the Union Theological Seminary and an S.T.M. degree at General Theological Seminary where he majored in History.

Mr. Dixon

Mr. T. Henry Dixon was Senior Prefect in the Class of 1936 at St. George's School, Newport, R. I. He received his B.A. at Princeton University in 1940 and also played Varsity football there. Mr. Dixon joined the Army during the War and was a member of the Field Artillery of the Third Army in Europe. While in the Army he taught in the Field Artillery School at Fort Sill for one and a half years. After his discharge Mr. Dixon was in business in Philadelphia and then entered the University of Pennsylvania to obtain an M.A. degree. Mr. Dixon who is married and has two children, will teach English and lives in a house on Fiske Road.

Mr. Lehmann

Mr. Alexander H. Lehmann was educated at Choate School ('35) and Princeton University ('39). After teaching English and Public Speaking at Phillips Andover Academy he went back to Choate where he was a master for six years and became the faculty advisor of The Choate News. Mr. Lehmann, who is a native of New York City, will live above the Study and teach English at SPS.

Mr. Garcia

Mr. Walter M. Garcia is the first apprentice teacher to come to St. Paul's. He will be a member of the English Department, although he will not conduct any classes officially. Mr. Garcia, who makes his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., is a graduate of City College of New York and the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University. He served in the U. S. Army and was sent to Europe during the War. Mr. Garcia, who has received some experience as a substitute teacher in New York City High Schools, is situated above the Study also.

S. P. S. PLATES

The Alumni Office at the School informs us that 72 sets of the School plates have just arrived from England. Alumni, who are constantly making inquiries about these plates, may have further information by writing to Business Office, St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.
MEETING OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE

The annual dinner meeting of the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association of St. Paul's School was held at the Racquet and Tennis Club, New York, on Thursday evening, November 2nd, 1950.

The president of the Alumni Association, Ranald H. Macdonald, '11, opened the meeting by welcoming the members and guests. He expressed his gratitude to Mr. Kittredge for coming down from School and presented a "long distance cup" to John Chapin, '38, for coming all the way from Michigan for this occasion.

The new members of the Committee were asked to rise: John C. Chapin, '38; John R. Clark, '34; Rowland J. Cox, '46; William G. Foulke, '30; Willis L. M. Reese, '31; and Volney F. Righter, '22. Unfortunately the other new members, Richard S. Emmet, Jr., '42; David M. Keiser, '23; Charles Scribner, Jr., '39; and John F. Walton, Jr., '12, were unable to be present.

Francis D. Rogers, '31, was elected secretary for the ensuing year.

Malcolm E. McAulpin, '28, chairman of the Hockey Committee, presented his report. He stated that his committee had paid particular attention to the relative merits of college freshmen as opposed to school games. In the last ten years the S.P.S. team has played five schools and turned over from these games approximately $16,000.00 to the School Camp. During the same period five college games have been played and the resulting proceeds have been only $8,700.00. He further pointed out that the sum total of the five most profitable college games since 1934 has been only $13,000.00. In view of these facts Mr. McAulpin urged that the School reconsider the decision to play freshmen teams so as to take advantage of the apparent greater revenue from the school games, with consequent greater contribution to the School Camp.

Mr. Macdonald announced that Albert Francke, Jr., '20, had accepted the chairmanship of the Alumni Fund for the coming year and introduced Mr. Francke.

August Heckscher, '32, reporting on the Alumni Horae, spoke of the possible effect on this publication of the newly published S.P.S. News. While there is a place for both, Mr. Heckscher dwelt on his ideas for five changes in the Alumni Horae, which would improve it markedly. A considerable discussion arose as a result of Mr. Heckscher's remarks. There were many questions as to what the new S.P.S. News actually is and to whom it is sent. In identifying this publication, further complications arose when The Pelican and Pictorial were mentioned. Mr. Macdonald clarified the issue by listing and characterizing the various publications. He stressed the importance of the recently inaugurated S.P.S. News in developing interest in the School during the present period when it is advisable to secure for the School the best boys from all parts of the country, a most important consideration.

William M. Evarts, '05, moved a vote of complete confidence in Mr. Heckscher's direction of the Alumni Horae with acceptance of his direction as the best assurance of the highest quality for this publication. This vote was then unanimously passed.

Mr. Thomas W. Nazro, Director of Admissions, was introduced as the "School's traveller." He spoke of his trips to various areas of the country where there should be either renewed interest in S.P.S. or interest created. He reported on the Committee on Enrollment of which Gardner D. Stout, '22, is chairman and of their efforts to develop a promotion program for the School. He echoed Mr. Macdonald's remarks on the problems of enrollment, stating that this program and the S.P.S. News were vital elements in correcting this situation.

The program entails an effort, first, to have a proper interest shown in the parents who visit the School. Second, effort is directed at the reception of parents who are looking at the School as a possible place for their boys. Great care is exercised in seeing that these parents are given every opportunity to see the School's intimate life; that proper guides are available, classes visited, etc. The third effort is represented by the S.P.S. News, which aims primarily to appeal to persons now outside the School family. The last effort consists of the above mentioned trips to various cities where meetings are held with prospective pupils and their parents.

Mr. Macdonald announced that the annual St. Paul's School services will be held on April 8th at St. Bartholomew's Church where the Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., '22, is now the Rector. Percy L. Hance, '09, will be chairman of the New York Church Service Committee.

The treasurer, Percy Chubb, 2d, '27, gave the treasurer's report as follows:

“I present herewith Treasurer’s Report for the period commencing June 1, 1950 and ending October 31, 1950. This indicates assets totaling $69,164.55, liabilities totaling $1,908.05, for a net worth of $67,256.50. This net worth is represented by Government Bonds totaling $40,125, the balance being cash. Income since June 30th has totaled $9,795.19 and expenses have totaled $10,062.80. In addition, we have transferred to the School $2,500, representing the 50th Anniversary Fund of the Class of 1899 received by the Alumni Association in 1949. Detailed figures are on the table for the examination of any interested member of the Standing Committee. The foregoing are of course subject to adjustment upon audit by the Association’s public accountants.

“Historically the first six months of the calendar year have consistently shown a substantial excess of income over disbursements, owing to subscriptions to the Alumni Fund. By the same token, the second six months of the calendar year have shown an excess of disbursements over receipts. This deficit is increased by the fact that the contribution of the Alumni Association to the School is customarily made at the Standing Committee meeting in November, and falls into the second six months. As the fiscal year of the Alumni Association commences June 1st, we find ourselves in each fiscal year making our contribution to the School before the bulk of contributions applicable to that fiscal year have come in. The Executive Committee has considered the desirability of amending the fiscal year of the Alumni Association to commence on December 1st of each year, with the thought that if this step is taken, substantially the full results of each fiscal year will be available at future annual meetings of the Standing Committee, at which time the annual contribution to the School can be determined in the light of the financial position for the year. A resolution giving effect to this change will be presented for consideration at this meeting of the Standing Committee.

“With regard to the situation confronting us at the present time, we anticipate that the cash balance of the Alumni Association as of January 1, 1951, should approximate $25,000, less any contribution voted by the Standing Committee this evening to the School. If the recommendation of the Executive Committee is accepted and this meeting tonight votes a contribution to the School of $15,000, the cash balance will remain at about $10,000, which should be adequate for all contingencies.”

The report was approved as read. Mr. Chubb then proposed the following resolution which was seconded and carried:

“RESOLVED, that effective after November 30, 1950, the fiscal year of the Association shall begin on December 1, and end on November 30.”

The president introduced Laurance Rand, '27, chairman of the 1950 Alumni Fund, commending his outstanding performance. Mr. Rand reported that a total of $37,641.10 had been received during the past year which was $6,727.85 ahead of the previous year. Included in the amount was the 25th Anniversary Gift of $1,803.00 contributed by the Form of 1925 under the leadership of Henry A. Wilmerding. Mr. Rand praised especially the successful efforts of Frank Sulloway, '00, in raising a 50th Anniversary Gift of $3,040.00 from the members of his form, and of Marshall J. Dodge, '29, in collecting the sum of $2,203.00 from the members of his form. He stated that the number of contributors this year, 2190, was the largest number on record. He then offered the following resolution which was seconded and unanimously carried:

"RESOLVED, by the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association of St. Paul's School, in executive session, that the Treasurer of the Alumni Association be, and he hereby is, instructed to hand to the president, for transmittal, a check to the order of the School for $15,000.00 (Fifteen thousand dollars) as a gift from the 1950 Alumni Fund of the Association;

"AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be forwarded by the President to the Rector of the School, President of the Board of Trustees, Clerk of the Board of Trustees, and to the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees."

It was most gratifying to hear that the gift to the School this year was $5,000.00 above that of last year and Mr. Rand was given a rising vote of thanks for his careful and successful efforts on behalf of the School.

Arthur W. Bingham, Jr., '18, reported on the War Memorial Building and the War Book. The total monies received for the War Memorial Building will now permit approximately $120,000.00 over and above construction costs to be used as an endowment fund for the building.

Eight hundred copies of the War Book have so far been sold at a cost of $4.80 per volume. Mr. Bingham stated, however, that publication had cost $6,564.03 and that so far $3,361.20 has been received. He felt that, with the emphasis which the Alumni Horae will give to the book and with its use for Christmas giving, there should be no problem in securing sufficient funds to cover expenses; but he added that of the more than 4,200 alumni there were now a great majority who were not getting the benefit of this valuable and interesting publication.

Mr. Bingham further reported for the Nominating Committee the name of E. Esty Stowell, '30, to take the place on the Standing Committee left vacant by the departure to Russia of Charles B. McLane, '34. He then read nominations for the Executive Committee for the ensuing year. Upon motion duly made and carried, the nominees were elected to membership on their respective committees as follows:

Standing Committee, E. Esty Stowell, '30; Executive Committee, Ranald H. Macdonald, '11; Trowbridge Callaway, '01; Martin J. Keogh, Jr., '04; William M. Evarts, '05; Arthur W. Bingham, Jr., '18; Albert Francke, '20; Percy Chubb, 2nd, '27; Rowland Stebbins, Jr., '27; E. Newton Cutler, Jr., '33; August Heckscher, '32, and Paul Moore, Jr., '37.

Mr. Evarts spoke on the splendid results of the work of Mr. Channing Lefevbre, for ten years the organist at the School. He emphasized the great job he had done and the asset he was to the whole School. In about 1945 Mr. Lefevbre had expressed his desire to make certain alterations to the organ so as to bring it up to date and make the choir music what it should be in our Chapel. To do this the console should be placed on the Chapel floor and a celestial organ added. Mr. Lefevbre obtained an estimate of $35,000.00 to accomplish this work and has, with the permission of the Trustees, raised so far about $12,000.00. Mr. Evarts read a portion of a letter from Mr. Lefevbre stating that the "poor old organ grinder now had to look to the advice and help of the Alumni Association." After discussion Mr. Evarts proposed the following resolution:
“That the Alumni Association request the consent of the 1900 Form for the use of the $3,040.00 raised as their 50th Anniversary Gift in furthering Mr. Lefevre’s project, and further that the president of the Alumni Association appoint a committee to assist in raising the funds necessary to complete this project.”

After considerable discussion of this resolution and the assurance that nothing would be done which would interfere with the Alumni Fund, it was seconded and carried. This means that the 1950 Alumni Fund will have given this year $15,000.00 to the School, plus the $1,803.00 gift of the 25th Reunion Form of 1925, plus the $3,040.00 gift of the Fiftieth Anniversary Form of 1900, if approved by that form. The treasurer expressed the opinion that this amount could be given this year without cutting into the Alumni Association’s reserve fund.

Malcolm Kenneth Gordon, ’87, was then elected chairman. In introducing the Rector, Mr. Gordon recalled that he had known not only Henry Kittredge all his life but, as well, his parents. He felt, therefore, perfectly free in putting the Rector to the acid test of answering questions presented by any of the present members at the close of Mr. Kittredge’s remarks.

Mr. Kittredge dwelt on the aims of St. Paul’s. The ideal of giving the boys the utmost possible in education as well as in self-development is based on the conception that boys will accept and treat wisely responsibility up to the limit of the courage of the School to give it. This has been and still is the aim of teaching at the School. Perhaps this ideal cannot be reached but it is, nevertheless, the conscious aim. The Rector expressed his appreciation of the Alumni support which the School continues to get in strong measure. When a feeling of loneliness comes to Millville, he stated, he has recourse in thinking of the Association and thanking God for it.

At this point Mr. Gordon took up his threat of asking for questions from the floor. Jared Ingersoll, ’13, asked the Rector how the School was functioning at the present time. The heart of the School is the Council, Mr. Kittredge replied. They meet alone on Sunday and again in the week with the Rector and Messrs. Lloyd and Nazro, who attend as visitors. Their assumption of responsibility is universal and this responsibility encompasses the real problems of the boys at the School. Their job is to achieve cooperation from the whole School, which they do by serious and conscientious work in answering the problems which come up and also by keeping the boys informed as to the activities and usefulness of the Council.

In replying to George Romans, ’28, the Rector stated that placement of graduating boys in colleges in recent years has resulted in approximately 75% reaching the college of their first choice and the remaining 25% reaching colleges of their second and third choice.

Before the meeting was adjourned, Mr. Chapin offered a vote of appreciation for all the work so successfully carried on by Mr. Archer Harman, ’09, who recently retired as Vice Rector, and the best wishes of the Alumni Association to Mr. Frank Lloyd, who has succeeded to his position.

After singing “Salve Mater,” Mr. Macdonald adjourned what proved to be one of the most interesting meetings of the Standing Committee in recent years.

In addition to those mentioned as being present, the thirty-seven in attendance included: Trowbridge Callaway, ’01, Carll Tucker, ’00, and Arthur E. Neergaard, ’99, former presidents; William Hale Harkness, ’18, and Rowland Stebbins, Jr., ’27, vice-presidents; S. Rodger Callaway, ’32, assistant treasurer; John B. Edmonds, ’19, secretary and clerk; and the following members of the Standard Committee: Frederick B. Adams, Jr., ’28; E. Calvert Cheston, ’28; Archibald Cox, ’30; Frederick R. Drayton, ’13; Martin J. Keogh, Jr., ’04; Devereux Milburn, Jr., ’35; Henry Parish, 2nd, ’22; J. Lawrence Pool, ’24; Williamson Thomas, ’31, and William R. Wister, ’23.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS DAY ROGERS, ’31, Secretary.
NEW YORK HOCKEY GAME
December 20, Madison Square Garden — 3:15 p.m.

Since our opponents this year at the New York Hockey Game are the Princeton Freshmen, this annual benefit competition will be played for the “Hobey” Baker Memorial Trophy. The last New York game with Princeton was played in 1948 when the trophy went to St. Paul’s by a score of 3 to 2. The date of the game is the Wednesday before Christmas, as it was last year.

Our suspicions that a later date would increase attendance at the New York Hockey Game were more than confirmed last year. The attendance was excellent. This added to the all around efforts of the various committee members plus the most glamorous group of program-girls yet seen, gave us a near record, $3,655.43, to turn over to the School’s camp at Danbury, New Hampshire. This year the date is the same, the girls will be more glamorous than ever and the committees are already hard at work, so the results from a financial standpoint should be good.

Alumni will note that departing from usual practice, tickets will be on sale at Garden, Princeton Club of New York and at the P.U.A.A. Office at Princeton — not at the S.P.S. New York Office. Prices are as follows:

- Loge seats (former box seats), including tax $3.60
- Arena seats, back of loge, including tax 2.40
- Promenade seats, on ice level, including tax 2.40

Mention was made last year of the fact that certain loyal Alumni who were unable to attend the game, took the opportunity to send in donations to the School Camp. Once again we should like to thank them, and urge that they continue their most welcome support. Possibly, Alumni who control corporations unable to take advertising space in the program because of schedules or corporate policy could personally send their contributions to the camp at this time.

The report from the Pelican concerning the School’s Camp follows:

This summer was a highly successful one for the School Camp and in many ways. Mr. Montgomery, assisted by John Merrick and 27 SPS boys who came up for two or four week periods, again did a fine job of running the Camp for its two month session.

Some of the most notable improvements over last summer were the installment of new facilities of all kinds, a better food supply because of help from the government, an increased number of visitors, and a fine health record.

Councillors Unable To Come

One of the more unfortunate aspects was the inability of many of those who had signed up as councillors to keep their engagement. There was a bright side to this problem in the spirit with which others responded to Mr. Montgomer- y's hurried telegrams for help.
Among those who volunteered perhaps Dave Osgood, of last year's Sixth Form, is the most worthy of mention. When his planned trip to Alaska was cancelled, Dave spent a whole month at the Camp and turned out to be one of the best councillors of the summer.

Boys from Three Cities

As usual there were two groups from New York, in the second and fourth periods this year, one from Boston, in the first period, and another from Concord, in the third period. In both the Boston and first New York groups there was a boy who could not come, so another was brought up from Concord. In the second New York aggregation there were three fill-ins from Concord, one of whom won the Best Camper Award.

Facility Improvements

There was a new dock this year and the Camp acquired its own mower, which kept the grounds neater. Also a new sanitary building was constructed with help by the campers; the plumbing and an electric water heater will be installed next spring and it will be ready for use in the summer. The cement blocks for the building were donated by the father of Jack Rice, of last year's Sixth Form, the President of Manchester
Sand and Gravel Co.

Albert At Camp

Albert Brochu was back again in the kitchen with his job made more pleasant by supplies of government surplus potatoes, powdered eggs, butter, and cheese obtained at no cost by the camp.
Albert is always a favorite with everyone at the Camp and it was grand to have him there again.

Many Visitors

Among the visitors to the Camp were Mr. and Mrs. Kittredge, Mr. Peters, who spent some time there before going abroad, Mr. Jacq who stayed for a month, Bliss Carnochan, a graduate of St. Paul's, Mr. Hoofnagle and Mr. Webb, who preached there some of the Sundays.

Altogether it was a splendid summer and all who worked there are to be congratulated.

The Councillors — First Period

R. McKee, P. Oddenfison, Follis, Jeferys, Caldwell, Halle, Newlin, Scherer.

Second Period

A. Davis, Francke, G. Stout, E. B.
McKee, Nauman, Christian, G. H. B.
Gould.

Third Period

Bidwell, Douglas, Dickinson, Osgood, Ponvert, Schade, Craigmyle.

Fourth Period

Borie, Manny, Cushman, Coffin, Large, Osgood.

Malcolm E. McAlpin, will again head the Alumni Committee in charge of arrangements for the New York Hockey game and Mrs. Gardner D. Stout will again be chairman of the Ladies' Committee. Miss Nora Francke is chairman of the Junior Committee of program girls and William Ver Plank Newlin is chairman of the Program Committee of boys at the School.

MALCOLM E. McALPIN. '28, Chairman
OF ALL the many attractions which lure us back to St. Paul's few conjure up more pleasing thoughts than the Chapel and its music. Most of us remember occasions above others when the fortuitous combination of sight, sound and sentiment left peculiarly abiding impressions. Music, of all the forces that play upon the individual's sensibilities, has the greatest power to evoke, to set in motion, and to crystalize for a moment powerful feelings born of recollected experience; thus, many of us would be deeply moved by the merest mechanical approximation of the sound of the choir and the School singing in the Chapel. The effect is considerably more powerful when the listener, half fearing to anticipate too much, discovers that the recently recorded "St. Paul's School Chapel Music" is from the technical standpoint first-rate, and therefore, for much of its surface, conveys the actual sound of "live" music sung and played in the Chapel and nowhere else. It is perhaps the more impressive because this happy result was achieved without special preparations and rehearsals and repeated recordings.

The two surfaces of a single long-playing disk present a selection of some of the most affectionately regarded and familiar music of the Chapel repertory as well as several anthems which, taken as a group, show the varied ability and scope of the choir. As a cross-section, it has quite naturally some of both the virtues and weaknesses of actual day-by-day performances. The collection opens with some music on the Chapel carillon which rings out spaciously and clearly in the open air. Two favorite hymns by Mr. Knox, "Love Divine" and, appropriately as the final piece, the Last Night hymn, are sung by the entire School with characteristic vigour and vitality. Scarcely less massive and impressive in sound is Mr. Lefebvre's arrangement of Sibelius' "Onward Ye Peoples," sung by the choir and Glee Club of one hundred boys. This is a happy inclusion since it serves to reveal the flourishing state of the Glee Club which languished at the point of death for many years before Mr. Lefebvre revitalized it.

The four anthems which comprise the principal portion of the collection are well chosen for interest and variety. The difficult solo in "O Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem" is sung with straightforward simplicity and barely perceptible nervousness (which is as it should be) by H. Edward Manville III, and the balance of the choir and organ are excellent throughout. The unaccompanied motet for eight voices by the Venetian composer Lotti, by all odds the most difficult work to be sung, has its moments of expressive beauty, but suffers somewhat from a hollowness of acoustical effect which smacks more of the handiwork of recording engineers than the pleasing reasonance of the Chapel. "O for the Wings of a Dove" by Mendelssohn, no longer a work regarded as the paragon of taste in church music, is nonetheless a "natural" for young Bennett Eppes, who is the possessor of an exceptionally fine soprano voice. His singing together with the cooperative support of the choir leaves nothing to be desired. The "Hallelujah Chorus," undeniably the finest music to be sung, carries off the honours with a most impressive performance of utmost clarity of rhythm and vocalisation combined admirably with the organ.

This highly successful project was the brain-child of Peter Oddleifson, President of the Missionary Society. After the work of several recording engineers in Boston had been examined, the Trans-Radio Company was commissioned to make the recordings, all of which were taken during a single weekend in the Spring Term. The press ings of the records were then made by RCA Victor. Unfortunately the first records issued and sold at Commencement last year turned out to be defective to some extent, due to necessity of compressing so much music on two surfaces, with the result that certain passages were practically unplayable on the average phonograph. Once this problem had been discovered the Victor Company made a new pressing with the recording grooves properly spaced out. Anyone who owns one of the imperfect first issue of records may now replace it without cost by a corrected new one.

Altogether the success of this recording calls for congratulations to all concerned, — in particular to the choir for its splendid singing, and to the Missionary Society for its enterprise.

Those wishing to order the record or exchange their imperfect one for the later recording should write to the Missionary Society, St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H. Check for $4.85 should be made payable to the Missionary Society.

THE S.P.S. WAR BOOK

“St. Paul's School in the Second World War,” published by the Alumni Association last spring, has now found its way into the homes of more than 800 Alumni. Obviously, however, there are many who for one reason or another have deferred procuring the volume, despite its direct interest to them. Two thousand Alumni have their names and service records included; for reasons quite apart from their own pride in the School, these may well desire the book for their families.

May we suggest that the volume makes an ideal Christmas gift for S. P. S. Alumni? Any who are contemplating sending one or more volumes for such a purpose may write to the Alumni Association, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York 18, N. Y., to determine whether or not those on their lists have already ordered the book. The book may be ordered from the same source at $4.80 per copy.

The following review and appreciation of the book was written by Gerald Chittenden, who needs no introduction to S.P.S. Alumni. Mr. Chittenden has been living since his retirement at Edgartown, Mass., where he is the proprietor of the Borrowdale Bookshop.

This record of achievement is sharp with things remembered by all Alumni; it is especially poignant to anyone who has taught through years at the School. We teachers are apt to claim too much credit for what boys do when they leave us; it is probable that we deserve only a little. Yet our pride remains, for we have been a part of things also, and have watched generations of boys moving on from the First Form to the Sixth, and thence to whatever they may be required to do. In war and peace, they in general do well. The achievements of war, however, are concrete and dramatic, so that they are more easily condensed for us in the pages of a memorial volume.

These are purely personal comments, of course. They are justified, I think, because it is impossible to read the book and stay cool or cold. We knew them all, some well and some but slightly. Their letters speak to us in the tones of their voices, often well-remembered; their faces cause us to think of them with a smile. Most vividly, we think of the 104 who died; most gratefully we read of the 1900 and more who survived.

It is a good record, presented to us by an editor who put his heart into the work. John Edmonds has been living with his material for eight years, ever since the war made an elegist indispensable to the Alumni Horae. He wrote innumerable letters to soldiers, sailors and marines, and anyone who has ever received a letter from him knows the lightness of his touch and the aptness of his wit. His letters must have been just the sort of thing the men at the fronts were most anxious to receive, bringing to them the echo of gaiety and the beat of the light heart. In return, they wrote often to him, and from their letters, as well as from those written to other men at School, to their families and their friends, John has culled an infinite variety of comment and incident. As a rule, his selections are short, perhaps no more than a vivid sentence, but they could not be better chosen. In flashes, they show us how men felt in training camp, in cantonment, aboard transports, and in battle on the sea, on the land and in the air. To many if not to most of them, the School seemed a harbor from which they had sailed, a calm spot with a mooring in it kept for them whenever they chose to pick it up. It was a place where they could be themselves, a place to think about in the intervals of gunfire and active duty, where they had to be soldiers first and themselves afterwards. None of them liked war; most of them hated everything about it. And none of them complained, for they were sportsmen. They did whatever they had to do with high competence, good nature, and in many cases, distinguished gallantry. Such matters are lights in the dark of war; it is what we think about when we talk of them, or read about them in such a book as this. Of course, we never expected any other sort of conduct from them. We knew them when they were young, and there is a kind of immortality in that memory. Those who own the book will keep it by them and will turn again and again to the extracts from the letters.

The obituaries, each headed by a picture, are uniformly excellent — just personal enough, understated rather than overstated, and therefore both warm and convincing. When he considers people he knows, John Edmonds has an accurate pounce on the essential, which, lit by understanding, throws the boys into sharp focus and makes them almost live again. The obituaries are, indeed, so good that they can do without comment from any critic.

The book concludes with the service records of all but a few of the alumni who had their parts in the war. The collection of such data involved an enormous amount of time and work. The ground has been almost completely covered, gaps occurring only in cases where questionnaires were not returned. A complete list of citations and decorations in tabular form might have been a convenience for reference, but the material is all there and is easily found.

The book is a handsome and attractive volume. Few Alumni will be willing to get along without it, and all members of the St. Paul’s commonwealth should be appreciative of a really magnificent job of editing.

NEW AND RETIRING ALUMNI FUND CHAIRMEN

Albert Francke, Jr., '20, Succeeds Laurance B. Rand, '27

ALBERT FRANCKE, JR., '20, who takes over the chairmanship of the Alumni Fund after Mr. Rand's extremely successful term, graduated from Yale. After working for Farmers Loan and Trust Company and the City Bank Farmers Trust Company, he was made Assistant Secretary of the Corn Exchange Bank in 1943. He was made Vice President six years later, in charge of the New England, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore areas. Since 1936 he has been a Form Agent. A son, Albert Francke, Jr., is now a fifth former at the School.

Laurance B. Rand, '27, the retiring Alumni Fund Chairman, also graduated from Yale. After being associated with the Chase National Bank, and with the American Bleached Goods Company as Treasurer and Director, he joined McCampbell and Company, Inc., commission merchants, in 1947. He has long been active in St. Paul's School Alumni activities, having been Form Agent, member of the Hockey Committee, of the Standing Committee of the Alumni Association, and Alumni Fund Chairman for the past three years.

1950 ALUMNI FUND REPORT

Last January at the Form Agents' Dinner in New York the President of the Board of Trustees stated that St. Paul's was facing a deficit for the coming year. This point was stressed again in the letters that went out to the Form Agents at the beginning of the campaign. As a result of their eloquent appeals and their diligence, the Alumni Fund has closed the year with the largest total on record—$35,838.10. In addition, the 25th Anniversary Form of 1925 with Henry A. Wilmending as Form Agent raised the sum of $1,803.00, giving a grand total for the year of $37,641.10. This is an increase of $6,727.85 over the 1949 combined funds.
A new record was also set for the number of contributors: 2,190 Alumni gave to the Fund for a percentage of 51.61, the greatest of any year. For outstanding performance in the amount of money raised, very special recognition should be given to Frank Sulloway through whose efforts the Form of 1900 gave $3,040.00 on the occasion of their 50th Anniversary and to Marshall Dodge who brought the Form of 1929 up to a total of $2,203.00.

The ranking that follows reveals the fact that two forms, 1884 and 1890, under the leadership of Copley Amory and Arthur Pier, tied for first place with 100%. Next in order, all with 80% or more, come 1887, 1915, 1896, 1895, 1903, 1916 and 1888. Special mention should also be made of the Form Agents who made these figures possible—Messrs. Lampson, McKim, Wilcox, Littell, White and Garfield.

Notice should also be taken of those agents who increased the previous year’s total by six or more contributors as follows:

ALUMNI HORAE
St. Paul's School
Editorial Office: Alumni Association of St. Paul's School, 522 Fifth Ave., New York 18, N. Y.

AUGUST HECKSCHER, '32, Editor
OLIVE FRISHER, Managing Editor

Associate Editors:
MALCOLM K. GORDON, '87
JOHN B. EDMONDS, '19
H. LYMAN STERRINS, '29
THOMAS ROOD, 30, '31

To the Alumni:
Will you write us, giving announcements of engagements, marriages, births of children and items for the Alumni Notes column, and also anecdotes and stories of your days in School? Send us old photographs, which we will be careful to return. These are all of interest to other alumni. The Alumni Office should always be advised of the death of an alumnus.

ALUMNI NOTES

'81 — FRANKLIN REMINGTON is the subject of a special feature story of Harvard alumni in the October 14th Harvard Alumni Bulletin. Under the title, “Champion of the Sound,” the magazine tells how the 85-year-old Mr. Remington and a 67-year-old friend last August rowed a double-ended dory 14 miles across Long Island Sound from the Remington pier at Centre Island, Long Island, to the Indian Yacht Club, in Greenwich, Conn. This was the same Franklin Remington who, in 1887 at New London, stroked the Harvard crew to the greatest victory it has ever achieved over Yale.

'98 — DAVID GOLDEN KINNEY, whose work with the U. S. Forestry Service has been principally in the Northwest, is now at 212 North Hawthorne St., Toppenish, Wash.

'00 — FRANCIS MOORHEAD who has lived in Daytona Beach, Fla., for many years, has sent us his new address: 432-B Orange Road, Ellnor Village Ormond Beach, Fla.

'02 — PERCY S. BROWN is serving his second year as president of the New Hampshire Archeological Society.

'03 — CAPT. SAMUEL ELIOT MORISON, USN, has had published a new book, “The Ropemakers of Plymouth,” A History of the Plymouth Cordage Company. This is a Houghton Mifflin publication, commemorating 125 years of continuous ropemaking by this company.

'04 — WALDO PARK CLEMENT, Jr., is now with Charles King & Co., 61 Broadway, New York.

'05 — NORMAN ARMOUR, former Assistant Secretary of State and veteran career diplomat, has been called out of retirement again to become Ambassador to Venezuela.

'10 — R. STURGIS INGERSOLL, President of the Philadelphia Museum of Art, announced on November 3rd the establishment of a $1,000,000 collection of Italian paintings and the loan exhibition of 100 of the greatest paintings in America as part of the Museum's diamond jubilee celebration.

'13 — GAINES GWATHMEY and Mrs. James Baldwin finished 62-62-124, for top honors during the thirty-six hole mixed foursome tournament at the Meadowbrook Club, Westbury, L. I., in October. After three years at St. Paul’s, he was graduated from Yale in 1893 and New York Law School in 1895; for five years he then practiced law with the family firm of Swayne & Swayne, New York. He was then successively president of the Alabama & Georgia Iron Company, Cedartown, Ga., and the Nittany Iron Company, Bellefonte, Pa. In 1914 he became operator of the Swayne & Swayne Co., coal merchants, and during World War I he was an advisor to the U. S. Fuel Administration. He was president of Burns Brothers from 1931 to 1933. He became interested in politics while in Georgia and was the successful candidate for Mayor of Cedartown. He served in the House of Representatives of the Connecticut General Assembly from 1933 until 1938. Mr. Swayne served as a member of the Yale Alumni Advisory Board for more than twenty years. At various times he served as president of the American Coal Wholesale Association and the Philadelphia Wholesale Coal Association; director of the National Retail Coal Merchants Association and executive director of the Anthracite Institute; and president of the Kiwanis Club of Philadelphia. He was admitted to the Connecticut bar in 1933 and practiced law for many years in Darien. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Christine S. Swayne; a son, Noah H. Swayne, 3d; a sister, Miss Eleanor Swayne; a brother, Wager Swayne, ’90; and one granddaughter.

'91—Louis De Forrest Downer would perhaps like best to be remembered as the friend of the thousands of boys who came to know him and love him. In March 1949 he flew back to his native New York from Coconut Grove, Fla., to receive the Boys’ Exposition Gold Medal Award, conferred annually for outstanding service to youth, in recognition of his 17 years’ work as head of the Boys’ Club of New York. After graduation from Williams, he entered the law course of New York University. He found his heart was not in the study of law, however, and although he graduated from N.Y.U. in ’97, he had already become wrapped up in social work and he never left it. For many years, the pet project of J. Pierpont Morgan, ’84, St. George’s Trade School, claimed his attention. In 1912, the Boys’ Club of New York asked Mr. Downer to serve as the superintendent of this growing organization and he carried on this work until 1929 when ill-health caused him to retire and go south. Early in the ’30’s, he related anonymously, “a rich, obstinate old bachelor with a heart of gold” bought a tract of land in Miami and started building what became the Boys’ Club of Miami. He never grew tired of relating stories of his boys who grew into useful citizens. During World War II, despite his age and the rigors of all-night duty, Chief Boatswain’s Mate Downer, Coast Guard Auxiliary, piloted his 24-foot motor cruiser, the Dart, all over Biscayne Bay and surrounding waters. Mr. Downer was one of several alumni of St. Paul’s who are also members of The Kappa Alpha Society, the joint occupant of the Association’s New York office. He died at Miami, Florida, on August 26, 1950.

'92—WILLIAM JARED CHITTENDEN, JR., one of the top hotel executives of the country and for many years manager of the Book-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, might rightfully be called “Mr. Detroit.” This is the appraisal of him found in a Detroit editorial which states, “The chances are he enjoyed more real friends than any living Detroiter.” The information we have about him is largely given to praise of the man rather than facts of his career. He was born in Detroit, the son of the William Jared Chittenden who owned the old Russell House, comparable to Boston’s Parker House and the St. Francis of San Francisco, and in spirit he belonged to that gracious age of hotel keeping although he adapted himself to the ways of today. He left the Book-Cadillac in 1927 to take over the management of the new Detroit Leland Hotel. Four years later he announced his retirement after 35 years in the hotel field but his love for the business made him return to the Book in 1933 and he was still active there at the time of his death on July 25, 1950, at his summer home in Siasconset, Nantucket Island, Mass. In addition to his widow, the former May Stevens of New York, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. William T. Barbour, Grosse Pointe, Mich., and a brother, Alpheus Chittenden, of Colorado Springs, Colo. Mr. Chittenden was active in the Club life of Detroit and was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution.

'94—WILLIAM FRANCIS COCHRAN, long one of Baltimore’s most forceful religious laymen and philanthropists, who died on July 2, 1950, at Woodbrook, Baltimore, was, to quote the Baltimore Sun’s editorial, “... a Christian who took his religion seriously and applied it first of all to himself. ... he regarded his money as an obligation rather than as an excuse for self-indulgence. ... In his giving Mr. Cochran asked not for the approval of his fellows but for that of his own conscience. Neither business nor any other calling produces many such strongly individualized personalities.” We hope the full story of his life will be written. In it would be such stories as that of his talk at a church forum in which he asked such questions as: “What is the quickest and best way in which I can grow poor?” “Am I immoral from the mere fact that I am rich.” One man answered by saying that he was ready to take over all of Mr. Cochran’s wealth, together with the immorality that might go with it!” Although Mr. Cochran did not take this suggestion to heart, he was a large contributor to social, welfare and religious organizations and causes. He was attracted to social reform shortly after his graduation from Yale in 1898. After a few years of participation in the affairs of Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Co., Yonkers, N. Y., the family firm, Mr. Cochran moved to Baltimore in 1902 and made that city his home. He had numerous business enterprises there, mostly real estate. In 1901, he had married Miss Nina Gill, who survives with three children, Mrs. Edward W. Brown, Mrs. Redmond C. Stewart, Jr., and Alexander S. Cochran. Among the members of his family who have attended S. P. S. were the late Alexander S. Cochran, '92, and Gifford Alexander Cochran, '98, and numerous members of the second and third generations of the family.

'94—T. MITCHELL HASTINGS, retired architect, died at his home, “The Box,” Contoocook, N. H., on October 29, 1950. Mr. Hastings had lived there for the past twelve years, since his marriage to Mrs. Evelyn Foster Gardiner, the daughter of the late vice-rector, William H. Foster, and he and Mrs. Hastings spent the winters in Boston. “The Box” was the center of hospitality during reunions of Mr. Hastings’ Form of 1894 and indeed for other forms as well during Anniversaries. Mr. Hastings was born in Philadelphia and was graduated from Harvard College in 1898. He studied architecture at Harvard and at the Ecole des Beaux Arts. He was a member of the firm of Brockie & Hastings in Philadelphia and later a member of Soule, Murphy & Hastings of Santa Barbara, Calif. His memberships included the American Association of Architects and the Order of the Cincinnati. Surviving in addition to his wife are a son, T. Mitchell Hastings, Jr., '29, of Newton Centre, Mass.; a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth E. Field; a sister, Mrs. Henry B. Robb; and five grandchildren.

'95—HOLKINS PALMER died on August 4, 1950, at Madison, Conn., where he had lived since his retirement from business three years ago. He was formerly a vice-president of the Warehouse Point Silk Co., Warehouse Point, Conn. After three years at St. Paul's, he entered Yale and was graduated with the class of 1899. He is survived by Mrs. Palmer and their three sons, H. Dillingham Palmer, Joseph W. Palmer and W. Hale Palmer.

'97—HENRY HERBERT BABCOCK, 71, banker, manufacturer and lawyer and former president of the board of trustees of the House of the Good Samaritan, Watertown, N. Y., died in the House of the Good Samaritan of a heart attack on August 31, 1950. Besides being vice-president and trust officer of the Watertown National Bank for the past 23 years, Mr. Babcock had been a member of the board of directors of that bank for 40 years. Long interested in better hospital facilities for the city of Watertown, he was chairman of the fund raising campaign which raised a total of $1,050,000 for the House of the Good Samaritan. The Babcock family in the early days of Rhode Island engaged in the manufacture of wagons and buggies. In the early '20's Mr. Babcock served as the president of the firm, the H. H. Babcock Company, which was then manufacturing bodies for Franklin, Willis-St. Claire, Ford, Lincoln and other automobiles. It was immediately after graduation from Yale in 1901 and from Columbia Law School in 1904, that Mr. Babcock engaged in the practice of law. After being admitted to the bar in 1904, he became associated with the late Senator Elon R. Brown with whom he practiced law in Watertown for 12 years. In the late '20's Mr. Babcock was prominent in local golf affairs and was the local champion in 1927. The surviving members of his family are his wife, the former Marion Ayres of Philadelphia; a son, Dr. Henry Holmes Babcock of Providence, R. I.; a daughter, Mrs. Robert F. Hart, Jr., of Providence; and five grandchildren.

'98—JOSEPH GARDNER STANDART, who attended the School from '93 to '96, died on May 17, 1949, at Grosse Pointe, Mich. He was living in Detroit while a student at the School and attended the University of Michigan before entering on a business career in Detroit. He was with the National Loan and Investment Company and more recently with the Surety Savings and Loan Association there. Surviving is a son, James W. Standart of Detroit.

'99—PERCY RIVINGTON PYNE, 2d, retired New York banker and broker, died at his home at Sepulveda, California on August 15, 1950. The son of Moses Taylor Pyne, New York merchant and philanthropist, he spent three years at S.P.S. and was graduated from Princeton in 1903. For many years he was a Princeton trustee. He founded the Stock Exchange firm of Pyne, Kendall & Hollister and previously had been connected with the Farmers Loan and Trust Co. of New York. After his retirement from business in 1927, he remained active as trustee or executor of a number of institutions and estates, including St. Luke's Hospital, the Children's Aid Society, the Kips Bay Boys' Club, the New York Y.M.C.A., and the Diocesan Conventions of the Protestant Episcopal Church of New York.

'03—LLOYD PRESTON CARPENTER entered the School in '97 from Philadelphia and after his graduation in '03 studied at the University of Pennsylvania. For many years afterward he engaged in manufacturing in the Philadelphia area and lived in Ridley Park, Pa. About ten years ago he went to Detroit and since then had been in business there with the Saw and Specialty Corporation. He died at his home in Ludington, Mich., on August 1, 1950. Surviving is his daughter, Miss Mary Lloyd Carpenter of Ludington.

'07—William Shepard Seamans, Jr., died on June 14, 1949, in Santa Barbara, Calif. He was graduated from Harvard in 1911 and then entered the financial field in New York City. In the late twenties he moved to California and was in financial work in Santa Barbara. In recent years his great interest had been the proper rebuilding of the soil, organically, to increase the vitamin content of foods, and the use of garbage and sewage disposal plants to make a product for large soil rebuilding projects. His wife, the former Ruth Huntington Flint of Boston, in writing the Rector of her husband's death, spoke of their happiness in returning East in 1946 for the 90th Anniversary of the School and Mr. Seamans's 35th Anniversary at Harvard. In addition to Mrs. Seamans, there are three surviving children, John McGaw Seamans, Samuel Huntington Seamans and Mary Helen Seamans.

'08—Harris Putnam Pierson's death on May 21, 1949, was recorded in the Summer Alumni Horae. Since then we have received the following additional information about Mr. Pierson in a letter from his son: "Harris Putnam Pierson was born in Saratoga Springs, New York, on September 10, 1889. He served as First Lieutenant in World War I and then represented The Lamson Company in New Orleans. Mr. Pierson retired from business in 1940 because of ill health. He is survived by his wife, Margaret Frances Pierson, and one son, Harris Putnam Pierson, Jr., of New Orleans."

'09—Dudley Frederick Fowler, a trust officer of the City Bank Farmers Trust Co., New York, an affiliate of the National City Bank, died on Sept. 6, 1950, at his home in Scarsdale, N. Y. He was born in Memphis, Tenn., and after three years at S. P. S. entered Princeton University. He received his A.B. degree, however, from Columbia, and in 1915 he obtained his law degree from Columbia Law School. He attended officers' training camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y., and saw action in France as a first lieutenant. After studying law at the Inns of Court, London, Mr. Fowler, in 1919, became an attorney for the War Department's Board of Contract Adjustment. The next year he was made an associate member of the board and a member of the departmental Claim Board. His next post was that of assistant trust officer of the Bank of America in New York. He rose to trust officer in 1926 and to assistant vice president in 1929. When in 1931, the Bank of America was merged with the National City, Mr. Fowler became a trust officer of City Bank Farmers Trust Co. Mr. Fowler's hobby was gardening and he took keen pleasure in selecting and tending new plants. He is survived by his widow, the former Maria Blackford of Findlay, Ohio, and two sons, Dudley Blackford Fowler, '48, now attending the Wharton School of Business of the University of Pennsylvania, and Gordon Blackford Fowler, now a student at St. Paul's.

'10—Frederick Parker Humphreys was drowned on July 5, 1950, in Nantucket Sound. A yacht that he had chartered was found adrift on that date in the Sound but it was not until his body was washed ashore on Tuckernuck Island, Mass., on August 17th that his fate was known. Mr. Humphreys, whose home was in New York, was born in Morristown, N. J., on October 29, 1890. During World War I he served on the battleship Texas. In 1924 Mr. Humphreys became vice president of the Humphreys Medicine Co. of New York. He later founded and was president of the Frederick Humphreys Shipbuilding Corporation of Keyport, N. J., and in 1948 he established the Frederick Humphreys Drug Products Company of New Pres-

...ton, Conn., of which he was president. Mr. Humphreys was a member of the Society of the Cincinnati and of the Military Order of Foreign Wars. He is survived by his wife, the former Eleanor Hamlin; a son, George Arents Humphreys; three daughters, Miss Eleanor Shields Humphreys, Mrs. Gerald Champniss and Mrs. F. E. C. Johnston; and a sister, Miss Francis A. Humphreys.

'10—Charles Brokaw Jutte died on May 10, 1950, in Carmichael, California. This information recently came from Biscoe Kibbey, '02, of Carmichael, but we have been unable to obtain material for a sketch for this issue.

'22—Luis James Francke, Jr., died at his home in Colorado Springs, Colo., on July 5, 1950, at the age of fifty-five. After his graduation from Princeton in 1926, he engaged in the brokerage business in New York. Three years ago he moved to Colorado Springs where he founded and was president of the Cash Dividend System, Inc. His first wife was Miss Dorothy Spraker. On June 14, 1949, he married Mrs. Forrest Stockton at Colorado Springs. Other survivors are a son and daughter, Luis James Francke and Felicia Fern Francke of New York; his mother, Mrs. Luis John Francke; and a sister, Mrs. John M. Whitaker. He was related also to the late Victor Ernest Francke, '89, and Albert Francke, Jr., '20, of New York.

'28—Richard High Carleton, Jr., the son of the late Richard H. Carleton, '93, was killed when he was struck by an automobile in Tucson, Arizona, on August 19, 1950. He was forty-two years of age. After St. Paul's, he attended Yale and then entered on a banking career in New York, and farming in New Jersey. He moved to Arizona about ten years ago and owned the Tantamano Ranch near Tucson. During World War II he served with the American Field Service from May 1944 to June 1945 as a volunteer ambulance driver with the British 19th Army in the Burma campaign. He was twice married—to Miss Frederica L. Frelinghuysen in 1930 and in 1937 to Miss Marjorie Bruce Ferguson. Surviving are two sons, Richard H. Carleton, 3d, and Peter Carleton; his mother, Mrs. Juliet Buck Carleton, and a sister, Mrs. Juliet C. Boker.

'31—Samuel Carnes Collier died on September 23, 1950, in an automobile accident during the running of the 3rd International Grand Prix sporting-car race at Watkins Glen, N. Y. Mr. Collier was an amateur racing car driver of 20 years' experience and had raced not only in this country but also in many of the famous road races in England and in Europe where this sport is far more widely known. He was one of the founders of the American Racing Car Association and was noted as a skilled and resourceful driver. The immediate cause of the accident resulting in his death has not been definitely ascertained but it is believed to have been mechanical failure. He was the son of the late Barron G. Collier and was graduated in 1935 from Yale University where he was business manager of the Yale Daily News and Treasurer of his class. He became a vice-president of the New York Subways Advertising Company, which organization he left in 1942 to join the U. S. Navy. He served as aide to the Operations Officer at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station; as aide to Admiral Cook in the Caribbean Sea Frontier, and for two years flew the Pacific as a navigation officer with the Naval Air Transport Service. He left the service in 1945 with the rank of lieutenant commander. Since the war he has been a vice-president and director of the Collier Corporation which has large real estate and other business interests in Florida. At St. Paul's he was president of the Sixth Form and in that capacity evidenced the integrity and ability so apparent throughout his career. He commanded to an extraordinary degree the respect and affection not only of his contemporaries but of all those who knew him. The New York Herald Tribune fittingly summarized his character in the following editorial: "Samuel Carnes Collier was marked from youth for success and adventure. The son of a wealthy and well known father, he set out to make his own way by his own gifts and energies. At sixteen he was already running a small theatre; at St. Paul's School and at Yale he was distinguished by a capacity for leadership and executive action. His career, broken by service as a lieutenant commander in the Navy, began in the advertising business and moved into the widespread family interests in Florida. Not confined by routine business concerns, young Collier dedicated himself to bringing advances of all kinds to the town of Everglades in the county that bears the family name. He used his growing influence to improve roads, schools and social conditions in general. Meanwhile, his love of adventure was finding outlets of another kind. He was a competent pilot, and for the last fifteen years was known as an expert and daring driver of racing cars. While engaged in this sport, in a race at Watkins Glen on Saturday, Collier met sudden death. His age was thirty-eight. There is tragedy in the death of those whose gifts are matured, and who are cut down before the world can gain the full measure of their contribution. The tragedy of Sam Collier is of this kind. In his allotted years he lived intensely, but there was much, very much, that he had still to give. He is survived by his wife, the former Dixie Thompson, of Honolulu, whom he married in 1936, and by two sons, Richard Thompson and Terry Kerr Collier. His brothers are Barron G. Collier, Jr., '26, and Cowles Miles Collier, '33. At the time of his death he resided in Delray Beach, Florida.

On the Monday after his death a memorial service was held at St. James's Church, New York, at which the Rector officiated. At the funeral service held in Delray Beach, the Reverend Charles Thomas Webb of the School assisted.

'47—George Christian Lobkowicz, son of Prince and Princess Lobkowicz and younger brother of Edward A. Lobkowicz, '44, died very suddenly, of spinal meningitis, at the American Hospital in Paris, August 23, 1950. Twenty-one years old, he had finished his Sophomore year at Hamilton College and was spending his summer vacation in Europe. At St. Paul's, which he entered in 1943 from the Fay School, Lobkowicz was a member of the Library Association, the Cadmean Literary Society, Le Cercle Français and also of the committee which had charge of the Scudder Memorial and of the recorded concerts given there. In his Fifth Form year, he won the Malone Prize in French. He was a sensitive, imaginative person of definite opinions and real interests.

'48—Peter Schuyler Clarkson died at Fort Worth, Texas, of poliomyelitis, August 22, 1950. He was working with an oil crew in Texas and was to have returned to Princeton in September to begin his Junior year. Born August 20, 1930, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingston Clarkson of New York, and the younger brother of R. L. Clarkson, Jr., '42, and of Bayard Delafield Clarkson, '44. He entered the Third Form at St. Paul's in 1944 and graduated in 1948, cum laude, with Honors in Spanish. In his four years at the School he played football and hockey on Old Hundred teams; he also was interested in music, played the piano very well, and took an active part in the band and in the musical shows at the School. His playing of piano duets with John Merrick was memorable. In summer vacations he was more than once a counsellor at the School Camp. A boy of quick and active mind, Clarkson was practical and effective in all that he undertook. Enjoying life and fond of people, he was unfailingly thoughtful of friends, young and old.

'53—Frederic Leland Thompson, 2nd, was instantly killed September 15, 1950, in a motor accident a few miles from his home in Concord, N. H. He was the only son of Richard L. Thompson, '20, who died March 5, 1950, and of Mrs. Thompson. Frederic Thompson was sixteen years old. He had been at St. Paul's three years and was about to return for his Fourth Form year. Strong for his age and a very fast runner, he had in his Third Form year played in the backfield of the third Delphian football team, and won his SPS track letter as a quarter-miler. He was fond of all outdoor activities, particularly of skiing, and he twice won Dickey prizes in Manual Training, being very skillful at wood-carving and other handicrafts. He was several times elected as inspector in the Lower and in Ford, and his house-mates respected his strength and skill as an athlete, and also his genuineness, his generosity and his good sense.
