THE RECTOR'S LETTER

For many, many years we have had a custom on Memorial Day which perhaps many of the Alumni and friends of the School have not always known about, and inasmuch as it has just recently been observed, this is a good time to mention it.

On Memorial Day the Rector and members of the Student Council go to the School Cemetery and there place wreaths on the graves of Rectors and masters who have died. Where tradition and custom have deep roots, each observance of this kind reminds us of the length of life, its uncertainties and its nobility. One cannot contemplate the Coits, Dr. Ferguson, and Dr. Drury without recognizing that all four of them, with their gifts, have formed a foundation for the life of St. Paul's School on which those who come afterward must in some way build.

Leaders in any institution are generally of one of two minds. There are those who have great capacities to unite, to call together, to make one of many — to excite in the members a sense of the whole, and affection and devotion to the entire. And there are those leaders who, building upon unity, institutionalize. Someone has pointed out that David was the unifier of Israel and that he was, happily enough, succeeded by Solomon, who gave Israel the institutions which made her a nation. Blessed is the David who has a Solomon; fortunate is the Solomon who follows a David.

Only with the passing of time can we tell who has unified and who has institutionalized. Each is important to the other. Unity without its institutions breaks down; institutions without unity become cold and ineffectual. Together they create an air of purpose rooted in history, a dynamic quality that represents the best in conservative living and thought. At times they pull against each other, and the strain of the pulling keeps the institution strong and flexible. Without the strain we become brittle, breakable, or inflexible.

These are stirring days at St. Paul's School. We would witness to our unity as a family, we would rejoice in our institution and our institutional life, and we would keep their value in a just relationship.

Our Alumni are vital to this relationship. They and their descendants form a significant part of our continuing life and our sense of history. Forty-eight of next year's one hundred and ten new boys are descendants of Alumni. They will find here, as does every new boy, a tradition and an institution ready made yet sensitive to their contributions. The School looks forward to the privilege of living in the old with a sense of the excitement of the new.

Faithfully yours,

MATTHEW M. WARREN, Rector
THE SCHOOL IN ACTION

The writer, who has just finished his first year as a master at the school and who is still reeling from the whirl of activity that has occupied his time since his arrival in September, is convinced that the title of this article, The School in Action, is remarkably well chosen. If there is a key-word at Saint Paul's, it is action and there has been no decrease throughout the Spring term, despite that strange fever that attacks the human species when the weather first turns warm. In the interest of veracity, the generalization must be qualified—in certain classrooms there was some decrease in activity as the Spring wore on, as boys gazed through wide-open windows and dreamed of reclining on the shore of Big Turkey. However, every afternoon found these same boys thoroughly rested by having noded through their classes and ready to expend their energy on the Lower Grounds, Big Turkey, the Lower School Pond and even in some cases on the tops of neighboring mountains.

All through the Fall, the writer was thoroughly prepared by the boys for the wonders he could expect during the Winter term and his vocabulary was augmented by such terms as "black ice", "shell ice", "ice bounds", and so forth. Yet strangely enough, as the school was preparing to leave on Spring vacation after a fine Winter, there was a change in the story and it became apparent that, good as the Winter term was, with its ice and hockey, the really best part of the school year was the Spring term. In retrospect, the writer would probably agree.

The School returned rested and in many cases tanned after the Spring vacation. Among those who had worshipped the sun during their time away from the school was a group of six, who under the direction of Mr. Ogilby and with boys from other schools, had left the snow at Idlewild airfield to soar to the warm sands of Bermuda, some 900 miles away. Missing was the familiar figure of the Vice-Rector, who remained abroad with Mrs. Lloyd for a few extra weeks of well-deserved rest. Still another face was absent and it was learned that Mr. Cal Chapin was confined to the "Cooler" with an ailing back. The boys were certain that Mr. Chapin, even while in the "Cooler", knew more of what was happening in the school than did most of us on the outside. On the first day of classes, we found the main staircase of the Schoolhouse brightened by an original watercolor, "The Wine Dark Sea", presented to the school by Dr. Benjamin Rowland, '24, Associate Professor of Fine Arts at Harvard University.

The ice broke up on April 13, ten days ahead of the usual average, thus heralding the opening of a rowing season which was to bring new glory to the school, when, on May 28, the Shattuckers, with the Halycons in second place, won the New England Interscholastic Regatta at Worcester, soundly defeating a favored Kent crew. Mr. Preston received graciously the warm congratulations of the school on this splendid victory, a goal which he had sought since the school first entered the Regatta several years ago.

Shortly after the Spring vacation, the school was visited by Mr. Ray Warick, an official representative of the United Steel Workers, who remained several days, giving one general conference to the upper forms and meeting with numerous classes to discuss the problems of labor relations. On April 13, the Curtis String Quartet of Philadelphia entertained the student body with an excellent concert in the Sheldon Library.

On the evening of April 16, the whole school family was greatly entertained by the finals of the Fiske Cup dramatic competition. Thirteen house plays had been given and judged at the end of the Winter term and the finals were remarkable in that two of the competing plays were written by students: Conover's The Valetudinarian by Harold E. Talbott, 3d, of the IV Form and Drury's Lost and Found by John E. Parsons, Jr., of the V Form. The third play in the finals was Manville's entry, Copy. The Valetudinarian won the cup and starred the author, Benjamin R. Neilson, and Morgan D. Wheelock, Jr.

Early in the term it was announced that Mr. R. J. Clark had appointed Mr. John Shoemaker to run the school camp this summer. This relieves Mr. Clark of an arduous, though rewarding duty. Mr. Shoemaker is a master in the Sacred Studies Department and was ordained to the priesthood this June.

He will be assisted in his work by a staff of some twenty-five boys from the school, headed by Peter French of this year's VI Form.

St. Paul's was honored by the announcement that Nicholas Craw of the VI Form had been awarded second prize in a national essay contest sponsored by "The Living Church" on the subject: "Is it possible to be a Christian and still be popular?". The upper three forms wrote on the subject as a part of their Sacred Studies course and the twelve best essays were entered in the national competition. Craw’s essay contradicted the proposition and he proved his statement “along the lines of the definition of the words ‘Christianity’ and ‘popularity’ as applied to a prep school education”.

On the evening of April 23, the Ladies Committee of the Library Association held a reception for the members to christen an attractive new kitchenette which had been installed in the Records Room of the Library. This new addition will greatly facilitate providing light refreshments for affairs given in the Sheldon Library.

Throughout the Spring term, the athletic program was in full swing. Each club fielded three baseball nines, and tennis flourished, as did track. An innovation was the introduction of lacrosse as a spring sport. Ably coached by Mr. Johnson and Mr. Treuchet, 45 boys turned out, enabling each club to have a full squad. After the boys had been coached in the fundamentals of the game, a club series was played, in which the Old Hundreds emerged victorious. Then followed several outside games, including one with the Boston Lacrosse Club, a highly skilled aggregation composed largely of former college players.

The social highlight of the Spring term was the Dance Week-end, brightened this year by the presence of a record-breaking ninety-seven lovely visitors. The dance itself followed a Mediterranean cruise motif, with the dining hall of the New Upper decorated as the grand salon of a luxury liner.

The annual dinner of the Cercle Français was honored to have as its speaker, Mr. René C. Champollion, ’28, one of the founders of the Cercle. M. Champollion gave a highly informative and agreeable talk in French on the value of modern language knowledge in many phases of business and professional activity. M. André Jacq, who for eight years has been president and the driving force of the Cercle Français, announced his “official” retirement from this post, but assured the membership that he would continue to guide and advise the group.

The English Department had the good fortune to present as a guest lecturer in its Sixth Form English lecture series the distinguished poet, Robert Frost. Mr. Frost was ideally suited to this group, since his poetry is so deeply steeped in the lore and natural beauty of New England, which has come to be known to boys from many distant areas through their years at St. Paul’s. Now eighty years of age,
Mr. Frost was an inspiring speaker and was well received by the members of the VI Form.

The Glee Club show, which preceded Anniversary, was a wonderful success. The club, under Dr. Lefebvre’s able direction, presented an operetta, The Fair Exchange, with words and music by George Mead, who played the accompaniment with Dr. Lefebvre. The show starred Mrs. David Cowles, wife of Mr. Cowles of the Sacred Studies Department, and Robert Webber, president of the Glee Club and member of the VI Form. In addition to a splendid array of male voices, a chorus of faculty wives added to the vivacity of the production. A delighted audience thundered applause throughout the evening.

The school year reached a highly successful conclusion on the evening of June 16 and the morning of the 17th. On Thursday evening, prizes were distributed to all forms below the Sixth and following, the whole school and many parents gathered in the Chapel for the Last Night Service. Friday dawned a magnificent sunny day, with the temperature ideally suited to the occasion. The prizes and diplomas were presented to the graduating class by the Rector and the Vice-Rector. The commencement address was delivered by the honorable Harold Stassen, who looked forward from this ninety-ninth year of the school to the year 1999, charging the graduating class with its responsibility in guiding the progress of our nation and even the world during the intervening period.

Mr. Warren then announced that the ninety-ninth session of St. Paul’s School was terminated.

B. Hoff Knight, Jr.
I nprovement of facilities at Turkey continues and with the erection of a second boathouse, both boat clubs are now in a position to house all their boats. As a result, wherries and pairs were in use for the first time since the move from Long Pond. Turkey has grown no longer, but we have learned better how to use the available surface. Weather was generally favorable and we lost no rowing days because of it.

New shells were bought for the first crews, replacing those acquired in 1940, and a coaching launch was presented.

Fewer boys rowed, owing to the introduction of lacrosse. There was perhaps a slight loss in the quality of crews down the line, but apparently none in enthusiasm. We took one more step into interschool competition when we invited Andover to come up for a race with our third crews. Unfamiliarity with the boat they borrowed from us and their inexperience (this was Andover's first season of rowing) counted against them, but we hope that they will come again, soon to race at the first crew level. Exeter again sent a club crew to race with our fifth crews and this year we managed to get home in front.

Our fifth visit to Worcester was our most successful — only the Second Haleyons failed to take first or second place, and they let only the Kent second crew beat them, aside from the winning Shattucks. In this race the Second Shattucks rowed away from the field in the last half-mile for a convincing open-water victory. In the race for first crews both clubs stayed close to the pace for the first quarter and then moved out steadily, though at a lower stroke. The Shads won by three seconds over the Haleyons, who had nearly a length on Shrewsbury and a bit more on Kent.

Race Day was a Shattuck day until the last race. Prior to this, only the Fourth Haleyons could interrupt the Shattuck parade. Convincing victories in third and second crew races suggested that the club could repeat its first crew victory at Worcester. However, the Haleyons were also fast and this was a race they did not intend to lose. The Shattucks rowed their best, at 38 and 34, breaking the record, but it was not good enough. Starting at 48 (sic) and “settling” to a remarkably long and strong 38 the Haleyons gradually built a half-length lead which they held to the end. These were extraordinarily good crews.

Twenty-five members of the Form of 1930 returned to Concord to celebrate our 25th Reunion this June. Of equal, or even greater, importance was the fact that fourteen wives gave grace and special charm to our Reunion. (We are evidently growing in wisdom, for there were but three wives attending five years ago.) We also had on hand three special guests, Susanne Williams, the Form Agent's ten-year-old daughter, and two young gentlemen blessed with the fine biblical names of Jeremiah and Josiah. (These two are to be members of the School starting next Fall, enrolling as Jerry Bogert and Randy Williams.) Those present were: A. N. Beadleston, H. L. Bogert, Jr., B. C. Cannon, T. W. Clark, B. Cooke, A. Cox, P. de B. de Give, W. G. Foulke, G. A. Gordon, T. S. Hamilton, R. B. Heath, B. L. Huntington, F. M. Kirkland, E. E. Mills, C. G. Mixter, P. S. Mumford, A. Pagenstecher, B. F. Pope, B. H. Roberts, M. K. Smith, E. E. Stowell, W. L. Thompson, H. S. Whiteside, J. R. Williams, 3d, and J. C. Wilmerdng.

The majority arrived at the School on Friday. Those who had the good fortune to turn up in time for the Track Meet were treated to an exciting afternoon, for it was closely contested right up to the end. Although the Delphians were ahead by a fraction of a point at the start of the relay race, the Old Hundreds won the meet through their victory in this final event. A special pleasure for members of our Form was to hear that David Wagstaff's son had broken the school record for the broad jump, which had stood up since 1916. Another high point was to learn that Archibald Cox's son had tied for the school's highest baseball batting average—although still a Third Former. To make us feel completely at home, and secretly proud of ourselves, the awarding of trophies and prizes was entrusted to Morgan Smith, who acquitted himself with distinction. Then came the Alumni Dash. It is said that at least two of our members were brave enough to enter. They flashed by the finish line at such breakneck speed that it was next to impossible to distinguish them. I think it would be safe to say, however, that they were Ted Mills and Wirt Thompson. If there were others participating, my apologies for failing to see them.

The New Hampshire Highway Hotel had been chosen as our headquarters and all agreed that it provided an ideally attractive and comfortable place. There was plenty of space for all and our rooms were conveniently grouped together. That evening the School provided excellent entertainment for us in the Glee Club show, Fair Exchange or the Broker's Opera. The boys put on a performance that was truly professional. None of us could remember anything to match it twenty-five years ago.

On Saturday morning we enjoyed the baseball game between the SPS team and Concord High School. Although the skies were overcast, the rain held off until the school team, under the expert guidance of Coach Lang Lea, had earned a victory by a close margin. The Form of 1930 found itself in the limelight during the Alumni Association Meeting, held in the Memorial Hall immediately following the game, for here Billy Foulke was presiding as President of the Alumni Association. His friendly and firm guiding hand gave the meeting both direction and dignity. This was also an important meeting for us, for here it was announced that our Form had raised $10,275 as our 25th Anniversary Fund. And in so doing we had broken the record set last year by the Form of 1929. Great credit is due to all of the members of the Form who made this possible, and most especially to Larry Bogert and the members of the Special Anniversary Fund Committee of which he was the head.

In spite of the rain we assembled for a picture on the steps of Memorial Hall and on viewing the result found no cause for complaint except that seven of our members seemed to be elsewhere when the shutter clicked. After the tasty buffet lunch we fell in line for the reunion parade, which this year was distinguished by the appearance of umbrellas and, of course, thunderous applause from the sidelines, initiated possibly by our enthusiastic wives. During the afternoon most of us saw the boat races for the first time on Turkey Pond. They were run off in fine order and from time to time we came upon familiar names in the lists of oarsmen, Walter Foulke, Charlie Mixter and John Wilmerding, Jr., the captain of the Third Shattuck crew. Next came the Flag Pole Ceremony where we again found our Form in the spotlight as John Wilmerding was charged with the presentation of the many prizes and awards. When the time came for the former winners of the Gordon Medal to step forward it was good to find ourselves ably represented by Paul de Give.

Mr. and Mrs. Toland had invited all of us and our wives to a party that Saturday afternoon at their place, Ashbrook Farm, and it was to that lovely spot that we all adjourned after leaving the Flag Pole. We were extremely grateful to the Tolands for helping to make our reunion such a pleasant one. We had also been very kindly thought of by Betty and Frank Lloyd who had made their house at the school available to us throughout the weekend. Through Betty Lloyd's thoughtfulness and kind attention there was also a special buffet supper at the Lloyds' house on Saturday evening for the wives, while the noble Form of 1930 held its banquet at the Hampshire Highway Hotel.

This party will long be remembered by all who were on hand. We had a private room of our own, an excellent steak dinner and any number of provocative and inspiring speeches. We were fortunate to have on hand our Form President, Vice President and Secretary, and all three favored us with words of wisdom. There were also a good many additional speeches on request. Some of the high points of the evening included: the circulation of a giant picture of the entire school in football uniforms taken at the Lower Grounds in the fall of our Third Form year, which revealed some very interesting young faces; a spirited quiz under Fred Kirkland's guidance, with his 1930 Year Book as the final arbiter; the revealing of the fact that twenty-one sons of members of our Form had either graduated from the school or were presently in it or were scheduled to come next fall; a telegram of greetings from Frank Van Dusen lamenting that at the last minute he was prevented from attending; special award for tying for first place for having come the greatest distance (from St. Louis) to Philip Mumford and Bill Pagenstecher — and a very special mention to T. Edward Hamilton for having flown back from France on the morning before our reunion so that he and his wife might join the festivities; another distinction for Bill Pagenstecher for his perfect record of contributions to the Alumni Fund over the past twenty-five years, and in absentia the same honor to Dick Hawkins, at present in Spain, and to Randy Morgan in Philadelphia; and impromptu and thoroughly enjoyed comments from a good many others including Arthur Gordon on the current state of fiction, and from Wirt Thompson who revealed some of the facts behind the news that had made the headlines in Concord twenty-five years ago. After the speeches, the evening was further enlivened when we borrowed back our piano from the Form of 1945 so that Esty Stowell and Wirt Thompson could put their fingers properly to work on it. Doing double duty at the keys they kept the rafters ringing and supplied lively music for the dancing far into the night. It was an elegant banquet and evening from beginning to end.

On Sunday morning we were able to attend the Chapel Service as a group for seats had been reserved for us in the stalls between the choir and the altar. It was a very moving service and, as always, it was a great thrill to be a part of the church service in the School Chapel. Then as a final and fitting end to a splendid weekend for the Form of 1930 it was announced at the luncheon at the New Upper that Esty Stowell had been elected a trustee of the School. We all had had a grand time, enjoyed seeing each other once again under such ideal circumstances and had as our only wish that twice as many members of the Form had been there to enjoy our 25th Reunion with us.

J. RANDALL WILLIAMS, 3D, '30
Four other Reunion Forms, besides those whose gatherings are recorded in the pages that precede and follow, were represented at the School this Ninety-ninth Anniversary, the oldest of them being 1885—seventy years out—from which Hugh Eustis Potts was present to lead the Alumni Parade. 1890 was represented by Arthur Stanwood Pier and 1895 by Arceas B. Carpenter. (To our regret, no photograph was taken of Messrs. Pier and Carpenter.) The Form of 1950—great numbers of whom are at present in the Armed Forces, and of whom others were at the time of Anniversary in the midst of final graduate school examinations—on finding that only two could return to the School this year, decided to postpone their reunion until 1956. But two—H. Edward Manville, 3d, and Alfred M. C. MacColl—did get back, and were photographed.

FIFTY-FIFTH REUNION OF 1900

The Form of 1900 had its fifty-fifth reunion beginning Friday afternoon, June 3, 1955, with the following members present:

Sheldon E. Wardwell, Brookline, Massachusetts
E. Pomeroy Staats, Cooperstown, New York
Frank Moorhead, Daytona, Florida
Frank J. Sulloway, Concord, New Hampshire

Some of us attended the track meet, and then all hands went to the Snow Shoe Club in Concord, where a lobster dinner was put on by Sulloway’s handy man, with the following guests: Malcolm K. Gordon, Charles C. Monie, Arthur Stanwood Pier, and Richard W. Sulloway. An important part of the enjoyment of the dinner was some mint brought for the occasion by “Pat” Gordon and used with a concoction to be drunk out of a beautiful silver cup which had been presented to Pat by alumni.

On Saturday morning all hands attended the ball game and followed the regular order of business, including parading in the rain!
Following the races, all hands had dinner at the Concord Country Club with Mrs. Staats and Mrs. Sulloway, after cocktails at Sulloway’s home.

The reunion closed after the luncheon at the Upper School on Sunday with all feeling well rewarded for their return for Anniversary.

FRANK J. SULLOWAY, ’00

FIFTIETH REUNION OF 1905

Eight members of the Form of 1905 came back to School for our Fiftieth Reunion. We had expected a maximum of fourteen but at the last moment two were unable to come on account of unexpected developments and three had to give up the trip on account of illness. Three of our seven members had not been back to School in fifty years and we are hoping to get a larger representation at the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the School.

Everyone enjoyed renewing old associations and revisiting the scenes of school days and more than one humorous incident was related. Those present were Anstice, Dominick, Crowell, Holsapple, Murray, Trudeau, Walter and White. We saw the track meet at the Lower Grounds, dined together Friday evening and on Saturday attended the Alumni Lunch. On Saturday evening we again dined together at the Hopkinton Inn where we had the pleasure of having with us Mrs. F. B. Trudeau, Mr. and Mrs. Trudeau, Jr., Mr. M. K. Gordon, and Victor Oñativia of the Form of 1904. Our party was a great success under the guidance of Mr. Gordon and we are hoping to repeat the occasion.

FRANCIS W. MURRAY, JR., ’05
FORTY-FIFTH REUNION OF 1910

Fourteen members of our Form returned for Anniversary, our 45th: the Messrs. Bausher, Cunningham, Gwathmey, Harris, Hays, Henry, Kuhn, Laughlin, Metcalf, Milbank, Snowdon, Welling, White, and Willetts—with Cunningham, Gwathmey, and Laughlin bolstered up most pleasantly indeed by the distaff side. We were hugely indebted to Leighton Bridge, ’11, for persuading Skinny White to fly all the way from Los Angeles, adding the long-distance to his probably undisputed record for length of continuous residence at St. Paul’s School, ’01-’10.

The same headquarters in the Community House as for previous Anniversaries was provided by our genial Form Agent, Andy Henry. It was great fun to see old friends of our Form who had not been back for years, and others, down on the Lower Grounds where the track meet was under way. For tea we were invited to the attractive house to which Francis Cunningham recently retired in Hopkinton. The Glee Club Concert Friday evening was one of the best ever put on by Channing Lefebvre, talented organist, choirmaster and Director of Music.

Next morning the baseball game at the Lower Grounds and the Alumni Meeting in the new Memorial Hall were followed by luncheon and the Alumni Parade—in which we marched close (too close for comfort) to the head of the column. The School Band playing for the first time added a great deal.
It was our first exposure to the holding of the Boat Races on Turkey, the course shortened to $\frac{7}{8}$ mile. The races were just as exciting as ever and it was rather pleasant that Haleyons and Shattucks all watched from the same general area. It was a Shattuck day until the Halcyon fourth crew broke the spell. A dead heat in the third crew race and a victory by the Shattuck second followed and then the first crews were off, and this was a real race. The Haleyons led by the narrowest of margins all the way and finished ahead by inches, or so it looked—a thrilling race and both crews could be proud.

We repaired to the Concord Country Club for dinner. Speeches came in a deluge and it was great fun, as it always is.

In Chapel next morning we sang "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling," with trebles soaring up to Channing Lefebvre's descant, and we thought wistfully of James Knox as we heard the Choir sing superbly his "Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem." The new Rector, Matthew Warren, preached a spirited sermon and his praises were heard on every side.

Luncheon at the New Upper and the profound remarks of Henry Laughlin as President of the Trustees of the School closed one of the most pleasant Anniversaries we have ever had. Next year will be the 100th Anniversary of the School. Let us hope that every member of the Form of 1910 now extant will be back, to make it an even better one.

Wendel S. Kuhn, '10
THE Form of 1915 returned to Millville for their 40th reunion thirteen strong. Serious dissention broke out among the Form-members during the track meet, Isthmians, Delphians, and Old Hundreds displaying varied allegiance. Once again this partisan feeling was in evidence at Turkey Pond, some Form-mates favoring the Halyons, others the Shattucks. All such disturbing conflicts were, however, forgotten at our Form banquet Saturday evening, when recollections of old Form-mates and reminiscences of school-day activities prevailed. We were grateful for the appropriate atmosphere provided at the Chapel Service, which was as usual stirring to a degree. To all at St. Paul’s we owe a debt of gratitude for the hospitality so generously provided.

ROBERT E. STRAWBRIDGE, JR., '15

THIRTY-FIFTH REUNION OF 1920

The thirty-fifth reunion of the Sixth Form of 1920 was attended by Beach, Chisholm, Francke, Haines, Johnson, Luquer, McCagg, Norris, and Simonds. Of these Morehouse Johnson and Eve Luquer confessed that they had never before attended an S.P.S. reunion. By the time our reunion was over, both vowed they would never miss another.

We were lodged in the comfortable cabins of the Horseshoe Tavern in a leafy grove on the Hopkinton Road. The first of the social events we attended was a delightful gathering at Mr. and Mrs. Toland’s beautiful house, Ashbrook Farm, on Friday afternoon. Saturday and Sunday were largely occupied with the more formal ceremonies and sporting events traditionally associated with the School Anniversary, but we found time for much informal conversation and conviviality at our sylvan headquarters. It was there that we held our spiritful class dinner at which we had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Toland as well as Mrs. Beach, Mrs. Chisholm, Mrs. Francke, Mrs. Luquer, and Mrs. Simonds.

The most sincere thanks of all of us who attended the reunion are owing to Albert and Eleanor Francke who made all the arrangements which resulted in a gathering of old friends we will always look back upon with great pleasure.

T. F. Davies Haines, '20

THIRTIETH REUNION OF 1925

Present at the thirtieth reunion of the Form of 1925 were Robert O. Bishop, Robert B. Bowler, Walter T. de Haven, H. E. Manville, Jr., and William P. Wadsworth with their wives, and also A. Felix du Pont, Jr., Eben Knowlton, Nelson W. MacKie, and Thomas D. Mumford.

Most of us arrived on Friday and met at the Track Meet on the Lower Grounds. We were cordially entertained that evening by our old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Toland. It was a great pleasure to see them and their lovely place again.
The Glee Club show was excellent. It is always pleasing to note the great contribution Mr. Lefebvre has made to the life of the School.

Saturday we all lunched in the new Memorial Hall following an interesting meeting of the Alumni Association, and then under the guidance of our reunion chairman, Felix du Pont, took part in the traditional parade, which was much livened up this year by a real S.P.S. band.

On Saturday evening, after the boat races and flag pole ceremonies, we all dined together (arrangements by du Pont) at the Eagle Hotel and afterwards repaired to a refurbished lounge, where we had a chance to reminisce a bit, and also to listen to our form-mate, the Rev. Nelson MacKie — who unfortunately had to leave us too soon to get back to his parish in Rhode Island, where he had an awesome schedule laid out for himself the following morning. The latter part of the evening was marked by a big warehouse fire nearby, to which, we understand, du Pont, like an old fire horse, and others, charged off.

After the Sunday chapel service, impressive as usual, with the ever-moving “Pray for the Peace” and an excellent sermon by the Rector, most of us headed for home, glad again to have had the privilege of seeing our beloved school but also slightly sad not to have seen more form-mates. Let us hope that more of us will come back in 1960.

ROBERT O. BISHOP, '25
TWENTIETH REUNION OF 1935

“I am certainly looking forward to seeing all you bald-headed classmates.”

With these words Alan Pope announced that we had reservations at the Highway Hotel. Nineteen of us, nine with wives — Mesdames Roberts, Irving, Howard, Holsapple, Rowan, Williams, Ferris, Mullally, and Pope — made our way back to S.P.S. to disprove his statement, and I must say the years have treated us well. Although few were anxious for violent exercise, such as taking out a shell, excellent health seems to prevail.

Alan is much to be congratulated, as the Highway Hotel was most comfortable and our dinner Saturday night, after numerous cocktails, was delicious. The ice-making machine in the hall proved a continuing source of amazement. Bob Myrick acted as toastmaster and was delightful as always.

We found the school grounds as lovely as ever, peered at the new Middle and exclaimed at the size of the rooms, revisited the alcoves in the Lower, and enjoyed the races at Turkey — where the Halcyon first crew won in what seemed generally regarded as an upset. The race was a thriller. Chapel on Sunday was beautiful and impressive; it probably took us back more completely to our school-days than anything else we experienced over the week-end.

It was grand for all to see each other (one I had not seen for 20 years) and we were only sorry that those who had to change plans at the last moment, and also those others scattered all over the world, were unable to be present. Now, on to the 25th and balder heads.

DEREK RICHARDSON, ’35

FIFTEENTH REUNION OF 1940

The atmosphere was cold and damp, but the spirit was warm and sunny. Many had not seen each other since the last reunion five years ago, and some not since leaving S. P. S. on June 18, 1940.

The accompanying photograph indicates that most of us who came were able to arrive in time for the Alumni Luncheon Saturday in the Memorial Hall—a wonderful addition to the physical plant, having a seating capacity of 750. In addition to those shown in the picture, Dave Read was of course present and Ted Stokes pulled in somewhat later.

The Form of 1940 staked out an area for itself at Big Turkey. The loss of Long Pond is beneficial in at least one respect: reunion Forms see more of each other, not being separated and on opposite shores. Of course, things might have been a bit more tense, had there been some Haleyons to offset the three blazer-wearing Shattucks present. There were many excellent and several very close races evidencing that the move to Big Turkey has not impaired the quality of the crews.

Following the athletic awards at the flagpole, we moved out to Warner, N. H. Here our master Form-mate had located a wonderful “mountain retreat”, where we were able to thaw out, enjoy an excellent repast, and continue our “bull sessions.” The highlight of the evening was an informal talk by Dave Read bringing us up to date with present thinking and activities at the School. These have advanced considerably more than is apparent on the surface, and a very encouraging and challenging future was presented.

After the Chapel Service and Luncheon on Sunday we were all heading towards our respective homes. I think I can speak for the entire group when I say it was a good reunion, but we would have liked to see more of the Form on hand. We all hope to be present for the next one, together with those who for one reason or another were unable to make it this time.

Before closing, mention should be made of the wives, Mrs. Dent, Mrs.
Glidden, Mrs. Peabody, Mrs. Sheldon, and Mrs. Townsend, and of Miss Dorothea Scott, all of whom we enjoyed having with us. Their presence helped to make the reunion a success.

JAMES F. BODINE, 40

TENTH REUNION OF 1945

A LTHOUGH lacking an extensive survey on the matter, the Form of 1945 boldly claims the record for a 10th Reunion with 38 members attending.
Long-distance travelers included Dick Bigelow from Denver, Don Welles from Wisconsin and Pete Stroh from Detroit. The early arrivals gathered Friday night at Mt. Lookout House in Contoocook, which thoughtfully provided a piano, two drums and assorted instruments for the musically inclined who proceeded to demonstrate their tireless talents well into the night.

On Saturday the '45ers posed for a somewhat informal Class picture before marching in the Alumni parade resplendent with mustaches, billy clubs, badges and Keystone Cop hats, helping to shield many a distinguished receding hairline from the rain, which failed notably to dampen our enthusiasm. The New Hampshire Highway Hotel was later the scene of cocktails and dinner, featuring some appropriate lyrics provided by our guest, Dr. Lefebvre, and varied reminiscences from the group.

After Sunday Chapel and an interesting lunch at the New Upper we parted company, feeling that the Reunion had more than lived up to expectations and looking forward to the next one.

ANNUAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEETING, JUNE 4, 1955

The Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association was called to order by the President, William G. Foulke, '30, at the School, in the Memorial Hall, on Saturday, June 4th, at 12:25 p.m. About four hundred were present, including the wives of many of the returning Alumni.

The Right Reverend Charles F. Hall, Bishop of New Hampshire, opened the meeting with a prayer.

The President welcomed all guests in behalf of the Association, and Coolidge M. Chapin, '35, Secretary and Clerk, called the roll in the customary manner by asking the five-year reunion Forms to stand up. The oldest Alumnus present was Mr. Hugh Eustis Potts of the Form of 1885. The Form of 1930 was present in full force.

The Rector welcomed the Alumni in a cordial speech.

The President then asked all present to stand in memory of the ninety-five Alumni and four former masters whose deaths had been recorded since the meeting of May 29, 1954.

In the absence of Percy Chubb, 2d, '27, Treasurer of the Association, Rowland Stebbins, Jr., '27, presented the Treasurer's Report, as follows:

Report of the Treasurer

Income from contributions for the eight months ending May 31st totalled $73,000, an increase of $21,000 over the comparable period last year. Over the same period, expenditures stood at $16,000, which equalled last year's level. The present uncommitted cash balance of the Association is $57,000. In accordance with custom, recommendations for a further contribution to the School will be presented at the Autumn meeting of the Standing Committee.
Since the commencement of the fiscal year on October 1, 1954, a total of $47,000 has been transmitted to the School. This figure represents substantially the excess of contributions over expenditures during the prior fiscal year. In addition, $5,200, representing proceeds from the hockey game, and $288, representing the offering received at the New York church service, have been forwarded for the benefit of the School camp.

The reserve fund of the Association now stands at a total of $43,500, of which almost $35,000 is represented by savings bank deposits; the balance being held in U. S. Government Bonds.

Percy Chubb, 2nd, '27, Treasurer

May 31, 1955

Marshall J. Dodge, Jr., '29, Chairman of the Alumni Fund, then reported on the state of the Fund:

Interim Report of the 1955 Alumni Fund Committee

As of Friday, June 3, 1955 (with two months remaining before closing the books) the 35th Annual Alumni Fund had logged $77,000 from 2,100 contributors — $21,000 more from 180 more contributors than this time last year — actually $8,000 or 10% more money than the full 1954 Fund and $23,000 or 40% more than the full 1953 Fund.

The 2,100 contributors to date are roughly 50% of the 4,400 active alumni. We have still to hear from 640 more to equal our 64% contributing last year. That 64% for S.P.S. for 1954 placed St. Paul’s School on the American Alumni Council’s Honor Roll, ranking fourth behind Princeton, Dartmouth and Mount Holyoke in percentage of alumni giving out of hundreds of colleges; and well ahead of any other secondary school. We hope to lead that ranking this year.

Another figure we watch, however, is the average gift per contributor. Although our current average is $36 ($12 ahead of 1954) we are still behind many other schools and colleges. To show what can be done, however, the following Forms averaged gifts of over $75: 1900, 1902, 1930, 1931, 1933.

We honestly think the amounts raised by the S.P.S. Alumni Fund has not yet hit its stride, although we hope for a $90,000 Fund this year.

The Forms, ’80-’86, 1890, and 1892 have received contributions from every one of their members. 1954 (last year’s Sixth Form) has heard from 75% of its membership, every S.P.S. Freshman at Yale, Harvard, and Princeton having contributed, an unparalleled performance under the leadership of Jay Cushman.

The 50th Reunion Form of 1905 has to date contributed $1,600, with an average of $53, from 30 out of 41 members. The 25th Reunion Form of 1930 has hit $10,275 with an average of $184 from 55 out of 78 members. Randall Williams, Lawrence Bogert and their committee have thus broken last year’s record for the 25th Reunion gift.

Frank Rogers of 1931 succeeds me in September as the 1956
Alumni Fund Chairman. I want to take this opportunity to thank my Committee, the Form Agents, in fact all the Alumni for their support of the Fund in the past two years, and to wish Godspeed to the S.P.S. Fund in the future where it will increase in budgetary importance.

The quality of a school is to be sensed in the loyalties it calls forth. The 1955 total annual giving by its alumni to S.P.S. will be the largest on record and the size of the annual alumni gift to the School will thus be substantially increased. We also like to feel that the Alumni Fund, though but 20% of 1954's total gifts to the School, was still a partner in the realization of the other 80%. Yet neither of these factors is as important to the S.P.S. community as the ever-increasing number of those who pause, however briefly, during the course of the year to make a gesture of generosity toward this place to which we owe so much.

MARSHALL J. DODGE, JR., '29, Chairman

The report of the Committee on Honorary Members was presented by Mr. Chapin. Mr. William Parker Abbe, Mr. Alexander Hay Lehmann, Jr., and Mr. Calvin Howell Phillips, who have completed five years as masters, were duly elected Honorary Members of the Association.

The President called on Frederick Rogers Drayton, '13, for a report on the progress of the One Hundredth Anniversary.

Report of the One Hundredth Anniversary Committee

The 100th Anniversary Committee has had the trustees’ approval of its plans to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding. The program will be divided into two parts:

In the fall of 1956, under the leadership of the Rector, there will be an academic symposium to be attended by prominent educators, at which there will be a discussion of the importance of the role of a church school, 100 years old, in the educational life of the country.

Of more general interest will be Anniversary in 1956, which falls on June 1, 2 and 3. The committee plans to have this a family party following along established lines but with the added importance of events which will highlight 100 years of school history. There will be the usual track meet on Friday, June 1, and in the evening, the Glee Club will give a performance in the auditorium of a musical sketch based on school history, on which Mr. Lefebvre is now working. On Saturday, June 2, there will be the customary alumni meetings, and boat races in the afternoon. Because of the anticipated large attendance, it is expected that a tent will be erected on the field near the Lower School in which supper will be served on Saturday evening for those alumni that do not have form reunions. At the Sunday morning chapel service, the Presiding Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, will preach. Because the Chapel will probably not be able to accommodate all that are present, arrangements will be made for the overflow either on the Chapel lawn, if the weather is fair, or in a building, if rain threatens, with the service broadcast to either location. At the anniversary luncheon, Mr. August Hecksher, a trustee, will be the principal speaker. It is planned to have representatives of the New Hampshire and Concord governments at the head table, and other persons who have been important to the school. Plans are under way for several historical exhibits which the committee feels will be of great interest.

One of the main problems confronting the committee will be the proper housing of the large number who are expected to attend. All alumni will receive a notice early in January, 1956, and it is earnestly hoped that a prompt reply will be made so that the committee will be able to arrange rooming facilities.

Frederick R. Drayton, '13, Chairman

The President reported briefly on the many activities of the Alumni Association during the past year.

The New York Hockey Game under the Chairmanship of Malcolm E. McAlpin, '28, in which St. Paul's beat the Princeton Freshmen 5 to 3, had produced net proceeds of $5,225.86, the largest amount on record. This sum has been turned over to the School for the School Camp.

Mr. Foulke also mentioned the Church Service in New York, the meetings of the Standing Committee and the Form Agents, and the Regional Meetings attended by representatives of the School.

He spoke of the wonderful support which the Alumni have given in all these activities and of the outstanding record of the Alumni Fund under the Chairmanship of Marshall J. Dodge, Jr., '29, and added that he was proud to be a member of the Form of 1930, which had already broken the record set last year by the Form of 1929 for the 25th Reunion gift.

He announced that the Chairman of the Alumni Fund next year would be Francis D. Rogers, '31.

Mr. Foulke called attention to the importance of the Centennial Year. He announced that there would be a Centennial Fund, to be administered separately from the Alumni Fund, which will continue as usual, and that Marshall J. Dodge, Jr., '29, had accepted the Chairmanship of the Centennial Fund. He said that details of the Centennial Fund would be announced in the near future and that this project would be of the greatest importance to the future of St. Paul's School.

In the absence of Grayson M-P. Murphy, '26, Chairman of the Committee on Nominations, Townsend Munson, '29, submitted the committee's report. Officers of the Association and members of the Standing Committee for the coming year were thereupon elected. (See the last two pages of this issue of the Alumni Horae.)

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned, and a buffet luncheon followed.
At their Anniversary Meeting, the President of the Association announced to the Alumni the establishment of a Centennial Fund; again at the Sunday Luncheon the Chairman of the Trustees made the same announcement to the families and friends of the School.

The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association had recommended to the Trustees; and the Trustees had concurred that:

The Centennial Fund be for the purpose of enabling the Trustees to strengthen and develop the educational program of the School in all its ramifications—religious, intellectual and physical.

The Alumni Association should be responsible for organizing the Fund through appropriate executive officers—the President appointed Marshall Dodge, '29, to serve as Chairman of the Centennial Fund.

The endeavor should be a combined venture with a joint committee, advisory to the Chairman and representative of the School Administration, Trustees, and the Alumni Association—the Rector appointed the Vice Rector, Francis V. Lloyd, Jr., the Trustees named William H. Moore, and the President of Alumni Association requested that Rowland Stebbins, Vice President, serve on the Advisory Committee of the Centennial Fund. Shortly thereafter, this advisory committee elected to expand its membership from three to four, to add representation of non-Alumni parents; Mr. Albert H. Gordon was chosen, and accepted this position.

All monies raised by the Fund should be paid directly to the School, and the School should provide funds to meet necessary expenses of the Fund.

This capital fund must not conflict with but rather should supplement the annual Alumni Fund so valuable to the School’s economy.

The effort to raise a centennial fund for the School by its One Hundredth Anniversary (June 1956) should be considered and planned as but the first step of a long range program to continue after 1956 and be directed toward the satisfaction of the School’s present and future development needs.

It is hoped that the Centennial Fund may represent a long first step in accomplishing those ideals which will make St. Paul’s truly a great school over the next century of its life.

William G. Foulke, '30, President of the Alumni Association

PITTSBURGH ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEETING

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, G. C. Burgwin, 3d; Vice-President, John Gibson, 3d; Secretary-Treasurer, Blair Schiller.
G. S. Oliver, 3d, was awarded the golf trophy as the winner of the annual golf tournament held during the afternoon, being low net. T. J. Hilliard, Jr., won the low gross.

After dinner we heard Rev. Matthew Warren, Rector of the School, give a very interesting and enlightening talk on the Admission Policies and Problems. It was of more than casual interest to all of us because of the highly competitive conditions which exist with regard to applications at St. Paul's today.

ALUMNI ORGANIZATION OF THE FORM OF 1955

The following Alumni Officers for the Form of 1955 were appointed at Anniversary by William G. Foulke, '30, President of the Alumni Association, and Marshall J. Dodge, Jr., '29, Chairman of the 1955 Alumni Fund, on the recommendation of a committee of masters at the School which included Mr. Warren and also after consultation with Rowland Stebbins, 3d, President of the Form of 1955.

Three years ago, an editorial in the Summer Alumni Horae spoke of the “new era” which had then just opened for St. Paul’s rowing, and praised the resolute efforts of those who, undismayed by the decision of the Town of Concord to close Long Pond, had successfully effected the transition to Big Turkey.

The move was difficult, as all who had any part in it well remember. The decision to close Long Pond having been finally reached just before the opening of the 1952 rowing season, adequate shelter for the boats was lacking. Risks had to be taken and some sad accidents occurred. Moreover, coaches and crews felt hampered by the relatively restricted area of Big Turkey, which is not only much shorter but also less wide than Long Pond. It seemed an almost hopelessly small place for the training of sixteen or more eight-oared crews. Lesser men than those who had charge of the business arrangements, of the maintenance of the boats, of the coaching, might well have despaired, might have drastically curtailed the number of boys participating, or even given up the sport altogether.

On another page of the present issue of the Alumni Horae, the reader has seen some record of the improvements which have taken place since 1952: provision of adequate shelter and space for the boats (so that now even the old wherries and pairs are housed and back in use), a new launch, new shells. He will have read in Percy Preston’s article that the coaches have learned to make the most of the available space on Big Turkey for their many crews. Above all, he will have seen the record of the fourth Big Turkey season: Shattucks and Haleyons first and second in the first eights’ race at the Interscholastic Regatta on Lake Quinsigamond, first and third in the race for second eights; sixteen eight-oared crews competing on Anniversary; the Big Turkey first crew record doubly broken in a superb race in which the Haleyons, losers at Worcester, started at 48, and won by half a length.

This was a memorable rowing season, reflecting great credit on all who participated in it, and on St. Paul’s School. We will go further and say that we consider the recovery of our rowing from the blow dealt it by the closing of Long Pond to be characteristic of St. Paul’s School. There was generous, indispensable backing from trustees, alumni, and friends. And there were men to back, men who years in advance had carefully and thoroughly considered the alternatives that would be left after the closing of Long Pond, chose Big Turkey, and made the best of it through that first season of 1952. Even now no one who knows thinks that Big Turkey compares to Long Pond. But our table showing the outcome of the races at Worcester in recent years is evidence of what has been done with it.

For their realistic facing of the facts, for their courage and their indefatigable work, the School owes a debt of gratitude to Bob Potter, who as Business Manager intelligently saw the problem as a whole with minute attention to its smallest details, to Ned Herrin, who kept the boats afloat under circumstances in which it seemed as if even he must fail, and to Percy Preston, head coach, who, with his associates in this enterprise, has succeeded in developing fine crews, and in teaching not only rowing, but a great deal more besides.

To show how now Form Agents do,
And what the World is coming to,
We print below by C. B. Wood
Some verse that H. McKean found good.

1955 APPEAL

(To the Form of 1943)

Formmate, pause in your daily grind,
Bow your head and exalt your mind,
With a sob so manly that none can hear it,
Let's think a moment of Old School Spirit:
Think of the Delphians, think of the Shattucks,
Think of those rooms in the Upper's attics,
Think of demerits and yellow slips,
Think of the Ferguson scholarships,
Think of the hockey squad, think of the Grub Squad,
Think of the Cooler's bake - and - a rub squad,
Think of how the Lower smelled in the rain,
Think of our Form Agent, H. McKean,
Think of those years in pursuit of truth;
Let your heart expand with the glow of youth
And resolve that St. Paul's shall be indestructible;
Contributions are tax-deductible.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Harvard College Library, 417
Cambridge 38, Massachusetts
2 May 1955

DEAR MR. EDMONDS:

I opened my ALUMNI HORAE today, read with pleasure about the voluntary course on Plato’s Republic, and followed with interest, and almost complete agreement, Mr. McDonald’s address on The Education of the Gifted Student. Then I came upon your very kind editorial about my retirement from Harvard.

As, presumably, one of the “gifted students” with whom the school is concerned, I am eternally grateful to St. Paul’s School for the quality of instruction I received there, especially in the classics. To have read Homer with Mr. Coit (better known as “The Bull”) and Cicero with Mr. Drumm (whose name was given the prefix “Tweedle”), was a rare experience; and the best sort of preparation for an historian, especially for an historian of the United States. I can still remember some of the jingles with which Mr. Drumm helped us to master Latin grammar, such as:

“Malo — I would rather be Malo — in an apple tree
Malo — than a wicked ‘he’
Malo — in adversity.”

And there was a voluntary study class on one of Shakespeare’s plays, conducted by Mr. “Chappie” Scudder, which was probably the pioneer in the advanced courses that are so distinguished a feature of the school curriculum today.

Nor can I close this letter without thanks for two other boons received at S. P. S., one from Nature and the other from the Church — the wonderful skating which gave such zest to a boy’s life in winter; and the chapel services, which confirmed and strengthened me in the religion in which I was brought up, and which I still profess.

Sincerely yours,

SAMUEL ELIOT MORISON, ’03
DEAR MR. EDMONDS:

The proceeds of the offering received at the time of the Rev. David O. Cowles' ordination, on October 17, 1954, were sent to the Rev. Rowland J. Cox (S.P.S. '46), who is now Priest-in-Charge of St. Thomas' Mission, Point Hope, Alaska. Rowlie used the money to defray the expense of a dog team he was building up, and which he needed badly in his work.

On January 22nd one of his dogs produced seven pups, and in recognition of this gift Rowlie named the three males: Halcyon, Delphian, and Isthmian. (I guess he didn't dare give the females the names Shattuck and Old Hundred!)

He has now sent a picture of these three poodles. From left to right they are Halcyon, Delphian, and Isthmian. The picture of the dog team he doesn't identify, but it can be safely assumed that it is Cox himself.

The Rector thought you might like to print this in the Alumni Horae.

Sincerely yours,

RAYMOND,

Raymond P. Spence, Sec. to the Rector

283 Pleasant Street
Concord, N. H.
July 9, 1955

DEAR MR. EDMONDS:

On page 199 of the 1948 Alumni Directory is listed a Professor Torriceelli, '58-'59. Mr. Schade and I were speaking of it one day and we were both curious as to what this man did at the School and why, apparently, not even his initials were known.

Today, while looking up information in the "Rural Record" on the Old Chapel bell, I came across two references to Mr. Torriceelli. An entry dated Dec. 1, 1858 said that "Prof. J. B. Torriceelli (sic), teacher of French and Italian in Dartmouth College, comes twice a week to give lessons." The second reference to him, dated sometime in 1859, was to his giving a lecture in Concord on Italy in the war, or the war in Italy, I am not sure which way it was.

On returning home, I looked him up in the Dartmouth College General Catalogue and found that he was the first instructor in modern languages at Dartmouth, and taught there from 1852-59, receiving an honorary A.M. in 1857. The entry is as follows: "Torriceelli, John Baptist, A.M. Ju. D.,
b. June 1817, Genoa, Italy. Instr. mod.
1885 Boston, Mass."

Probably this information would not be of much interest to more than a few, but I am sending it along so that his full name, correctly spelled, may appear in the next issue of the Alumni Directory.

As far as the Old Chapel bell is concerned, nobody knows what the inscription is on it, or at least I can find no record of it. With the kind assistance of the Concord Fire Department with their aerial ladder, I expect to get up to the bell, probably on Monday, July 11, and shall take down any inscription and shall take a picture, if the light is good. If there is anything of interest there I shall send it along...

Sincerely,

JOHN REXFORD, '40

On Friday, June 17,
twenty-one schools
gathered at the Coast Guard Academy in New London for the twentieth annual interscholastic sailing regatta. The schools were first divided into three divisions for a preliminary series of three races. The racing was keen and hotly contested from the very start. It was in the third division, however, that the tension and excitement were the greatest, for after two of the three preliminary races there were five schools within one quarter point of each other. The final qualifiers in this division were Lenox and Noble and Greenough with Roxbury Latin, last year's winner, missing out by one point. Qualifying schools in the other divisions were: Exeter, Milton, Berkshire, and St. Paul's.
These six schools then sailed a final series of three races, and again the racing was highly competitive. Herbie Parsons, skippering for St. Paul's, sailed consistently well throughout the regatta, and he showed exceptional skill in taking advantage of wind shifts. In these last three races he earned a first, a third, and a second to obtain his victory by a four-point margin over Malcolm MacNaught of Milton. Exeter, finishing third, was a constant threat, and it was unfortunate that a disqualification spoiled their chances of capturing the title. The boats used for this regatta were 21 ft. Raven Class centerboard sloops, and the courses were all triangular, averaging about five miles. At the conclusion of the racing Lieutenant Commander Wagner of the Coast Guard made the presentation of the Mallory Trophy to Herbert Parsons, Jr., of St. Paul's. Boat model plaques were also presented to the individual members of the St. Paul's crew, and as "runners-up" the Milton sailors were given yachting kits in a leather case.

Final point standings were as follows: St. Paul's, 18 1/4; Milton, 14 1/4; Exeter, 13 1/4; Berkshire, 11; Lenox, 11; Noble and Greenough, 11.

DECEASED

'82—FRANCIS FISHER KANE was born in Philadelphia, June 17, 1866. He went to the Episcopal Academy, spent the years 1880-1883 at St. Paul's, graduated from Princeton in 1886, and was admitted to the bar in 1889 on graduation from the University of Pennsylvania Law School. From 1896 to 1900 he was Assistant United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and United States Attorney for that district from 1913 to 1920. After the first World War, he was American representative of the Friends' Relief Mission in Vienna. In the years that followed his return to this country in 1926, he took a very active part in efforts to improve his state's criminal laws and penal institutions. He became President of the Prison Society of Pennsylvania, and while engaged in the work of this office made the discovery that as many as five thousand persons passed through the Quarter Sessions Court yearly without counsel because too poor to be able to pay counsel fees. This was "a nightmarish thought," so Mr. Kane himself described it, "a thought that would permit no man who had been a prosecuting attorney to rest peacefully of nights." He conceived the idea of a society to supply free counsel to indigent persons accused of crime. He led in the work of carrying out this idea, and in 1936, when the Philadelphia Voluntary Defender Association had been founded, the Bok Foundation conferred upon him its Philadelphia Award. In 1952 Temple University awarded him the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters. He died at the age of eighty-eight, May 27, 1955, in Peace Dale, Rhode Island, at the house of his niece, Mrs. Thomas P. Hazard.

'91—CHARLES ADAMS HOLDER died April 2, 1955, in Boston, Massachusetts. Graduated from St. Paul's in 1890, from Columbia in 1892, and from Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, in 1897, he at first practiced medicine in Philadelphia and later in Colorado Springs; then entered the United States foreign service, and was consul in Rouen and in Oslo. In 1915, when he was vice consul in London, he was recalled to Washington and appointed Foreign Trade Advisor to the State Department. He remained in this position four years, and after the first World War he went into banking. He was president and chairman of the Park Union Foreign Banking Corporation, president of the Asia Banking Corporation, and, until his retirement in 1927, vice president in charge of the foreign department of the Guaranty Trust Company. He is survived by his children: Dr. Richard Holder, Charles A. Holder, Jr., and Mrs. Albert Graebner.

'93—RALPH RANLET died August 15, 1954.

'95—BASIL SEPTIMUS COURTEN EY died May 27, 1955, at Briarcliff Manor, New York. He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, a son of the Lord Bishop Frederick Courtenev of Canada, who later became Rector of St. James' Church in New York. A Major in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, he was Chief Canadian Embarkation Officer for England from 1917 to 1919.
After the war he acquired the Canadian rights to the motion picture “Birth of a Nation”, and exhibited it all over Canada. Later he went to New York and joined Lage & Co., stockbrokers. He was the last survivor of four brothers to come to the School, the others being Walter Allan Courteney, ’90, Charles Henry Courteney, ’90, and Frederick Harold Courteney, ’93.

’90—Warren Walker died April 26, 1955, in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania. Born in Milford, Connecticut, November 29, 1878, the son of John S. and Sophia M. Pond Walker, he graduated from St. Paul’s in 1896, and from the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania in 1900. In 1912 he founded the skin clinic at the Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia, and he was its chief until his retirement in 1948. He founded a similar clinic at the Bryn Mawr Hospital in 1921; there he was consulting dermatologist until his death. In the first World War, he was Officer in Charge of Venereal and Skin Diseases in the Office of the Surgeon General, Washington, D. C. He held the rank of Colonel in the Reserve. Dr. Walker is survived by his wife, Helen Corbit Perot Walker; by his sons, E. Perot Walker, Warren Walker, Jr., and Nicholas M. Walker; by his daughter, Mrs. John W. Ryan; by his brother, Dr. John K. Walker, ’90; and by three grandchildren.

’00—Seymour Creighton Baker died January 24, 1955, in St. Petersburg, Florida. He came to St. Paul’s from Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, in 1894, and left the School in 1899, on the death of his father, to enter the coal business with his brother, the late G. Prescott Baker, ’94. In 1923, he founded the Yarmouth Cold Storage Company, and he remained President of that concern until 1952. He took a great deal of interest in the Yarmouth Public Library— which had been founded by his father—and also in the Boy Scouts and the Y.M.C.A. Since 1952, though retired from active business, he had devoted much time to the starting of the Yarmouth-Bar Harbor Ferry, which is going into service this summer, and also to plans for setting up government grading stations and packaging plants for the benefit of farmers in the Yarmouth area. He is survived by his four children: Mrs. W. W. Bean of Kingston, Ontario; V. F. Baker of Los Angeles, California; G. Courlandt Baker, ’40, of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia; and Creighton C. Baker of Halifax.

’00—Thomas Latham Davis died January 27, 1955, in Omaha, Nebraska. His forebears were early Nebraska settlers; and he was named for his maternal grandfather, the Territory of Nebraska’s first Episcopal Bishop. After three years at St. Paul’s, he went to Yale, graduated in 1904, and then entered the employ of the First National Bank of Omaha. In 1934, he succeeded his father, the late F. H. Davis, as President of the bank, and he became Chairman of its Board in 1948. He had been a member of the Board of Directors of the Omaha Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, and president of several corporations. His civic activities were numerous. Mr. Davis is survived by his son, John F. Davis, who is now President of the First National Bank of Omaha, and by his daughter, Mrs. John Lauritzen. His wife, Bess Brady Davis, died in 1953.

’00—Walter Lee Gwynne died April 7, 1955, at Delray Beach, Florida. He was for many years a member of the New York Stock Exchange, and he was also one of the original members of the New York Curb Market Association, now the American Stock Exchange. In the first World War, he was a Voluntary Aide in the Banking Depart of Naval Intelligence in New York. His affection for St. Paul's School was warm and life-long. Returning for Anniversary in 1950, he had enlivened his Form's 50th Reunion dinner with some humorous verses about old masters at the School. These were printed in the Alumni Horae of that summer, and in that same issue, in the account he himself wrote of the 50th Reunion of 1900, we find these more serious verses by him:

O Time, with flight so uncontrolled,
Retard thy speed as years unfold:
So we may reap the blessings rare,
Bestowed upon us with such care.
In gone-by days of carefree youth,
With scant perception of the truth,
We feigned to harvest all the seeds,
That God hath planted for our needs.
May latent wisdom grant us means
To grasp enjoyment while it teems;
And then, when days have done,
May we
Have shown some reciprocity.

Walter Lee Gwynne is survived by his wife, Anita Ingersoll Gwynne; by his daughters, Mrs. Ricardo A. Mestres and Mrs. E. Kimbark MacColl (wife of E. K. MacColl, '43); by his sister, Mrs. Reginald F. Pearson; by his brother, Arthur Gwynne; and by four grandchildren.

'06—John Grimes Butler died February 26, 1955, in Pomfret, Connecticut. Born in Boston, April 1, 1888, he graduated from St. Paul's in 1906 and from Harvard in 1910. In August 1917 — having been since his graduation from Harvard an assistant auditor for the Delaware and Hudson Railroad — he entered the 2nd Plattsburg Training Camp; commissioned 2nd Lieutenant that November, he was assigned to the 304th Infantry, 76th Division, and went to France in July 1918. He later was promoted to 1st Lieutenant, Cavalry, and transferred to the 6th Army Corps Headquarters; after the Armistice, he was on the Peace Commission in Paris. Not long after his discharge in 1919, he purchased a farm in Pomfret Center, Connecticut, where he raised a herd of thoroughbred Jersey cattle. He was a director of the Cargill Trust Company in Putnam, Connecticut, and a selectman of the town of Pomfret. He served two terms in the Connecticut State Legislature and one in the State Senate. He is survived by his wife, Grace Brooks Butler; and by his three children, Grace Butler, John G. Butler, Jr., and F. Brooks Butler.

'10—Henry Stanley Atwood died February 11, 1955.

'13—William Blackstock Rodgers died in December 1954.

'16—Arthur Lemuel Tuttle, Jr., died of a heart attack, December 4, 1954, in Danville, Kentucky. He was born October 10, 1897, in Parral, Chihuahua, Mexico, the son of Arthur Lemuel Tuttle, of the Form of 1888 at St. Paul’s, and a grandson of the late Right Reverend Daniel Sylvester Tuttle. Arthur L. Tuttle, Jr., was a graduate of Cornell University, where he majored in agriculture, and was a champion wrestler and a member of the crew. After his graduation, he farmed in Kentucky and was also a tobacco grower and inspector for the Federal Government. He is survived by his wife, Nola Howard Tuttle, who lives at Port Jefferson Station, N. Y.; by his father; by his daughter, Mary Nola Tuttle; and by his son, Daniel Tuttle.

'18—Charles Ross Smith died January 17, 1955. He was a member of the English Department at the University of Pennsylvania from 1935 to 1945, and at the time of his death he was owner of the British-American Book Store in Philadelphia. In 1924, he married Mary Howard Stewart, who died in 1940. He is survived by his sons, C. Ross Smith, Jr., '44, and Corlies M. Smith; and by his mother, Mrs. F. Corlies Morgan.

'24—Ziba Bennett Phelps, 2d, was born in Binghamton, New York, the son of Z. Bennett Phelps, '91, and Elizabeth Drown Phelps, of Churehstown, Pennsylvania. On graduating from Yale in 1928, he became a consulting engineer. He was one of the designers of the original Pennsylvania Turnpike. In April 1941, he entered the Corps of Engineers as a Captain. He had duty in Africa, in Italy, in India, and in Burma; he was wounded in Burma in 1944; and he was a Lieutenant Colonel when released in December 1945. Since the war, he had been in ill health; he was returning by automobile from a trip to the West for medical treatment when he died of a heart attack, April 11, 1955, in his room at a motel in Beloit, Kansas. He is survived by his parents; by his children, Z. Bennett Phelps, 3d, '48, and Mrs. Hamilton Allen; and by his sisters, Mrs. Sidney Farnsworth, Mrs. W. H. LaBouisse, and Mrs. H. G. Cosby.

'28—Theodore Irving Reese died of a heart attack, April 15, 1955, in Dedham, Massachusetts. At St. Paul's, he won his S.P.S. in football and in rowing, and he and George Hutchinson were the first Supervisors in Ford House, which opened in the autumn of their Sixth Form year. Since graduating from Yale in 1932, he had taught at Noble and Greenough School. He was head of the English Department, and he coached rowing, soccer, and dramatics. After his death, the headmaster of Noble's, Mr. Eliot Putnam, wrote of him as follows:

"Because T.I.R. was so much a part of all of us, it seems impossible, even after two months, to realize that he is not still here; we are just beginning to appreciate how much Noble's has lost.

"It is wonderful to hear graduates say, as many have, 'He was the best teacher I ever had', but that only tells a small part of the story. It doesn't mention his infectious spirit and good humor, which could clothe an old seventeenth-century name with personality or make diagraming a sentence into a brand-new, exciting game. It doesn't mention his tremendous passion for learning nor his huge love for life and all things living. It only hints at the truth that all who came in contact with him fell under the magic of that selfless love. And, above all, it fails to tell that one quality of his which we now see we were all so dependent upon, his helpfulness and consideration. From the very carefully detailed comments he would write on a composition to his quiet and effective work in so many community projects, the smallest details of his life were based on the ideal of true Christian charity, the wondrous, helping love which is given to a very rare few of God's gentlemen. The answer to somebody else's math problem, the word for some complicated term of poesy, the willingness to 'waste time' on someone else's projects, the taking of someone else's study hall — these and a thousand other seemingly inconsequential material and spiritual things were characteristic of his natural, insistent willingness to give everything he had to someone else. Like average humans, we accepted these gifts without thinking of their cost, without realizing how lost we would be without them.

"We are planning two memorials for him: a new shell to be named the Theodore I. Reese, and the turning of Room 10 into a round-table conference room for seminar-type classes, to be called the Reese Room. Those of us who were fortunate enough to know him shall need no reminders, however; at every corner we shall always see a smiling gentleman, helping someone."
Reese was the son of the late Right Reverend Theodore Irving Reese, '90, Bishop of Ohio, and Mrs. Reese. He is survived by his wife, Mary Golden Bonneman Reese, and by his son, T. I. Reese, Jr., who is in the Class of '58 at Yale.

'29—Tilden Ward Southack died April 9, 1955, in Sharon, Connecticut. He was the son of Bogart Greenwood Southack and Josephine Ward Southack. On graduating in 1933 from the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale, he had joined the Acrotorque Company, a small concern situated first in New Haven and then in Stamford, Connecticut, and engaged in mechanical inventions, mostly for airplanes; it invented a windshield wiper used on government planes during the war. The Acrotorque Company eventually merged with Curtiss-Wright, and Southack worked for some years with the latter company as a mechanical engineer. In 1945, his health began to fail. He and his wife—Jean Warren, whom he had married in 1933—then retired to their farm in Sharon, Connecticut, which they had bought in 1939, intending to use it as a pleasure place only. There he lived the year round and bred Aberdeen-Angus cattle, with great success and enjoyment. His long illness necessitated many operations, but he bore it with patience and fortitude, and never became in any sense of the word an invalid. Besides his wife, three children survive him: his son, Tilden Ward Southack, Jr., and his daughters, Sally Ann and Barbara Southack. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. George Stevens, Mrs. Josephine Bedrick, and Mrs. William Townsend.

'30—Richard Russell Thomas died suddenly of a heart attack, December 20, 1954, at his house in Rumson, New Jersey. He spent the years 1924-1926 at St. Paul's, then went to the Berkshire School in Sheffield, Massachusetts, and after his graduation, became a member of the New York Stock Exchange. A member of Squadron A in New York, he received a commission during the second World War and taught at various army schools throughout the country, until discharged early in 1945 because of illness. Ill health—he never fully recovered—necessitated his retirement from business several years ago. He is survived by his wife, Janice Smith Thomas; by his son, Richard Russell Thomas, Jr.; and by his brother, Williamson Thomas, '31.

'41—The ALUMNI HORAE is indebted to Ralph S. Richards, '41, for the obituary of his Form-mate, John C. Hays, Jr., which follows.

On May 21, 1954, the School, and particularly the Form of 1941, lost a loyal friend when John Crossan Hays, Jr., was fatally injured in an automobile accident in New Jersey. He was born October 3, 1923, and attended Shady Side Academy, where he was president of his class.

Jack entered St. Paul's in 1937. Popularity was never slow in coming to him, and his leadership was evidenced by his election as treasurer of the Form of 1941. He was also a supervisor his Sixth Form year, and, incidentally, is shown making a dormitory inspection in the school movie. A keen competitor, he played on the Isthmian football team in 1939-1940, the Isthmian baseball team in 1941, the SPS basketball team in 1940-1941, and won his SPS on the 1940 football team.

After graduating from St. Paul's, Jack entered Yale University in September of 1941. After the attack on Pearl Harbor in December, 1941, Jack wanted to enter the service immediately but finally decided to complete his freshman year. In July 1942, he enlisted as a private in the United States Army Air Corps. Jack enjoyed being an enlisted man and took great delight in deflating the egos of his commissioned friends who took their rank too seriously. While in the Army Air Corps, he served in Australia, New Guinea, Leyte and finally the Philippines.

After being honorably discharged from the Army, he attended Babson for two years, and graduated from its School of Business Administration in 1947. Leaving Babson, Jack went to work for the Iron City Tool Works in Pittsburgh.

On October 18, 1948, he married Miss Inez Blake at Freehold, New Jersey. At the time of his tragic death, Jack was carrying on an insurance business in Newark, New Jersey. Jack's liking for people, his loyalty to friends, and his leadership, contributed to his enjoyment of his work and to his success in it.

He is survived by his wife; by his son, John C. Hays, 3d; by his two sisters, Mrs. Burt Todd and Mrs. Samuel Off; and by his parents, Mr. John Crossan Hays, '10, and Mrs. Hays.

Jack's friendship, his keen sense of humor, and his leadership will be missed by all who were fortunate enough to know him.

'48—STUART CARR died suddenly of a heart attack, March 2, 1955, in New York, N. Y. He was in his senior year at Fordham University, and was also Assistant Advertising Manager of Jubilee, a new magazine of the Roman Catholic Church. In the editorial of its April number, Jubilee spoke of Carr as a young man "of great promise" who had played an active role in the magazine since long before it began publication and who had been, to a large extent, responsible for the increase of its advertising over the past year. At the time of his death he was at work on an article for Jubilee about Saint Gregory the Great. He is survived by his father, Stanley Carr of Chevy Chase, Maryland, and by his mother, Mrs. Natalie Marvin of New York.

ITHAMAR MANSUR BEARD, who was a master at the School from 1898 to 1901 and from 1910 to 1912, died March 27, 1955, in Dover, New Hampshire. Born in Lowell, Massachusetts, the son of the Reverend Ithamar W. Beard, Rector of St. Thomas' Church in Lowell, and Mary Foster Beard, he was educated at the Holderness School, at Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts, and at Harvard, where he graduated in 1895. He taught at the Kingswood School in Hartford, Connecticut, at St. Paul's, and at the Choir School of Grace Church in New York, and became the first headmaster of the Choir School of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. He left New York to found the Longmeadow School in Springfield, Massachusetts, where he remained until his retirement. Since 1950, he had lived in Dover, New Hampshire, with his sisters, Miss Eliza W. Beard and Mrs. Louis Collin, who survive him.

CHARLES SAMUEL BAYLES EVANS came to St. Paul's in 1947 to teach Greek and Latin. His forte lay on the cultural rather than on the athletic side of school life—though he did do some coaching of lower teams in football. He was well read and he was a scholar. Dramatics interested him keenly—whether house plays or masters' plays—and he coached and acted with equal skill and enthusiasm. He also enjoyed being a dormitory master, for he understood and liked the boys of his house. He died in Athens, June 16, 1955, after several months' leave of absence, during which he had travelled in England and in Greece. By the death of Charles Evans the School has lost an able teacher and a thoughtful, loyal friend.
